Democratic precinct captains have been given a job that probably none of them in the northwest area will relish — petition signatures asking congressional support to the Kennedy legislation for medical care.

They realize that the quota assigned to them cannot be met without the aid of their Republican friends. There are also a lot of Democrats who are "agin" it.

Will the purchase of 1,700 acres in southwestern Palatine Township curb the plans of Hoffman Estates, Village of Schaumburg and South Barrington for area extension in that area?

The purchase will remove the 1,700 acres from the tax rolls of the township as well as prevent its use for residential and industrial purposes. It will also provide a buffer zone for the village of Inverness.

Readers who turn to "Way Back When" in this issue will find that the first white child to be born in Palatine Township was introduced forty years ago at a Palatine flagpole dedication.

Local historical societies have in their files historical matter based on facts given that day by the woman who was born in 1838—124 years ago, in the Inverness area.

There was no Palatine or Barrington in those days. Fire was a thing to be treasured as much as gold. We do not even have the gold today, but fire is the cheapest possession at our disposal.

The village of Hoffman Estates is in the same position this year as many other villages who have been called upon to seek freedom from the high rates of sewer and water companies. They were originally needed to provide such service to new residential developments.

Today Hoffman has outgrown its "swaddling clothes." The residents there are faced with a 25 per cent increase in rates and are seeking municipal ownership.

The company says "over our dead body."

The Village of Mount Prospect is in dead earnest on an annexation program that may be the envy of the neighboring municipalities which also have the desire for additional area.

Rumor has it that Mount Prospect has aspirations that will include the holdings of underground gas acreage and perhaps extend to the United Air Line properties.

We received a copy of an April issue of U. S. News and World Report from a reader, headed "The Kennedy Image—How It's Built." He asked if we were one of those editors across the nation who had been invited by the President to have lunch with him.

Introduction to the article is: "This nation, under President Kennedy, is seeing something new in White House politics. News reporters who write things that irritate the President are likely to wind up on his carpet. Publishers are sometimes converted to the Kennedy viewpoint after an invitation to the White House."

We have not been included on the visiting list of President Kennedy. Our editorial opinions are not written in expectation of being 'omitted' or 'included' among the favored ones.

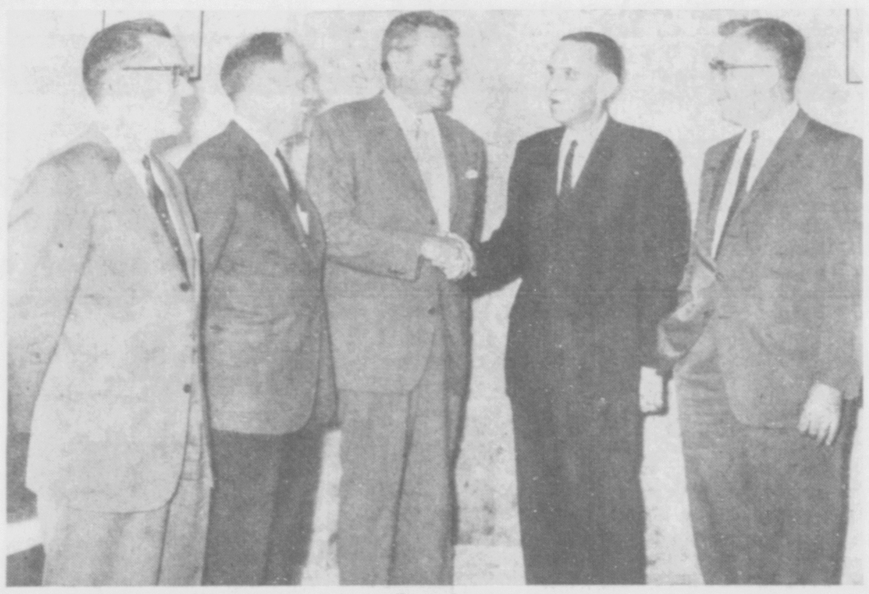
Metropolitan papers are listing job offerings for trained personnel at near-fabulous salaries. They are seeking college graduates but a perusal of the offerings by the high school graduate should aid him in setting a goal for his future.

He may have coasted through high school, but college gives him the opportunity to qualify to fill some of those executive positions which are being advertised. Is he ready for the advance training?

RESEARCH - OFFICE BLDG. ANNOUNCED



HANDSHAKES AND SMILES this week concluded negotiations which will bring a new office and research facility to Arlington Heights. Working with village officials and representatives of Arlington Heights Progress, Inc., officers of A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., acquired a 25-acre tract in southwest Arlington Heights where the firm will locate its administrative and sales offices, and research and development laboratories. Concluding arrangements Monday in the village manager's office were (from left) John G. Woods, village president; L. A. Hanson, village manager; Arthur D. Hyde, president of Harvestore; Melvin Kurtz, president of Progress, Inc.; and Morris J. Vollmer, vice president and treasurer of A. O. Smith Corporation.

Firm Chooses Suburb Site

Ground will be broken in an estimated two weeks for a new research and home office facility in Arlington Heights for the A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., manufacturer of glass-fused-to-steel grain storage silos and related products.

Announcement of Harvestore's decision to locate its central offices in Arlington Heights was made this week by:

Morris J. Vollmer, vice president and treasurer of the parent company, A. O. Smith Corporation.

Arthur D. Hyde, president of Harvestore.

Melvin Kurtz, president of Arlington Heights Progress, Inc.

John G. Woods, village president.

THE NEW facility will be located on a portion of a 25-acre tract located in the triangle formed by Golf, Algonquin and State roads in southwest Arlington Heights, an area zoned specifically for plants of the type projected.

The plant will consist of a one-story building with slightly more than 20,000 square feet of floor space, and employ about 75 people. It will house Harvestore's administrative and sales offices, and research and development laboratories. Target date for occupancy is October 1.

"In our search for a suitable location we were tremendously impressed with Arlington Heights," Vollmer said. "And for our part, I think you will find us a good corporate citizen."

THE HARVESTORE Company began operations as a division of A. O. Smith Corporation on Aug. 1, 1948, and was incorporated as a wholly owned subsidiary in May 1, 1961. It employs about 125 persons at its plant in Kankakee, which will continue as the firm's manufacturing facility.

The corporation has 45 franchised distributors across the United States and sells internationally through A. O. Smith International S. A., having installations in Great Britain, Europe, Australia and South America.

Although the firm's principal product still is the Harvestore storage unit, it recently has broadened its field of activity, and products and services now include:

The Ranger line of automated swine production systems and other livestock handling and feeding equipment; the Granustore, an oxygen-free silo for storing high-moisture grain; the Harvestore cage layer system, providing controlled environmental housing for chickens, and involving automated intermittent feeding, droppings disposal and egg gathering; industrial application of Harvestore; and complete feedlot design services.

THE HARVESTORE is one outgrowth of developments by the parent company in its work on glass-fused-to-steel. The idea was first put to use in the construction of one-piece, glass-lined storage vessels which eliminated the ill effects of gasketed joints on flavor and purity of stored liquids.

Executive offices of the parent company are in Milwaukee, where the original plant is located. Products manufactured by A. O. Smith Corporation include passenger automobile frames and structural parts, welded line pipe and oil well casing, glass-lined tanks of many kinds, Permaglas gas and electric domestic water heaters and Burkay gas-fired commercial water heaters, welding electrodes, electric motors, meter and service station equipment, and Red Thread glass fiber pipe and tubing.

According to the company's 1961 annual report, it had net sales of $221,952,033 in 1961, with a deficit in net earnings of $869,831.

L. B. Smith, president of the 88-year-old company, attributed the deficit in part to the recession and in part to a 10-week strike at the Kankakee plant.

UNFORTUNATELY, Smith said, the strike occurred at the time of the recovery for the general economy, when the company might have expected some improvement over the previous months.

He also said the future of the company appears excellent.

Know-How

Meet Key Men In New Plant

IN TOWN this week for a preview of their new home were the top men of A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., which will build an office and research facility in Arlington Heights this summer. They are Arthur D. Hyde (right), president of Harvestore, and Orville Bergren, operations manager. The two will move with their families to the village this summer.

Much of the success of Arlington Heights' newest industrial facility will depend on the judgment and business know-how of two men: Arthur D. Hyde, president of A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., and his right-hand man, Orville Bergren, operations vice president.

Hyde is a 59-year-old veteran of corporate management who accepted presidency of Harvestore after more than 30 years with General Mills in Minneapolis, where he rose to the position of executive vice president of the company.

HYDE JOINED General Mills in 1928 soon after he was graduated from Columbia University with an engineering degree. A year ago, when Harvestore was incorporated, he assumed its presidency and moved to Kankakee. He has been a director of the parent company since 1956.

He and his wife, Jean, have three children — Sidney, 18, a student at Mount Holyoke College; Frederick, 11; and Donald, 15.

The Hydes are affiliated with the Episcopal church, and Hyde is a member of the Kankakee Country Club. He was raised in Joliet, Ill., where his parents were members of pioneer Joliet families.

While Hyde was serving General Mills in executive capacities, Bergren was rising to the rank of colonel in the United States Marine Corps, from which he retired with 20 years service in 1960.

AT THAT time, he became assistant to F. Shepard Cornell, executive vice president of the A. O. Smith Corporation in Milwaukee. When Harvestore was incorporated, he became its operations vice president.

Bergren is 43 years old, a native of Minneapolis. He holds an undergraduate degree from the University of North Dakota, and a law degree from George Washington University.

He and his wife, Caroline, have three children: Stephen: 18, who will graduate from high school this June; Scott, 15; and Susan, 3. In Milwaukee, Bergren is a member of the Tripoli Country Club.

Both Hyde and Bergren will move with their families to Arlington Heights this summer.

'Government Competition'

Medical Care Plan Labeled 'Socialism'

The Kennedy Administration's King-Anderson Bill for providing medical care for aged through Social Security benefits was attacked Sunday at a meeting of the Northwest Suburban Americans for Constitutional Action.

The proposed legislation was labeled as a "political football which could throw the blocks to the private insurance industry and open the line for Socialism."

Speakers at the meeting, held in Plum Grove Estates, charged that federal and state government officials side-stepped fair and accurate presentation of the bill and refused to give support to the existing Kerr-Mills Bill, a matching funds program for the needy aged passed in 1961.

GUEST SPEAKERS were John Neals, attorney and executive secretary of the Cook County Medical Society, and Dr. Justin Fleischmann, Palatine physician and a member of Americans for Constitutional Action.

A 20-minute film by Dr. Edward R. Annis, spokesman for the American Medical Association, elaborated on differences of the King-Anderson and Kerr-Mills Bills.

Neal, acting as a spokesman for the medical profession, said the King-Anderson Bill amounts to government competition with voluntary health insurance firms. He added that before 1935 there was little or no voluntary health insurance program, and since then "this country has surpassed the progress of any other country at any time."

THE KING-Anderson Bill, he said, "is the beginning of the end for the greatest system of voluntary health insurance that the world has ever known."

Essentially, the King-Anderson Bill would provide medical care, subject to some limitations, of 90 days of hospitalization, 180 days of nursing home care, 240 home visits by nurses, homemakers, therapists and similar personnel (but not physcians) and outpatient hospital diagnostic services.

Coverage would be for those who have reached 65 and are eligible for social security, regardless of need and would not affect personal savings. The existing Kerr-Mills law provides for medical care, as established by the states, with provisions for physician's services and prescribed drugs as well as for hospital stays. It is offered to aged who can show need for assistance, regardless of the individual's status under the social security program.

THIRTY-EIGHT states have adopted the Kerr-Mills Bill, which provides for the federal government to supply half the costs. Welfare department officials estimate the King-Anderson Bill would cost about $1.2 billion, twice the cost of the Kerr-Mills proposal. Medical authorities, however, say the Kennedy-backed bill will cost twice what is predicted.

The "basic flaw in the King-

Results Good

Chamber Drive Goes Overtime

Highly favorable response to the membership drive of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has resulted in extension of the drive until June 9 to give Chamber representatives time to reach every potential candidate for membership.

Will Schwantz, membership committee chairman, said the drive is bearing fruit, and the extra week will give other potential members time to join up before expiration of the drive.

Schwantz said he is more than satisfied with the way the drive is going, and is certain it will be a success. "We've got a job to do, and we'll get it done," Schwantz said.

DON HESS, executive secretary of the Chamber, reported an incomplete listing of the new members which so far have joined and paid dues includes:

A & B Shoes; Ed M. Levine, realtor; Morton Pontiac; Mark Motors; Arlington Bootery & Men's Wear; Norval Stephens, village trustee; John G. Woods village president; Fred Weber, attorney.

Hansel's Food Shop; Public Finance Co.; Laurin, Schultheis & Givens, accountants; Harold E. Nebel, insurance; Arlington Heights News Agency; and Joseph F. Koenen, consulting engineer.

THE CHAMBER membership committee has sent out a series of letters to some 300 prospective members, and Chamber representatives are now completing the follow-up personal contact phase of the drive.

The mailings went to industrial, retail and professional firms, as well as to individuals and civic organizations.

To Answer Taxpayers' Questions

Wheeling Township taxpayers with questions or complaints about their property assessments will have an opportunity to discuss their problems with representatives from the county assessor's office Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the township hall, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Those three days the assessor's mobile unit will be parked at the hall, and a spokesman said the officials in charge will have on hand taxpayers' record cards, aerial photos and official maps.

HE ADVISED taxpayers to bring with them one of their tax bills, not necessarily the most recent, to aide the officials in identifying the taxpayer's property.

The mobile unit will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each of the three days. It also was at the township hall last Tuesday.

Suburban ACA Attacks Medicare Legislation

Anderson Bill," according to Neal, "is that everybody will be taxed to provide benefits for everyone regardless of need."

He said the Administration has staked its reputation on passage of the King-Anderson Bill. Neal, along with Dr. Fleischmann and Paul Woessner, ACA member and chairman of the program, urged those believing that the King-Anderson bill is a step in eroding the Constitution to write their Congressmen and Senators.

A SPECIAL plea was made to direct mail to Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., author of the existing legislation and who, as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is opposed to the King-Anderson proposal.

Dr. Fleischmann charged that the Illinois state administration has avoided publicising the existing Kerr - Mills Bill, alleging that Gov. Kerner is cooperating with the Kennedy Administration in an effort to pass the King-Anderson measure.

Dr. Fleishmann suggested that the King-Anderson Bill would lead to deterioration of the medical profession and a decline in the high quality medical facilities of this country, said also that technical loopholes in the proposed bill would enable the federal government to exercise control both of doctors and hospitals either directly or indirectly.

HE SAID that the Supreme Court has consistently held that the federal government can regulate anything it subsidizes.

State Sen. John Graham, R-3rd, asked to comment on the state administration's lack of publicity on the existing Kerr-Mills Bill, said "I have a feeling that lack of encouragement reveals a well rounded plan with the national government to bring about socialization."

Donald Rumsfeld, GOP candidate to fill the vacancy created in the 13th Congressional by the retirement of Marguerite Stitt Church, announced to the some 50 persons at the meeting that he is against the proposal.

He said the aged should have provisions for care but added that the question is whether "we want this or whether we want to work with the existing bill that fits in with the American way of life and is exercised at the state level.

Fifty Enumerators

Workers Are Needed For Special Census

Fifty persons are needed in Arlington Heights to be enumerators for the special census to be conducted in the village in June by the U. S. Bureau of the Census, at the request of the village.

Mrs. Dorothy Pakys, deputy village clerk, said enumerators —who will briefly interview residents and record names and data—must be at least 18 years of age, United States citizens, present a good appearance, write legibly, and be able and willing to work full-time until the census is completed.

MRS. PAKYS said also that the enumerators must be physically capable of doing a great amount of walking and climbing stairs.

Rate of pay will be six cents for each properly recorded name, and Mrs. Mary C. House of the census bureau said an enumerator should be able to record an average of 200 names per day.

Applications may be picked up at the village clerk's office in the temporary village hall, 815 N. Highland, and Mrs. Pakys can answer any other questions. Deadline for applying is 9 a.m., June 5.

The special census will cost the village an estimated $4,565 and take about two and one-half weeks to complete.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson said this cost should be more than repaid by the increased revenue the village will receive as a result of the census.

THE VILLAGE receives motor fuel tax funds on the basis of population, currently at the rate of about $5 per person per year. An increase of 1,000 in the population would therefore result in a $5,000 increase in the amount of motor fuel tax funds given the village, an increase of 2,000 people would mean $10,000 more, and a 3,000 increase would mean $15,000 more per year.

Hanson said that on the basis of new municipal water customers added since the 1960 official census, he thinks the official population will increase some 3,000 through the special census.

THE PRESENT official population of Arlington Heights is 27,848, and the unofficial estimate is between 31,000 and 32,000.

The special census will show age, sex, race and relation to head of household of each village resident.

Still Room For 1 Team

There still is room for one team in the 12-inch fast pitch softball league, it was announced this week by Bill Appleby, superintendent of recreation for the Arlington Heights Park District.

The league plays on Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m., and the game will be officiated by a professional umpire. Entry fee is $40 per team.

Appleby said the league is anxious to get started, so interested teams should make immediate arrangements to participate.

Presbyterians Plan Building Fund Fete

The kick-off dinner for the building fund campaign of the Southminster United Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights will be this Friday, June 1, at 6:15 p.m.

L. C. Peterson, campaign chairman, announced the dinner this week. It will be held at Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church on S. State Road.

Mrs. C. S. Hansen is in charge of arrangements for the dinner, and will be assisted by members of the Women's Association and of the Southminster Youth Fellowship.

PETERSON said the good of the campaign, the first in the church's history, is $130,000, which will cover half the cost of construction of a sanctuary. The other half of the cost will be acquired through loans and mortgages. Ground is expected to be broken for the project before the end of the year.

The Southminster church, meeting temporarily at Dryden School, has been in existence here since last October. The Rev. Dr. William T. Jones is pastor.

Bids had been asked on two separate routes, one from down Meier Road to the school area and a second one from Algonquin up to the school area.

Traffic Accidents Few Before Holiday

Injuries from traffic accidents on the northwest suburban area slowed down to a crawl before the national holiday traffic stepped up.

Injured May 23 at 11:50 a. m. on Illinois 58 an eighth of a mile east of Illinois 83 were three persons in a two-car collision.

Phyllis C. Kowalczyk, 24, of 1108 Birch, Mount Prospect, was making a left turn to enter the driveway of the shopping center.

Her car struck one driven by Roland E. Urelius, 59, of 5154 N. Clark, Chicago.

AMONG THOSE injured were two passengers in the first car, Laura Kowalczyk, 2, and Kim, 4, and Urelius. All three were taken to Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge.

The first driver was charged by state police with making an improper turn. Damage to the first car was $400; to the second, $200.

In a second accident, at 10:45 a. m. on May 26, on Illinois 83 at Euclid, four cars were involved.

The vehicle of Alyce C. MacAllister, 46, of 5 Lynn Brook Dr., Prospect Heights, according to state police, was going too fast for conditions and struck a car driven by Peter V. Giannini, 32, of 425 Eastman, Arlington Heights.

A THIRD CAR, driven by William J. Dvorak Jr., 31, of 303 Willow Rd., Prospect Heights, reportedly following too closely, struck the MacAllister car.

A fourth car, driven by Edward P. Mahoney, 44, of 222 W. Wayne, Wheeling, also reportedly following too closely, struck the Dvorak car.

Injured were the first two drivers, who were taken to Holy Family Hospital. Damage to the Giannini car was $300; to the MacAllister vehicle, $800; to the Dvorak car, $600 and to the Mahoney car, $800.

Dvorak and Mahoney were charged with following too closely and MacAllister with traveling too fast for conditions.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

I practice hard every single day, because some day I hope to be an accomplished pianist. And it is all possible because Mommy read an ad which said "Want Ads Are For Everybody." I wanted a piano for a long, long time, but there were so many other things the family needed I was told I would just have to await my turn. Then Mommy started reading Paddock Publications Want Ads and it wasn't long until she found a fine used piano at a price we could afford. That's how I got my wish, and that's why I say that when Want Ads can do so much for a little girl like me, they surely are for everybody!

Here's Explanation of TV Industry's 'Seal'

Outline Guides to Good Broadcasting

by LEE SECHLER

The "Seal Of Good Practice," flashed on your TV screen, is not a "time killer" between advertisements. It's part of a program started in 1952 to assure you of good viewing.

A special committee of the National Association of Broadcasters drafted the first code for television in the fall of 1951.

The code went into effect the following spring — the first year of full coast-to-coast television.

What is the good practice seal? What is its purpose? What does it mean to you and your family?

The good practice seal is your assurance that the station using it is practicing and following to limit of their ability the 14 guidlines set down by the NAB to determine what is and what is not acceptable for broadcast.

IN THE WORDS of the code's preamble:

In the voluntary and cooperative adherence to these regulations, broadcasters seek to maintain a level of television programming which gives full consideration to the educational, informational, cultural, ecomic, moral and entertainment needs of the American public.

Eighty-nine of the 108 stations broadcasting subscribed to the code during its first year. Today, with 532 commercial stations, the code membership numbers 389 and all three networks.

CHET CAMPBELL, director of advertising, promotion and merchandising for NBC in Chicago, said there is no policing power invested to the code authority — the watchdogs of the code — other than taking away a station's seal of good practice.

"And that could be embarassing," he said.

The code authority is headed by a director who is a former broadcast executive of more than 20 years experience in network and station broadcasting.

Reduced to its simplest terms: broadcast executives correspond to a board of directors; the code authority the operating mechanism.

THE AUTHORITY works in four ways: 1. It consults with stations and networks on questions involving interpretations of code regulations; 2. Advises those concerned with creating material for television by discussing questions of acceptability of material and treatment with film producers, advertisers and advertising agencies; 3. Maintains liaison with responsibile organizations and the public at large to encourage comment from viewers; and 4. Monitors code subscribers' broadcast performance to guard against violations.

ABOVE THE code authority is the code review board; a court of appeals of television broadcast practices. This board has the final say in matters where an area of conflict is experienced.

Code regulations require avoidance of profanity, elimination of scenes implying the prevalence of drunkenness and avoidance of scenes set in places associated with sexual sin.

Under a strict interpretation of the provisions, Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh" could never have been shown.

HOWEVER, the final decision — reflecting the conflict — said, "The code board believes that the play as presented will find widely differing audience responses. Some viewers will find the play to be a rich and exciting performance; others may regard it, because of its language and theme, sordid and offensive ... The code review board believes that this particular presentation is acceptable for telecast, but only under special circumstances."

Late evening showings were recommended for the play.

Advertising is another area that the code covers. Subscriber stations work closely with the code authority to keep the best and do away with substandard methods.

RECOGNIZING the need for flexibility, the code seeks to sanction the aesthetic and supress the meretricious, to support the honest — while weeding out the sensational.

The code does not always succeed.

But then, it's almost impossible to please everyone. But the code does provide a standard for the true and the reasonable in television.

The seal of good practice you see is your assurance the television industry, freely and voluntarily, pledged itself to help achieve the purpose of the code; television in the greater public interest. (B-8

Mental Health Group Sets Election Date

A slate of new officers of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association was presented at the group's annual meeting May 17, and will be acted on in an election set for a board of directors meeting June 21.

Recommended by a nominating committee were: Jack Julian, Mount Prospect, president; Mrs. Leonard Kijak, Mount Prospect, vice-president; Mrs. Louis Taitel, Elk Grove Village, secretary, and James Bowen, Hoffman Estates, treasurer.

FIVE NEW directors were installed at the May 17 meeeting. They are: Mrs. Taitel and Mrs. Walter Meyer, Elk Grove Village; James Bowen and Ethan Janove, Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. John Delana, Rolling Meadows.

In other business, the board voted to retain Sally Jo Headston as a psychiatric social worker for the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic. Miss Headston, who is at present a social worker for the Arlington Heights School District, will work on a part-time basis until the close of the school year. During the summer she will work full-time with the clinic until she assumes her new position in the fall with the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kansas.

The board and those attending the annual association meeting received reports from the chairmen of all standing committees regarding the work they have been doing this past year for the association, and also heard reports concerning the operation of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic, which opened the last week of March.

IN THESE TWO months, over thirty patients have been referred to, or have initiated treatment at, the clinic. These patients have come from all seven communities which comprise the association area, with the largest number of referrals coming from school districts.

The mental health association is a local organization, chartered to serve Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman-Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling-Buffalo Grove, and surrounding areas. The association offers educational aid toward better understanding of mental health problems and operates the mental health clinic. It is financed by local contributions and matching state funds. Asks Power to Probe Into Private Schools

(UPI)—George T. Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction, Monday proposed legislation to give his office and county officials the power to investigate private schools in Illinois.

"We have no idea of what is being taught in most private elementary schools," Wilkins said. "The only way the state can find out is if the school volunteers the information."

He said the state should have such investigative powers to determine if private schools are overcrowded and "to evaluate their curriculum and to see if they are maintaining a minimum standard of education.

HE SAID most of the state's 147 private high schools allow inspections by his office on a voluntary basis in order to be accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Wilkins also said with the power he requests the state could investigate the controversial University of Islam, a school on Chicago's south side run by the semi-secret black Muslim sect.

The "university," with an enrollment of more than 300 elementary and high school pupils, was dropped from the county accredited list some two years ago because it refused to allow inspection of its curriculum.

THE SCHOOL admittedly teaches racial segregation and has been accused of fostering racial hatred.

"I think the Muslim school is a matter for the state's attorney's office if it is true that they are teaching concepts that violate our constitution and laws," Wilkins said. (B-8

THESE SHINY trophies will be presented to the winning entries in the "Music on the March" drum and bugle corps competition scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at the Prospect High School athletic field this Sunday, June 3. Six corps will be competing in the contest, sponsored by Arlington Post 981, VFW, for the benefit of the "Guardsman" junior drum and bugle corps. Trophies will be given for first, second and third places, and for the best color guard with a corps. The center trophy is the Post 981 traveling trophy, to be retained by the winner for a year. (B8

'Music on March' Set For Prospect Sunday

Six junior drum and bugle corps will take to Prospect High School athletic field this Sunday, June 3, at 1:30 p.m. for "Music on the March," the opening event in this year's contest season.

The competition is being sponsored by Arlington Post 981, VFW, as a benefit show for "The Guardsmen" junior drum and bugle corps, a northwest suburb group.

The sponsors, besides providing an afternoon of entertainment, hope the show will introduce area residents to the corps, activity and acquaint spectators with the group's goals.

Besides "The Guardsmen," these five corps will compete Sunday:

The Cougars, Morton Grove —This is a young corps which is gaining increasing skill and prominence. A colorful corps, the members wear black trousers, white satin blouses and red sashes.

Norwood Park Imperials, Chicago — The Imperials are one of the oldest corps in the nation and were Illinois state champion for four years straight, 1947-50, as well as in 1955 and 1956. It has never finished out of the top ten in any national contest in which it competed, and in 1961, finished third in the American Legion national in Denver, Colo.

Phantom Regiment, Rockford The Regiment was formed in 1957 as a parade corps and within one year became a competing corps. It has defeated many of the Midwestern state champions. In addition to the corps proper, The Phantomettes its color guard, is considered the best drum corps color guard in the nation.

ROYAL AIRS, Chicago—One of the most traveled corps in the nation, the Royal Airs has just returned from Boston, Mass., where it placed third in a contest with the cream of the crop in the East, and was only nine-tenths of a point behind the winner. This season, "The Big Blue" should be one of the corps battling for top honors in the country.

The Vanguard, Skokie — The Vanguard is a corps familiar in this area, having taken part in several Fourth of July parades in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

It had its beginning as a Swedish band and later became known throughout the Midwest and other parts of the country under the colors of Logan Square. Under the Vanguard banner, the corps has continued its tradition of success.

MRS. PATRICIA A. Lindberg of Mount Prospect, spokesman for "The Guardsmen," urged people unacquainted with the work of drum and bugle corps to attend the Sunday competition and get a preview of what is in store for this season.

"When the smoke of the hard-fought battle has cleared from the field and the winner announced," she said, "everyone will realize what the up-coming season will hold, and I am sure each person in attendance will truly become a drum corps fan and strive to make 'The Guardsmen', a corps that is indeed representative of our communities." The Northwest Area Council of the Chicago Motor Club passed a resolution reaffirming the council's oppostion to diversion of gas tax funds for any purposes other than highways and related projects. The group took the action at its recent spring meeting.

The resolution was offered by Royal S. Browne, of the Palatine Safety Council. The council long has opposed such diversion of motorists' funds, but the resolution was prompted by concern that the state administration currently is planning such a diversion to bolster state revenues.

Two projects arising from the construction of new portions of Mannheim Road near O'Hare Airport were successfully completed by the council. One dealt with a concrete projection and deep hole in Mannheim Road just south of Higgins Road which was considered dangerous.

THIS WAS reported eliminated as was a deep rut at the edge of the pavement on Mannheim Road about one-half mile south of Higgins.

Council Chairman Willis Jones, assistant vice president, Citizens Bank and Trust Co., Park Ridge, reported that another council project, left turn arrows for the busy intersection of Cicero and Peterson Avenues, was being realized in part. The city now plans to install left turn arrows for northbound motorists on Cicero turning west into Peterson.

The council also heard a report prepared by the safety and traffic engineering department of the motor club which pointed up the need for a North-South expressway. The report said in part: "Motorists on Chicago's west side traveling in a north-south bound direction suffer daily from delays created by overcrowded conditions on major arterial streets."

THE REPORT stated that studies taken on Cicero Avenue and Pulaski Road during rush hour periods showed that the average travel time over those arteries during peak hours was 19 mph and 16 mph, respectively.

Attending the luncheon meeting were Joseph J. Baum, Forest Glen Community Association; W. E. Bernardi, chairman, Reciprocators Club; L. W. Calderwood, chief of police, Arlington Heights; John W. Carroll, state representative, Park Ridge; Charles Christensen, chief of police, Park Ridge; Edward Clifford, chief of police, Elk Grove Village.

And, E. N. Fletcher, traffic engineer, Elk Grove Village; J. William Hohlen, Nor'Wes'Ton Congress; Marvin O. Horcher, chief of police, Wheeling; Raymond H. Jahnke, traffic lieutenant, Arlington Heights; A. B. Paoli, sergeant, Illinois State Police; James Ruggio, sergeant, Rolling Meadows Police Department; Hal Schweig, Chicago Motor Club; and Fred C. Stettler, Forest Glen Community Association. (B8

'Y' Reaches $18,000 In Drive's First Week

At the end of the first week of Northwest Suburban YMCA's wind-up building drive for $120,000, a total of $18,283 is reported as pledged thus far, according to co-chairmen William and Marion Busse of Mount Prospect.

The drive is planned in order to pay off the final $120,000 of the $1,100,000 building which serves the northwest suburbs. The campaign ends June 14.

AT THIS point in the drive, Des Plaines is highest among the four divisions, with more than $6,000 pledged. The other divisions are: Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and one including the surrounding suburbs where "Y" members reside. The goal of each division is $30,000.

All YMCA members and friends are being asked to contribute either in cash or a pledge over a 3-year period. In order to complete the goal, an average of $20 per year for three years is needed from contributors. (B9

HEALTHY TELEVISION

by ED LANDWEHR

I see by the newspaper that a University of Colorado opthalmologist (eye doctor) recommends watching television as much as possible. He states that using your eyes is the best way to keep them healthy. Just like your hands, arms and legs — lack of usage may do much harm.

Of course, we hurriedly agree with the good doctor on this watching TV a lot. After all, this is good for a business like LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. But, we'd like to add that nearly worn-out fuzzy picture tubes could give you a case of eye squint. Distortion and picture roll wouldn't help your sight either, and least of all, your patience. I guess we'll have to drop a note to the doc about it.

Meanwhile, keep phoning CL 5-0700, the TV number that gets you prompt and accurate service — the kind that's good for your vision.

Routine Flight Is Changed by Crash

What promised to be a routine maintenance flight of an Army H-21 helicopter from the Nike base in Arlington Heights one day this month, developed into something altogether different because of the tragic crash of a Boeing 707 jet airliner on the Iowa-Missouri border, about 30 miles south of Ottumwa.

The H-21 left the Nike base for Fort Riley, Kansas, on the maintenance flight about noon on May 22.

Near Ottumwa, reports of a bad storm brewing in the vicinity caused pilot CWO Robert L. Williams and co-pilot CWO Gerald D. McCoy to land in Ottumwa until the weather cleared.

EARLY THE next morning, crew chief Sgt. 1/C Huey McPherson and his men were preparing to resume their flight when officers of the Iowa state police informed the helicopter's personnel of the crash of the jet airliner.

"Could the helicopter and its crew assist in rescue operations and transportation of officials to the scene of the crash?" the officers wanted to know.

A call was put in to 1st Lt. Roland K. Davis, 45th Brigade aviation officer, explaining the situation and requesting clearance to assist in the rescue operation. Clearance was immediately granted.

THE HELICOPTER then picked up Najeeb E. Halaby, an administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, and proceeded to the muddy field just south of the Iowa-Missouri border where the huge jet went down.

The remainder of the day was spent in various rescue and clean-up operations. About 4 p.m., the helicopter returned to Ottumwa.

After another night in Ottumwa, the crew of the H-21 again boarded the chopper and continued the "routine" flight to Fort Riley. (A

Doughnut Day Is Headed by

Chief of Police L. W. Calderwood, of 210 Princeton, Arlington Heights, will serve as chairman for Arlington Heights for "Doughnut Day," the Salvation Army's 24th annual tag day.

"Doughnut Day" will be held Friday, June 8, in Arlington Heights, Chicago and some 150 suburban communities in the seven-county area around Chicago.

Calderwood will be assisted by two co-chairmen in organizing and directing the tagging activities here. They are his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Calderwood, and Mrs. Clay Gowran, of 3 E. Grove.

FUNDS RAISED in the drive help support the many social welfare services offered to those in need by the Salvation Army.

In Arlington Heights, as in all communities where Salvation Army service units are organized, 20 per cent of the funds raised June 8 will remain in the community.

These funds will be used to meet local emergencies, and to finance unduplicated programs of welfare service or health care. The Arlington Heights service unit, comprised of representative residents acting in behalf of the Salvation Army, decides how the funds will be used to assist needy individuals or families.

L. W. CALDERWOOD

JOSEPH SCHNELLER, of 701 N. Beverly, is chairman of the Arlington Heights unit.

The other 80 per cent of the "Doughnut Day" contributions will help support the social welfare services maintained by the Salvation Army in the greater Chicago area.

Among the Salvation Army institutions, services and departments sharing in the proceeds of "Doughnut Day" will be:

Booth Memorial Hospital for unmarried mothers; the Family Service Division; Emergency Lodge for women and children; the dental clinic, day nursery, and settlement; Camp Wonderland near Antioch; Harbor Light Center for rehabilitation of homeless men; and the emergency canteen services at fires and other disasters.

VOLUNTEERS who can give just two or three hours of their time to sell the familiar doughnut-shaped tags June 8 are needed.

Individual taggers, teams of friends and club groups can request tagging assignments at "Doughnut Day" headquarters at 8 S. Dearborn St., Chicago (FInancial 6-1080) or by telephoning Mrs. Calderwood, CL 9-2420, or Mrs. Gowran, CL 5-0304. (A

Vacation Seminar Slated by Our Saviour Lutheran Church

DISCUSSING SEMINAR plans are (left to right) Bob Wenzel, Mrs. J. G. Downing, head of the summer session at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Bill Snodgrass and Pat Busch. The three young people plan to attend the five-day seminar in June. (B-8

A unique seminar for northwest area teenagers is being planned by vacation school officials at Our Saviour Lutheran Church, 1234 N. State, Arlington Heights.

Under the general theme, "Young Adult, His Life and His Faith," the five-day program will be open to all area junior and senior high school students.

Prominent speakers, including clergymen, a psychiatrist, and a Boy Scouts of America executive, will appear at the dinner meetings, beginning June 10, at the church.

"THE PROGRAM is designed to help young people face growing up with a Christian attitude," said Mrs. Florence Busch, in charge of publicity.

June 10 — Dr. Gerald K. Johnson, chief of chaplians for Lutheran Social Service, "Christian Vocations and Service Opportunities."

June 11 — Frank Newton, Boy Scouts of America executive, "Responsibility to the Community."

JUNE 12 — Speaker to be announced. Probably a local psychiatrist.

June 15 — Dr. Gerard Neuman, a clinical psychologist, "Living With Others."

June 16 — The Rev. Stephen Bremer, United Lutheran Church of American, a noted Chicago pastor and lecturer, "You, the Discriminating Christian."

Mrs. Busch said suppers preceding each program will begin at 6:30 p.m. Coke socials will follow each program, she said. A dance is scheduled to follow the final program, June 16.

THERE IS no registration fee or other charges. A free will offering will be taken during brief devotional services during each seminar.

Reservations for any or all of the seminars may be made by calling Mrs. Jean Downing, general chairman of the vacation school program, CL 5-2226, or Mrs. David Bartlett, seminar chairman, CL 3-3970.

Realtors' Head Warns Of Spring Racketeers

With the spring home repair and improvement season once more at hand, northwest suburban home owners were warned this week by Arthur C. Kelter, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, to beware of racketeers operating in this field.

"The eagerness of many home owners to repair winter damage to their residences or to take advantage of the favorable spring weather in making additions or improvements is commendable," Kelter explained.

"As Realtors know, home maintenance is an essential factor in conserving property and neighborhood values and standards.

"AND AS long as our home owners contract with our many established, reputable repair and maintenance firms for services and products, results will be good.

"Unfortunately, however, spring always brings a return of fly-by-night operators who annually 'take' the public for millions. It is against this latter group that home owners should be on guard."

Kelter said that in issuing his warning he was following a suggestion made to all Realtors by their national organizations, the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

HE POINTED out that NAREB and its members have consistently sought to protect the interest of property owners in all fields.

According to the Northwest Suburban Realtor president, home improvement rackets flourish in a wide range of services and products—landscape shrubbery, house sidings, patio construction, and "bargain" water proofing jobs on damp basements, to name just a few.

While there is no hard and fast rule that may be used by home owners in distinguishing between the claims made by the racketeers and reputable firms, Kelter cited six simple steps that have been developed by the Federal Trade Commission from its experience in investigating home improvement frauds. These are:

1. BEFORE signing up for any offered service or product, get comparable cost estimates from at least one competing firm. Reputable merchants are quite willing to have this done. "Hit - and - run" organizations will immediately think of scores of reasons why the home owner should sign up with them immediately.

2. Obtain names and addresses of previous customers from the soliciting firm and contact these customers. Note in particular how long they say the work or product has been satisfactory.

3. Make sure that the firm has a place of business. Many fly-by-night groups operate out of very temporary headquarters such as a hotel room.

4. IF THE product or service is said to be guaranteed, find out exactly what is guaranteed, any conditions that are attached to the guarantee, and who will make good on it if necessary and where he can be located.

5. Be doubly suspicious and ask many more questions if the price of the service or product is a great deal lower than the going price in the northwest suburbs for similar services or products. There are, of course, real bargains. But many so represented are no more than bait.

Kelter urged home owners who find that they have been cheated despite taking these precautions to report their experiences to the proper authorities as a public service. (B8

Mosquito Fighters Ready For Summer's Bug Battle

HEADQUARTERS for Northwest Mosquito Abatement District on Hintz Road, Wheeling, would be expanded under provisions of the 1962-1963 fiscal year appropriation. This vacant space on 2½-acre site, however, is zoned for single family dwellings and the county zoning board won't permit construction of a building that would house equipment now stored outdoors.

While residents of 245 square miles in northwest Cook County busied themselves with whatever suburbanites do at twilight, a small group of men in Wheeling moved their meeting onto the lawn to enjoy any breeze that might stir.

When they ended their discussion, one of the men swatted a mosquito that had landed on his forehead. It was a joke provoking incident; for the men, trustees of the Northwest mosquito Abatement District, had just approved a $339,880 appropriation for the 1962-1963 fiscal year.

This represents a hike of 1.6 per cent compared to the $334,350 appropriation the previous year.

MAJOR appropriation in the 23-item tax levy ordinance is $120,000, which will provide wages for three full time and approximately 40 part time employees. These men make up crews that operate 16 spray machines during July and August, spraying approximately 12 square miles nightly between 8 p.m. and 5 a.m.

During the period when spraying is an effective method of combating mosquitos, between 4,000 and 5,000 pounds of DDT are used in diluted, solution form — the solution is sprayed either as mist or fog.

Beginning in spring, however, Mosquito Abatement crews spread between 15,000 and 20,000 gallons of oil on the myriad ponds and swamp holes that pocket the countryside and fester some 17 species of mosquitos. In 1959 there were 31 species.

The oils kill mosquito larvae, limiting the number of mosquitoes that actually mature. Records are maintained by the crews, who know each mosquito breeding spot in their territory.

SECOND LARGEST item in the 1962-1963 appropriation is $60,000 for construction of a 30 by 135 foot building to house the 24 pieces of abatement district equipment.

Wilbur R. Mitchell, technical director, said the two sheds now used are not adequate and that some $60,000 in equipment must be parked outside throughout the year. An appropriation of $11,500 is to be used for maintenance of equipment, according to the new ordinance.

Although the district has sufficient space on its 2¼-acre site at 147 W. Hintz Road, Wheeling, to construct the new building, Cook County zoning officials will not permit such a use of the land.

THE PROPERTY, although bordering on an industrial park, was zoned residential and the existing structures are considered "non-conforming use," which means they cannot be enlarged.

A similar zoning problem has eliminated the possibility of using a 2½-acre site north of Bartlett in Hanover Township. Mosquito District officials plan to sell this site. They have appropriated $10,000 for purchase of a new site — already zoned for industry — in case approval cannot be obtained from the county to construct the needed building.

Mosquito District Attorney David Bradshaw said he is at the point where he is willing to test the county's authority to restrict use of the Hintz Road land for the new building. He contends the county cannot restrict another governing agency from using property already owned by that agency.

OTHER ITEMS included in the appropriation are:

— $15,000 for purchase of insecticides;
— $10,000 for gas, oil, grease;
— $10,000 for insurance on vehicles, workmen;
— $10,600 salary for technical advisor.

— 21,000 for new equipment.
— $10,000 for contingencies.

THE DISTRICT tax rate is fixed at .025, or $2.50 for each $10,000 assessed evaluation. This has been the permanent rate since the district was created in 1956 and began operating in 1957.

An appropriation ordinance sets the maximum amount that can be spent for different operations within a governing or servicing agency. During the 1961-1962 fiscal year ending April 30, the district had a total taxes receivable net of $179,758, with some $60,000 borrowed by issuing tax anticipation warrants.

The loan, or the warrants, must be paid before the district can use tax money for normal operations.

While a major function of the district is to spray against mosquitoes, an important function of the organization is to drain areas known to be breeding places.

MITCHELL explained, however, that an open garbage can that collects water may create a place where more mosquitoes can be bred than insecticide spray will eliminate.

He said some breding spots have been cleaned up, " a few, darn few. But we're making headway . . .it's a slow process."

Stocking streams with fish, which eat mosquito larvae can also reduce the mosquito crop.

Solution to Relief Years Away: Kerner

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) —Gov. Otto Kerner has predicted it may take Illinois up to 25 years to solve its unemployment and relief problems.

Speaking last night to members of volunteer welfare service committees from 15 central Illinois counties at a meeting sponsored by the Illinois Public Aid Commission, Kerner said the burden of high relief costs will probably be with taxpayers for "maybe 15, 20 or 25 years."

The unemployment relief problem can only be solved through a long-range program that will stimulate economic growth and provide more jobs, Kerner said.

The governor defended relief recipients and said most would rather work than receive public aid. ... (B8

Cobwebs Begin to 'Haunt' Fire Station

Politics Play Role in Close

by TOM EDWARDS

Local fire fighting equipment of Prospect Heights is sitting idle, locked up in the fire station, as the result of a long, bitter battle between the board of trustees and the volunteer firemen of the Prospect Heights Rural Fire Protection District.

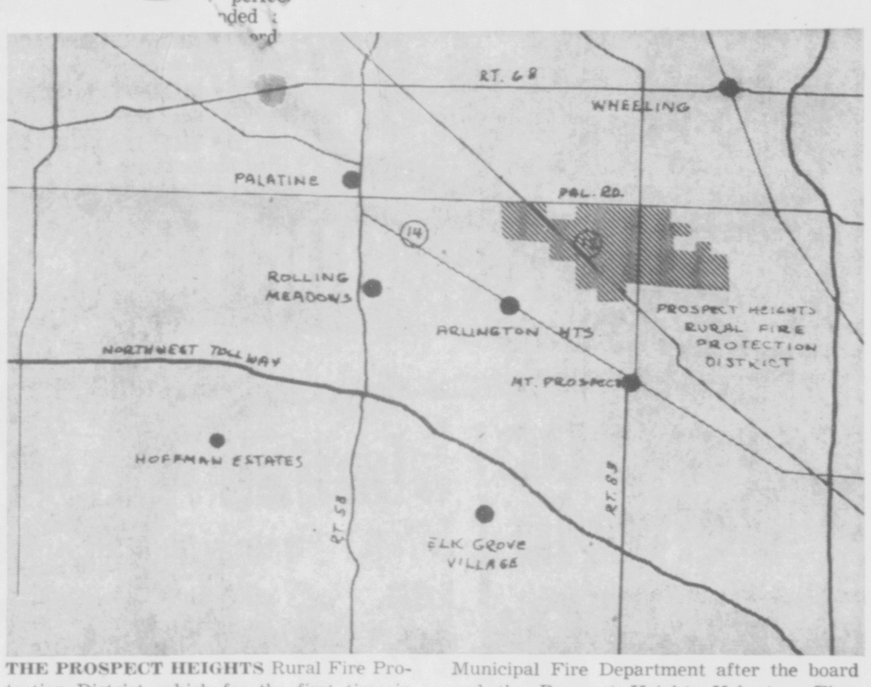
After months of haggling, the situation between the two groups reached an impass when the contract between the fire district board and the Volunteer Firemen's Association expired at midnight April 30 with neither side able to agree on a new contract.

According to a previous arrangement made by the board of trustees, the phone company switched calls to the Prospects Heights Department to the Mount Prospect Fire Department as of the midnight hour. Also, the firemen locked up their station and posted a "Fire Dept. Closed" sign in the window.

(THE VOLUNTEER association has title to the fire station, and the fire district, which is a separate entity from the association, owns all the fire fighting equipment stored in the station.)

Allegations of politics on the part of the trustees have been vehemently voiced, and an aroused public called a mass meeting which over 500 of the unincorporated area's citizens attended.

A citizens committee was formed with the expressed intent of getting the fire department operating again. The committee has come to the conclusion that it would be virtually impossible for the situation to be solved without the resignation of one of the two trustees on the three-member board who are alleged to be political appointees, Norman Johnson and Edward VanDenBerg.



THE PROSPECT HEIGHTS Rural Fire Protection District, which for the first time in 17 years is without a local operating fire department, is outlined on the above map. The district's board of trustees signed a contract for fire protection from the Mount Prospect Municipal Fire Department after the board and the Prospect Heights Volunteer Fireman's Association failed to reach agreement on a contract. The former contract expired May 1. (B-8

THE TERM OF the third trustee, F. E. Foor, expired as of April 30. Besides being on the board of trustees of the fire district since it was formed over 17 years ago, he has also been chief of the volunteer firemen for the same period of time.

Johnson has denied that his appointment two years ago by County Judge Thaddeus Adesko was politically inspired. However, it has been pointed out that he once served in the capacity of a former Democratic precinct worker.

Moreover, at the time of Johnson's appointment there was a petition bearing about 800 signatures for the reappointment of Howard Spenks to the fire district board as compared to a letter of recommendation for Johnson, reported to have contained one signature.

SPENKS HAD also been a volunteer fireman and a member of the fire district since near its inception. VanDenBerg was appointed by downstate Judge John M. Cairns, who was temporarily serving as a Cook County judge last year.

The appointment procedure with its political overtones appears to be repugnant to a majority of the community. The committee is circulating a petition to ask the state legislature to put the members of the board on an elective basis as other municipal governing bodies.

The citizens committee also met with Judge Adesko to seek the resignation of one of the two incumbent trustees and to submit four names of persons deemed acceptable to the community as a replacement for Foor and one of the other two trustees.

ADESKO listened gravely, the committee reported—and ended up by selecting not one of the four names submitted, but Roy Boroughf, chairman of the citizens committee making the presentation. Boroughf, although reported to have been reluctant to accept, finally agreed to do so in a later luncheon meeting with Adesko.

But evidently the issue is still aflame. The day after Boroughf's appointment, the two incumbent trustees entered into a contract with the Mount Prospect Fire Department to service Prospect Heights.

Then they advertised for volunteer firemen to take over the duties formerly performed by the Volunteer Fire Association. Offered was expert training from University of Illinois and Chicago Fire School instructors.

IN THE meantime, negotiations are still going on, ostensibly, to arrive at a contract suitable to both sides, as ordered by Adesko. The volunteer firemen have retained John Haas as their attorney. Haas was also attorney for the fire district until disposed of by VanDenBerg and Johnson in favor of John P. O'Brien.

One of the contract disputes was over the right to appoint the fire chief. The incumbent trustees want the power to appoint the chief, and the association has insisted on continuing to elect its own chief. The two trustees are vehemently against Foor, and the citizens committee has noted that a possible compromise would be to have Foor resign as well as one of the trustees.

The two trustees attempted to appoint Fred Kottke, a lieutenant in the association and a prominent member of the Prospect Heights Improvement Association, to replace Foor, but Kottke declined.

JOHNSON HAS asserted that the fire station actually belongs to the district, and has stated that they will either find another building for the equipment or condemn the present one. An additional attorney, Milton H. Hermann, has been engaged to represent the trustees in the dispute over the rights to the fire station.

An injunction forbidding the volunteer firemen from removing any of the equipment from the station was issued shortly after the contract expired April 30, and the business phone of the volunteers was shut off.

Pay to the firemen has been another issue, with some money still owed to them for the last fiscal year. It was pointed out by Foor and Ralph Taege, president of the volunteer association, that pay has never been an issue previously, that the firemen served for no pay many years while the equipment was being paid for.

Regular firemen were to receive $100 each per year, according to last year's contract, with officers to receive $25 to $50 more.

INSURANCE policies covering the firemen have also been controversial. The board cancelled one much to the agitation of some of the firemen. Although another was taken out, the firemen claim the trustees have refused to show the policy to them.

On the injunction, it was indicated by Foor that the association was only jesting when it was stated the fire equipment might be moved out of the fire hall. But in another contract dispute last December, the volunteers warned the two trustees that they would have to remove the equipment from the building unless terms were reached, and that the volunteers would not answer any more fire calls. The trustees agreed to the terms in that instance.

Chief Foor's position as both a trustee and a volunteer fireman was a conflict of interest, the other two trustees have charged.

Taege pointed out that Johnson once complained to him about having to pay for having tire chains installed on his car in Taege's auto service station, and made such grandiose gestures to the firemen as once offering to buy them all dinner with district funds after a big fire. Money and special favors never entered into considerations of the firemen in their job before Johnson became a trustee, Taege and Foor indicated.

PUBLIC feeling has been strongly on the side of the volunteers. It has been so strong against the two incumbent trustees, that one member of the citizens committee said, "I can't understand why these men (trustees) take the abuse from the community that they do—complete disdain for them."

The committee has been posting notices of its activities and work on windows of several business places in the Prospect Heights Shopping Center at Elhurst and Camp McDonald Roads, where the fire station is also located.

One of the reports stated that, at the end of a 5½-hour meeting with the committee, Johnson sobbed, "I'll resign, I'll resign . . ." Since, he has stated he would resign only if malfeasance of office were proved.

AN AUDIT of the fire district books is under way. The volunteers say that the trustee came into the fire station one night and took the records out. Johnson said he and VanDenBerg took the books out one afternoon. Afterwards the locks were changed on the fire station by the association.

Two main items have come up as a result of the audit, (1) highly questionable irregularities in the purchase of automobiles for the use of the fire chief and (2) an absence of records from before 1957.

Although the fire district evidently paid for two cars for the fire chief over a period of years, they were in the name of the association.

And the manner in which they were paid for is being questioned. On the books, both cars were evidently paid for at the same time, although one car was purchased in 1957 to replace one bought in 1954.

THE TRUSTEES also objected to Foor taking the car outside of the district. (He drove it to work in neighboring Wheeling each day.)

Denials by Johnson that politics have not been involved were challenged by one resident of the area, who said she had been asked a year ago to serve as secretary for the board.

She stated she was asked by Johnson to be secretary, and had been told by James Stavros, Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman, that he had told Johnson to call her. She also repeated Stavros as having told her that he intended to have Foor replaced as chief.

Johnson quoted Foor as saying that as long as he was chief, he would do what he pleased.

Another resident said, "As long as we have men who have devoted years to the Fire Department and are willing to serve, like Howard Spenks, why should they replace them with men like that (VanDenBerg and Johnson)."

FOOR SAID in an interview, "There is nothing here that couldn't have been straightened out if it had been agreeable to straighten out."

The citizens committee said that it wants to see that "qualified, impartial men, regardless of political affiliation," are appointed to the fire district board. (But it may be extremely difficult to find an "impartial" viewer of the controversy, so intense are the feelings.)

Boiled down, the battle between the firemen and board of trustees appears to be largely, "Who is going to be the dominant power?" with both the fire association and the district board seeking to maintain their autonomy. Latest contract negotiations indicate that each may bend a little as the result of the rather embarrassing stalemate.

BUT HOW much is the issue going to cost the taxpayers? The total cost of operating the fire department this year, with all the equipment paid for, would have been about $10,000 at the most. Tax income will be about $23,000. The volunteers and the trustees have somewhat shied away when a tax reduction was suggested. (B8

Anderson of Glenview and former Terrace residents, the Bill Rixes.

A triple celebration was held at the home of Dorothy and Chuck Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, a week ago Sunday, when Charles Jr. shared his first birthday cake with Dorothy's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Wolfe of Chicago, who also observe May birthdays, and Charles' sisters.

A welcome is extended to new Terrace residents, Carroll and Jack Prahm, who are now living at 1401 N. Chicago. They moved here from Rogers Park. Jack, who is employed in the sales training department at Workman Manufacturing Company in Chicago, is a golf enthusiast, while Carroll enjoys bowling as a leisure-time activity. They attend the St. James Catholic Church.

LAST THURSDAY evening Dave and Sandy Yates, 1522 Oakton, enjoyed a "night on the town." Starting with a cocktail party at the Gold Room in the Congress Hotel, given by Dave's employer, RCA, the Yates, with a group of friends, continued on to the Empire Room for dinner and some Buddy Hackett hilarity. The Yates concluded their evening watching the Ice Show at the Boulevard Room at the Conrad Hilton.

Today many families can have Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning for less than half the cost of a compact car

Here's how it can make your home a haven from heat, dust, pollens and humidity

Most folks are pleasantly surprised when they find out what it costs today to have Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning.

Just since 1947 the average unit cost for electric systems has decreased by about one-third. This means that if you have a typical 6-room home, it can be a haven from heat, dust, pollens, noise and humidity for less than half the cost of a compact car (even less if you're building a new home).

YOU GET A LOT MORE THAN COOL

Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning is sleeping in comfort, cooking in comfort, eating in comfort, and relaxing afterwards in comfort. It's living in comfort—all through the house, all summer long.

Cooling is only part of the story. Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning wrings excess moisture out of the air. It filters dust out of the air so that housework is easier, and you need to redecorate less often. It keeps bugs out because you can leave your windows shut. And allergy sufferers suffer less because it picks up to 98% of the pollens out of the air. It helps husbands because they don't have to change storm windows.

Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning soothes tempers, saves wives, makes for happier, healthier kids and families.

It's a little like taking your house to the beach for the summer. Only no sand.

WHY ELECTRIC AIR CONDITIONING?

Air conditioning your whole house electrically has many advantages in addition to lower first cost.

Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning needs less maintenance. It takes less room. No water is needed, and this is important not only because water costs money but because in some communities water-cooled units are not usually permitted without an expensive water-saving device.

Electric systems are far more versatile, too. They include models that work well with every type of heating system. And if you have forced air heat, you may already have most of the ductwork you need for Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning. This can represent a sizeable saving on installation cost.

WHAT WILL IT COST TO OPERATE?

With your new reduced electric rates for this period, you can have Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning in a typical 6-room house in this area for as little as 30 cents a day. And you can count on about 90 days out of the year when you'll want it on.

Quite naturally costs will vary somewhat according to the construction and location of your home. If you live on a shady street and have ample insulation, your cost will be less than if you live in open country.

In any event, you'll find you spend a good bit less for cleaning rugs, draperies, curtains, clothes, and for painting and decorating when you have Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning.

No one can give you more than a rough guess about either installation or operating costs without a careful look at your home. But you can have an accurate estimate made, without cost or obligation, by calling your Air-Conditioning Contractor, Dealer or Department Store.

HOW WHOLE-HOUSE ELECTRIC AIR CONDITIONING WORKS

Though it might seem complicated, Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning isn't difficult to understand in operation.

Air is drawn into the cooling system and pulled through a filter to remove dust, pollens and insects. This cleaned air then passes over a cooling coil which removes heat and excess moisture. The condensed moisture is drained away. The clean, cool, dehumidified air is circulated through your home.

HOW TO MAKE FINANCING ALMOST PAINLESS

If you are building a new home, you can include Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning as part of your regular FHA or conventional mortgage.

If you wish to air condition your present home, there are several ways to finance. Add the cost to an open-end mortgage if you have one. Get an FHA Title I Home Improvement Loan. Or get a short-term loan from your bank or other lending institution. Many dealers in this area also handle financing right along with the sale.

Spread over the years, Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning is a mighty low-cost way to have a permanent vacation from heat, dust, pollens and humidity. And you can't help but improve the resale value of your home with this addition.

News Editor Assesses Plan Board Appointments, Action

by TOM EDWARDS
News Editor, Wheeling Herald

Last week the Wheeling Board of Trustees approved Village President A. R. McIntyre's appointment of Thomas Popke and Howard Hart to the planning commission. Two days later, the commission unrolled the final plat for another Robert Ahr apartment development (Capri Terrace) on the west side of Wolf Road. Lo and behold, there was Popke's name on the plat, signed as the surveyor.

Further investigation revealed that Popke was also the surveyor for the controversial Capri apartment development erected by the same builder along Wolf Road just south of the proposed new development. He was also surveyor for the equally controversial Herman apartment development across the road from Ahr's apartments.

Now on May 6, 1957, the village board passed a resolution, "That the members of the Wheeling Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals are hereby disqualified from sitting as members of either of said boards whenever such board has before it a question relating to specific property in which that member has a financial or other personal interest." (McIntyre and Merle Willis were on that village board.)

POPKE DID not disqualify himself at his first meeting, nor did any other member of the commission call the matter to attention as the resolution further directs. In fact, Commissioners Popke, Hart, Willis, Donald Paisley and Trustee Thomas Miller (who announced that he was representing McIntyre), from all appearances, were dead set on getting the Ahr plat approved.

But Commissioner William Galow pointed out that it would be easier to list the few points that were right about the plat than try to enumerate everything that was wrong.

Commissioner Bernard Erlin noted that it had been changed from the preliminary plat approved by the commission and board, contrary to what a representative of the builder indicated to the village board two days earlier. (Popke has since stated that he is making a change in the plat for the builder.)

Conflict of interest or not, it might be argued, it is well to have a surveyor on the commission. Perhaps, but the village has a professional engineer in its employ as well as an able building inspector who can give the commission any advice it needs on engineering details. (Also, the county recorder's office refused to accept Popke's plat of Herman subdivision because of omissions.)

McIntyre, according to Popke, was aware of his position when he appointed him. How many other members of the board were is not publicly known — but the possible conflict of interest was not mentioned.

IT MIGHT have come out if a motion by Trustee Edwin Smith had passed that McIntyre's proposed appointments to the commission be interviewed by the board before it voted on them. But it was voted down by Trustees Miller, Otis Carter, Fred Cargill, and McIntyre — who also approved the appointments.

The interlacing of possible conflicts of interest and political pandering among Wheeling officials seems to be endless. Of direct concern to Popke's appointment — and in case you have forgotten — is that the Herman and Capri apartment developments were the matters over which Merle Willis was asked to step down as chairman of the commission by both the commission and the board, and on which McIntyre was castigated by Trustee Smith.

THERE ARE witnesses who have stated that McIntyre and Willis, without reference to the commission or village board, signed their approval to the plat allowing the Capri apartments now completed. The buildings were in flagrant violation of the then existing village ordinances.

That original plat mysteriously disappeared, nor was there any plat for the apartments on file in Wheeling until McIntyre handed a copy of one to Village Clerk Evelyn Diens the night before the commission's hearing on the Willis case.

And Willis was the agent for the sale of an improperly subdivided tract on which the Herman apartments were built. It was part of Utpadel's Sunnyside Acres. Harold Utpadel is a member of the zoning board of appeals and the nephew of Mrs. Willis.

But this has all been aired before, with Willis bearing the brunt of the criticism. And this is naming only a few village officials who have direct and indirect ties with real esate devlopment, both on the board and elsewhere.

WHAT DOES it mean when the preliminary plat for Capri Terrace was approved by a 5-1 vote of the board without even viewing it to know if it was the same plat that had been forwarded to the board by the plan commission?

The village board has often, especially Carter, Miller, McIntyre and Cargill, preferred to by-pass the commission. Consistently the board has made faux pas after faux pas in regard to village development, and continues to do so. Dunhurst streets are crumbling five years after being put in, and other subdivisions have plenty of questionable aspects.

It probably took Wheeling officials 10 years to hire a planning consultant because they didn't want one. Now that they have one, they ignore him. Practically always the developer is given preferential treatment by the board. Channels which plats are supposed to go through are ignored. Why? Often it is just plain ignorance of the village ordinances. Self gain may be a factor in some of the crass actions.

AND WHERE are the protestors? Or is this what the populace wants? Or does it take something of the magnitude of the Billie Sol Estes case before people are spurred to corrective action? "I don't want to get involved in politics," some say.

It is one thing as far as political parties go, but what does "politics" have to do with seeing to a rational conduct of village affairs? Or is it possible that people are so used to having governmental offices used for self gain that they now prefer it that way?

It appears that it is time for a full scale quiz into Wheeling's government. It could be done by several methods, but since the preponderant share of the deplored "bad publicity" Wheeling gets is the result of its "political situation," the investigation should be the first job of the public relations committee newly appointed by McIntyre. It velopment, both on the board civic-minded citizens — for it was never suspected that it might have anything to do except whitewash things.

Otherwise, the village can wallow along like it has been. Stickney may have been first out this way, but it won't be last. (W

School Board Names Tyler for Vacancy

Harry Tyler, 921 Woodland, Wheeling, was appointed to the Wheeling—Buffalo Grove District 21 Board of Education by the board at its May 24 meeting.

He was one of three candidates who applied for the vacancy and were interviewed by the board. Others were Wesley Gillespie, 763 S. Wayne, and Thomas Snow, 905 Pebble.

THE BOARD agreed to select Tyler at a committee meeting Monday at Whitman School. The official vote (which must be taken in an official meeting) Thursday was 5-0, with Member Robert Brower absent, arriving later in the meeting.

Tyler, 37, is manager of production planning and scheduling at the Wheeling Ekco-Alcoa plant and has resided in Wheeling since Dec. 1, 1960. He is a member of the Hollywood Ridge Homeowners Association.

His answers to questions of the board, in the order they were asked, were:

He declined to comment on what he "would have done" in relation to the stalemate that took place at the May 10 meeting on whether or not to hold the interviews in public. (The board voted 3-2 with one abstention to hold the interviews in closed session. A member of the audience refused to leave, and Brower refused to take part in the closed session. The result was that the board then agreed to hold the interviews in public, and at the suggestion of Brower, make the selection in closed session.)

ON FEDERAL aid to education, Tyler said he was opposed to it, that aid "should be no broader than statewide." But when Federal aid is made available, the school system should take advantage of it.

He said he had no particular goals or objectives if appointed to the school board, but was very interested in providing a "sound education" for District 21 pupils.

On emphasis on patriotism in schools, he noted that he was "aware of a growing interest" on the part of the public against communism.

He "believes in" cooperation between the school board and superintendent, and said he "was very pleased" about the "great deal of unanimity" that appeared to be present on the board's actions.

IF ANY cutbacks in education were necessary for financial reasons, the board should "look to the superintendent" on what should be eliminated from the curriculum.

He is opposed to split shifts, and said he has no positive opinion on a quarterly semester system. He espoused a "good, sound athletic program."

To another question on whether he was generally opposed to closed meetings, he replied, "No comment." (W

Dialing Meadowbrook

Mrs. Audrae Duke — LEhigh 7-0909

Meadowbrook artist Inez Abrahamson exhibited some of her works last Sunday at the Winnetka Village Green Art Fair. Despite the cool, threatening weather, Inez's oils and drawings attracted the attention of many, culminating in the sale of two pictures she had on display.

Celebrating his second birthday May 25 was Ronnie Shelk, son of Joan and John. Populating the grounds of Ronnie's home at 372 Jerome last Thursday morning were 20 neighborhood children in the two to five year old age bracket accompanied by six mothers. The timely gifts dispensed as favors to the young guests were watches, along with assorted prizes for games.

JERI CIOLINO, 7-year-old daughter of Rena and Joe, 252 E. Jeffrey, was among those in the Lyric School of Music Carl Sandburg classes participating in a yearend dance recital last Sunday at the Villa Venice. Costumed in a blue and white striped leotard with pale blue tutu, the young lady performed in the tap, "Dancing Along," and the "Candy Shop" ballet.

Meadowbrook's own June bride, Judy Mihalek, 409 S. Meadowbrook Lane, was feted with another bridal shower last Thursday at the Des Plaines home of her godmother, Mrs. Gus Sosdian. Planned as a surprise, Shirley and Judy just casually stopped over to the house after one of their multidudinous shopping tours. Once there, Judy was greeted by a collection of 30 of her friends and friends of her mother who showered the bride-to-be with a selection of household items. Among the guests was Shirley Wilson, 101 Meadowbrook Lane.

Last Sunday was Judy's turn to entertain. She invited her five bridesmaids to an afternoon luncheon in their honor at which time she presented them with keepsakes of crystal necklaces as a momento of the occasion.

LINDA BORST became four last Saturday in the company of nine of her neighborhood friends as they gathered to celebrate the event at the Borst home, 326 S. Wille. Traditional party games were conducted with favors of boxes of crayons distributed to the young guests.

The Nameless Nine Bridge club were hostessed by Inez Abrahamson, 75 W. Jeffrey, last Wednesday. For the first time in an incalcuable period the Nameless Nine had their full complement of eight members.

The new combined Sitter Swap Groups 1 and 2 will have as their secretary for June 1 through 15, Jackie Haines, LEhigh 7-1602. Families interested in joining the swap are invited to call either Jackie or the Arbitrator Inez Abrahamson, LEhigh 7-1023.

Meadowbrook East Sitter Swap will have as its secretary for the entire month of June Ginny Weber, LEhigh 7-5378.

Barbara and Don Koelling, 427 Virginia Place, celebrated their eleventh wedding anniversary last Saturday by attending Barbara's bowling banquet. The St. John's Ladies Lutheran League held their annual banquet this year at the Old Orchard Country Club. Accompanying the celebrating couple were Emily and Tom Barkulis. The foursome dined first at the Rustic Manor, dropping in to the banquet for dancing.

Celebrating his sixth birthday May 23 was Glen Mildenberger, son of Dorothy and Jim, 384 S. Meadowbrook. Glen had his first birthday ceelbration the previous Sunday when his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Carrothers, of Niles, and Mr. and Mrs. John Mildenberger, of Chicago, joined by Mr. and Mrs. Alf Steuer and Mrs. A. Mildenberger, aunts and uncles, congregated to honor the birthday boy. Among the celebrants at the dinner party was Glen's 82-year-old great grandmother, Mrs. F. Workman. Glen was the recipient of a red and white bicycle in honor of becoming six.

LAST WEDNESDAY a group of ten playmates were guests at Glen's birthday party. They divided their activities between outdoors and inside. Dropping the clothespins and a potato race were two of the favorite children's games.

Although the wind spoiled the outdoor birthday festivities of May 19 Ronny Lippert, 4-year-old son of Margo and Herb, it concluded in a surprise treat for the young guests at 336 Wille, as they were all sprinkled free of cake crumbs and ice cream drippings under the sprinkler. (W

School Nurse Issue Needs Citizen Vote

The Village of Arlington Heights is unable to legally participate in a school health program or a community nurse program without approval of the voters at a public referendum.

This was the gist of an opinion handed down this week by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel in the wake of dissatisfaction in some quarters with the village's recent withdrawal of financial support of the health programs.

Since 1955, public school District 25 and the village have been sharing the cost of the programs equally, with parochial students receiving the health services also.

WITHDRAWAL of village financial support, which would have amounted to $17,500 for 1962-63, means the parochial students apparently will be without the health services unless the schools pay a share of the cost on a pro-rated, per pupil basis, to the public school district.

Since the District 25 school board says it is not legally nor financially able to offer the services to private schools without collecting a proportionate share of the cost, the only other alternative appeared to be for the village to reinstate its support.

The statutes governing operation of the village appear now to preclude even this possibility.

WHILE THERE has been little open controversy, many parents of parochial students have made it plain they believe they are being done an injustice.

While agreeing with the principle of separation of church and state, they say that health services are not involved in the educational processes and are a matter of public concern.

They point out that they pay taxes the same as do parents of children in public schools, and if a part of those taxes are used for health services — not educational programs — then their children should receive the benefit of those health programs the same as public school students do.

Public school officials claim that the public school system funds are acquired through taxation, and tax money cannot be used in any way to provide services in private schools.

THESE AND related arguments are taking place only privately so far, and no open flare-ups are expected until after June 11. On that day the District 214 school board, governing high schools in Wheeling Township, is expected to render a decision on another aspect of the church and state question.

The high schools had refused to give excused absences to students to attend religious classes because, admittedly, these classes were scheduled on school days in order to increase attendance.

If the students were excused from school to attend the religious instruction period, they would attend; if the periods were scheduled on weekends, attendance fell off.

IN ONE instance last week, parishioners were cautioned against publicly arguing the health service issue, described as a delicate one and touching on the separation of church and state question. They were advised to wait and see what happens.

The question to be decided by the high school board looms as the larger one, with more far-reaching effects and it is the only one of the two on which the church has taken an official stand.

The matter of health services for parochial students remains in abeyance. The village board is re-examining its stand, but in the light of Siegel's opinion, appears to have no legal right to reinstate its support of the program without a public referendum.

Siegel said the village's past participation has been without legal foundation.

A. After the man and woman have decided between themselves that circumstances are favorable for their wedding, it is up to the bride and her mother to decide upon the exact date.

Fourth High School Okayed by Voters

Pools Are Turned Down by Majority

High School District 214 residents turned out in record numbers May 19 to approve a $4.9 million bond issue for a fourth high school and turn down a $700,000 swimming pool proposition.

Some 4,517 voted for the building, more than the entire vote cast for Forest View in 1960. The "no" votes numbered 2,286, giving the proposition nearly a 2-1 majority.

The pools were "unplugged" 3,717 to 3,063.

All areas of the district supported the building proposal, which was to construct a 2,500 student high school at the northwest corner of the Hintz Road-Route 83 intersection, near Wheeling and Prospect Heights.

The school, to be ready by the school year 1964-65, will make room for the district's growing numbers of students, estimated at 10,000 by 1966.

Heaviest favorable vote came from the northern precincts (Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, and Prospect Heights), but Arlington Heights carried the proposition 1,924 to 1,050, losing only the Kensington precinct, 102 to 122.

MOUNT PROSPECT carried the proposal by 49 votes, although the Central School precinct recorded a 346 to 346 tie.

There were light turnouts in Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove. Precincts at High Ridge Knolls Subdivision, Ridge School in Elk Grove Village, and the Herzog School in Waycinden Park Subdivision defeated the issue by small margins.

The small Feehanville District voted 62-16 in favor of the building.

THE POOLS, downed by only about 650 votes, carried in Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Prospect Heights, one Arlington Heights precinct (Ridge), one Rolling Meadows precinct (Kimball Hill), three Elk Grove Township precincts, and both Feehanville precincts.

HOWEVER, 14 OF the 25 precincts voted against the pools, which had been proposed for the new school and for Forest View.

School board members and members of the Citizens' Lay Committee were "very happy" about the record turnout, which exceeded the vote on Forest View High School by over 2,700 votes.

Board President John Haas, of Prospect Heights, called the bond issue result "a tremendous tribute to our residents' interest in good education and a pat on the back for our teachers and administrators."

"THIS SCHOOL will allow us to maintain the fine program presently offered District 214 students. We knew the voters wouldn't let a request for a few extra tax dollars tear down our schools' excellent educational reputation," Haas added.

Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer pointed out that the result was especially gratifying considering that the bond issue was held soon after the issuance of tax bills, and the district was in a unique position of asking for a fourth school before the third was completed.

"The vote result confirms our belief that as long as the district continues to operate economically and as long as our graduates prove the value of their high school instruction, our residents will support the schools," the superintendent added. (MG

Teams Earn Points

Four duplicate bridge teams won master points at the Northwest Suburban YMCA's biweekly game Friday night.

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kranz, Mt. Prospect; Jack Martin, Arlington Heights, and Sande Miller, Park Ridge; W. J. Willy, Palatine, and Russ Niessen, Rolling Meadows; Ken Schroeder and Miriam Rumpf, Arlington Heights.

SECOND place awards went to Dallas Erickson and Ed Bodenstab, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Greda McKenna and Mrs. Cornelia Skoulunde, Fox River Grove; Sally Leonard and Edith Cramm, Park Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuehl, Park Ridge; and O. E. Auer, Arlington Heights, and R. J. Cohen, Des Plaines.

Friday night, June 8, the "Y" will feature a special charity master point game to benefit the building program. This Friday night a duplicate game is scheduled for Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park field house.

Arlington Heights To Host Students

Arlington Heights will play host to a busload of foreign exchange students late next month as the first stop on a three-week tour of communities the students will visit on their way to Washington, D. C.

Sponsored by the American Field Service, the students will stay in Arlington Heights June 25 and 26. All will be coming from Missouri and other parts of Illinois, where they have spent the past school year as seniors in high schools, living with American families.

When the students arrive in Washington, they will be received by Congressional leaders and other national personages, then taken on to New York for embarkation to their homelands.

WHILE IN Arlington Heights the students will be treated to a pot-luck picnic in a nearby forest preserve followed by a fellowship party and dance. Entertainment will be provided by a group from the Indian Center in Chicago, and the foreign students will have an opportunity to become acquainted with students from the high schools here.

The next day will be taken up largely with a bus tour of Chicago.

The American Field Service hopes that through these Greyhound bus tours, the foreign students will gain a broader view of American ways of life, and at the same time American teenagers will gain a better understanding of people from other lands.

COMMITTEE members working to make the students' stop in Arlington Heights an enjoyable one are: Mrs. Emma Smalley, chairman; Mrs. Miriam Tracy, housing; Mrs. Florence Hannum, picnic; Mrs. Pricilla Quackenbush, tour; Mrs. Winnie Band, party; Mrs. Evie Zimmerman, publicity.

Also, Mrs. Esther Baker, Miss Martha Craig, and Bruno Waara. (A

College of the 60's: New Profile

Have Things Changed?

(This is the second in a series of four articles prepared by Monmouth College personnel. The series describes the college of the 1960's. Articles to follow are entitled, "What Will College Have Done for Your Child" and "College Education: Who Will Foot the Bill.")

A profile of the college of the sixties will reinforce the traditional lament of the old grad: "Things have really changed since I was in school!"

For one thing, parents will find that the curriculum and the academic calendar have changed. Many colleges and universities have reduced the number of courses taken by each student and taught by each professor each term.

These colleges are placing greater emphasis on learning—on independent study. The total number of courses offered has been reduced and many institutions of higher education have structured their academic program around a three-term calendar and a three-course curriculum.

UNDER THIS program, the nine-month academic year is divided into three terms, rather than the conventional two semesters. Students take only three courses each term, rather than five or six courses each semester.

We made this change at Monmouth after studies showed that the average student studies only three subjects at the same time and that the average faculty person is more effective teaching three courses rather than four.

We feel that the "Three-Three" will provide education in depth and will reduce some of the hurdles that impair improved teaching and learning.

METHODS OF education are also changing rapidly. The great new stress on quality and depth has given rise to intensified programs of individualized study. Seminar classes — where a few selected students concentrate on one aspect of an academic discipline—are a reflection of this trend.

Independent study — where the undergraduate student works on a research topic under the individual guidance of a faculty member — is another. Interdisciplinary seminars and greater flexibility in the use of classroom time is still another.

The age of the sixties is an age of automation. We now have "language laboratories" where students learn the spoken language by listening to tape-recorded language drills. Reading machines and television; micro-film and record libraries are other tools which will help shape the college graduate of the sixties.

NOT ONLY how they study, but also what they study is changing. The natural sciences, mathematics and the social sciences have changed in this space age. Academic standards are more rigorous and the body of knowledge continues to grow in quantity and complexity.

New emphasis will be placed on the emerging Asian and African nations; long-overdue attention will be given to the non-Western cultures in the fields of language, social sciences and the arts.

Concomitant with these changes in the college, there is a corresponding reformation taking place in the type of student who will enter college.

STUDENTS WILL have more diverse political and economic beliefs and increasing numbers will go on to receive the graduate training necessitated by this age of specialization.

Where the college campus was once regarded as an "ivory tower," it will become instead a citadel of social freedom and responsibility. Students will have a broader vision of national and international affairs.

Because of the steady increase of scholarship and student loan funds, higher education will continue to be within reach of students with limited economic means. No qualified student should have the closing college door slammed in his face because of limited personal financial resources.

ADD TO THIS the sharp increase in foreign students who study in this country, as well as American students who study abroad, and we can see that the college campus of the sixties will be much more cosmopolitan than ever before.

Support for higher education, both public and private, must continue to increase if, as a nation, we would be true to the premise that education is not training for a vocation, but training for life — if the colleges of the sixties are to graduate men and women prepared for the world of the 60's. Comedian Writes To Teens

The recent "Teenage March March Against Leukemia" in the northwest suburbs and throughout Illinois has prompted an open letter to teenagers from Danny Thomas, founder of the Danny Thomas St. Jude Research Hospital, for which funds collected in the drive will be used.

Thomas praised the teenagers' response to the drive and noted that the youths participating had raised more than $22,000, with Kewanee and Rock Island drives still to be conducted.

"I wonder if you young men and women know just what this meant to me," Thomas wrote.

"FIRST I see a dream of some 25 years become reality with the opening of our new free hospital for victims of leukemia, and then you young folks come crashing through with this magnificent and unselfish effort on our behalf."

"It is fitting that you young people gave this evidence of your devotion to our cause," Thomas continued, "for, as you know this dread killer strikes mostly among the very young, the very helpless, the very blameless." (A14

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

Recently I read an article in Iowa's leading farm newspaper "Wallaces Farmer" which I thought was very interesting, so I am repeating it to you through my column. What's happening to CCC corn? In recent months, Commodity Credit Corporation took over the nation's corn market and set prices with heavy sales from surplus stocks. Most of the sales were charged against the feed grain certificate pool.

Sales up thru March—the first half of the livestock "feeding" year—totaled more than 650 million bushels. While final figures aren't it, it's likely that another 100 million bushels have been sold. Such an amount is roughly equal to Iowa's total 1961 corn crop!

A block of corn this size doesn't fall on the market without some important effects, mainly on price. But the big puzzle now is where did all that corn go? and are there effects yet to make themselves felt?"

The question is tough to answer with clearcut precison. It's almost impossible to draw an accurate balance sheeet showing details of corn movement. But available figures do give some helpful clues. So let's look first at position of corn supplies on April 1 as reported by USDA.

CORN STOCKS (millions of bushels)

	April 1, 1961	April 1, 1962	Difference
On farms	2,085	2,150	+ 65

In warehouses, elevators and mills	897	713	—184
Net decrease in stocks			—278

Part of the decrease can be accounted for by the smaller 1961 production. This more than compensated for larger carryover, so total supply available had dropped 63 million bushels. In addition, exports thru March increased b yabout 60 million bushels.

This leaves 155 million bushels increased domestic use over last year's levels. The bulk of this must be charged to increased feeding. Past records indicate a small but stable amount of "other" domestic uses. There's nothing to indicate much change in the amount of corn for these food and industrial uses. Amount used for seed promises to be no larger than last year.

In other words, it would appear that about 7 per cent more corn has been fed to the nation's livestock than during a comparable period last year.

This does not seem unreasonable. There was more livestock on farms—more cattle on feed and a 4 per cent increase in last fall's pig crop. At the same time, the low prices of corn encouraged heavy feeding, and unfavorable winter weather made gains less efficient than usual.

Together heavier feeding and added exports account for about 215 million of the approximately 650 million bushels sold by CCC thru March. So the rest of the corn must have moved from government stocks into private hands.

Farmers may account for a part of this. On January 1 they had less corn on farms than a year earlier. And this was in spite of heavier feeding during those 3 months. At most, this might account for perhaps 100 million bushels—probably less.

Most of the remainder must be in the hands of regular grain handlers and speculators who are betting on a price rise. Many of these have hedged their purchases on the future's market.

At this point CCC appears to be mostly out of the seller's market. As a result, prices can be expected to rise in the weeks just ahead. Most of the free corn won't move until the price covers storage plus some profit.

But don't look for this situation to last for long. CCC will have a lot of corn to market from 1962 feed grain certificates.

Press Should Get Vital Statistics, Atty. General Rules

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Atty. Gen. William G. Clark has recommended that the press and other news media be allowed information on marriages, divorces, births and deaths.

Clark on May 23 advised the State Department of Health that county clerks should be able to release, in the public interest, information on marriages, births and deaths to news media and researchers.

SUCH ACTION had apparently been banned by a new Vital Statistics Act passed by the last session of the legislature.

The Department of Public Health had asked permission to issue a rule allowing dissemination of the information.

Dr. Franklin Yoder, director of public health, said the department would study Clark's ruling before endorsing release of the information.

In conjunction with his ruling on marriages, births and deaths, Clark added that in his opinion the ban in the Vital Statistics Act was not binding on Circuit Court clerks, who handle divorces and annulments.

"THERE APPEARS to be no legislative intent to vest any of the custodial powers in the Clerk of the Circuit Court in the Department of Public Health," Clark said.

"I am therefore of the opinion that you may not by rule restrict the manner in which the Clerk of the Circuit Court handles or disposes of the judicial records in his custody pertaining to divorce and annulments." (A-14

Revocation Rescinded

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier this week announced the Drivers License Division of his office has rescinded the revocation of the license of a Palatine resident.

The revocation of the license of Kenneth J. Glueck, 1436 N. Hicks Road, Palatine, was rescinded following receipt of a corrected report from the court of Police Magistrate Ted C. Scanlon of Wheeling showing the offense of driving while intoxicated was reduced to reckless driving.

Vets: Examine Your Insurance Holdings

More than three million veterans should give careful study to their GI insurance holdings, according to John S. Gleason Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

They are still holding GI term insurance, which can play a valuable role for a growing family but which may become prohibitively expensive for a veteran near the retirement age.

"Many older veterans are now finding themselves unable to continue their term insurance payments at their greatly increased rates and unable to obtain new insurance coverage," Gleason pointed out.

"IF THEY DIE, their widows will have nothing; yet over the years the veteran may have invested as much as $7,000 or $8,000 in this form of insurance."

The VA chief disclosed that about 14,000 World War I veterans still hold U. S. Government Life Insurance term policies which originated in the first World War.

More than 285,000 World War I veterans have converted their term policies to a more permanent plan of insurance.

NATIONAL SERVICE Life Insurance, originating in World War II, is still held by more than 5 million veterans. About 2 million of these have been converted to some permanent plan of insurance, but about 3 million are continuing with term protection.

"Veterans should remember that a term GI insurance policy that carries an annual premium of $9-a-thousand at age 35, jumps to an annual premium of $47-a-thousand by age 65 and to $73.16-a-thousand at age 70," Gleason concluded.

SERAPHIM is the plural form of SERAPH. Do not, therefore, say "seraphims."

Do not say, "The executive committee has decided to desert this project." Say, "has decided to ABANDON this project."

Hawthorn Mellody Farm Is Good Place to Take Kids

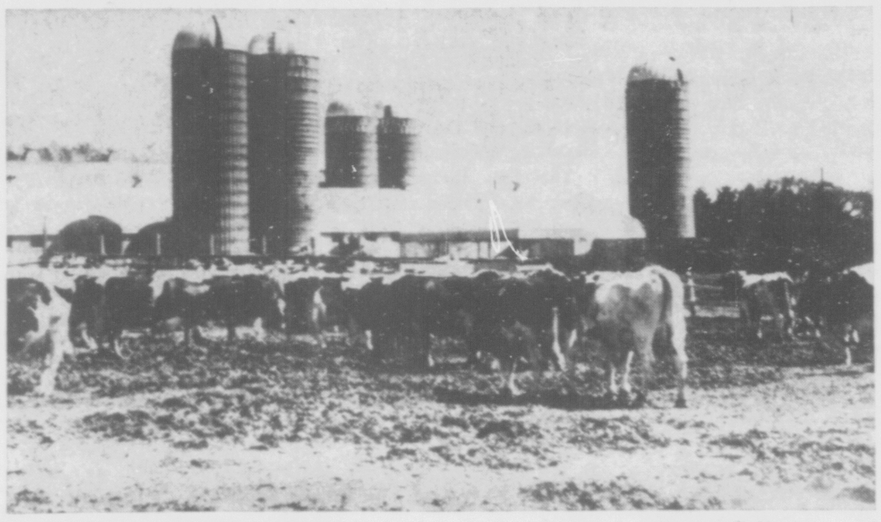
Let's Go to Farm Near Libertyville

(This is the third in a series of articles by Mrs. Connie B. Howes of Northbrook. The series, "We're Off in Chicagoland," concerns places of interest in the north Chicago area for suburb families to visit.)

by CONNIE B. HOWES

Have you often heard the phrase around your home, "Let's go to a farm?" Then why not go visit a real working dairy farm by driving up Route 21, between Half Day and Libertyville, and visit the Hawthorn Mellody Farms.

This farm and Children's Zoo is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. There is no charge during the week, but on weekends a nominal 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children is charged only for the Zoo.



HAWTHORN MELLODY FARM'S dairy herd is pictured above before milking time. The farm is located between Half Day and Libertyville. (A-14

Hawthorn Mellody Farms were opened to the public officially in September of 1949, and the zoo was added soon after in the early 1950's. The 70 acres containing the exhibits are part of the 3,000 acre Cuneo farm, known for its prize Holstein dairy cattle throughout the world. There are scheduled tours for groups of all sizes which are arranged through the main Chicago office of the Dairy.

LAST YEAR over 750,000 people visited the farm to see these exhibits. In a large dairy barn there is a milking parlor where every afternoon you can watch five hundred cows milked with modern machinery. The Zoo is estimated to house one thousand animals of all types.

There is a frontier ghost town. A large "U" shaped show and calf barn exhibit the finest of show Holstein cattle and darling baby calves. Next to the Zoo is a farm animal exhibit. You will want to visit the Country Store and Club of Champions Room. A beautiful picnic grove is available for group use. You can visit the six horse hitch barn and view the Clydesdales.

Sometime this summer, across the tracks from the main entrance, a Carriage Museum will open displaying historical carriages and unusual wagons from all over the world, including Napoleon's surrender carriage.

THE MILKING parlor and Dairy Barn are the main attractions of the farm. In the lobby of the milking parlor there are educational exhibits telling of the milking procedure, the purity tests for the milk, and a large model showing the processing in the Chicago Dairy.

The milking begins between 12:30 and 1 p.m. and continues until closing. In the ten stalls tended by five men you will see these five hundred cows milked. The schedule calls for 10 cows milked every four minutes. Before they are milked they are showered and their udders sterilized. A network of pipes pumps the milk into cooling tanks.

You will enjoy watching the scales where the milk of each cow is weighed. A pound of milk is equal to one quart processed. Each day this herd gives between 10,000 and 15,000 pounds of milk. Mrs. Dorothy VanAken gives an excellent short talk on the milking procedure and answers questions anyone may have.

A TRIP through the show and calf barn is a delight to all. Here you will see prize bulls and mothers with their newborn calves. Other calves love to have their heads patted. Perhaps you have seen some of these Holsteins before at fairs and shows throughout the country.

The Zoo contains animals from all over the world, both large and small. The Sea Lions will always put on a show as will the chimpanzees and monkeys. The baby bear cub is the only one of its type known in existence, as its Mother is a Grizzly and Father a Polar bear.

The pair of White Tundra Wolves are the only ones in the world in captivity. Across from the Zoo entrance is a large display of birds. In the next few months an elephant will be added.

NEXT TO the Zoo is the Farm Animal Exhibit. Here every type of farm animal is displayed, as well as many varieties of cattle.

The Frontier Ghost Town copies buildings of the 1870's. Here, during a weekend, you can ride around in a covered wagon pulled by a team of oxen.

The Country Store has a fine selection of dairy products as well as small gifts. In the rear of the store is the Club of Champions Room where the numerous prize ribbons are hung from various Dairy and Farm Shows. Pictures and sporting equipment used by great sporting figures are on display.

FOR GROUPS, a large picnic area is available complete with benches and tables on the side of a beautiful 80 acre lake. The edge of the lake is wooded, but you can smell the crops growing in the adjacent fields.

As you leave the parking area of the farm, you can drive two driveways North to another barn. This is the hitch barn, where the six horse-show Clydesdale's are on display with the wagons used at Fairs and Parades.

In the rear of the barn is the harness room. The two complete sets of harnesses make a striking sight with the black leather and silver trim.

As you drive back through the country past other farms, you will think of the fun you had on your day at the farm. (A14

Wilkins to Employ Supervisor of TV

George T. Wilkins, superintendent of public instruction, this week announced he will employ a full-time supervisor and consultant to study and recommend plans for the expansion of educational television to all areas of Illinois.

The consultant will also coordinate statewide activities for utilizing the medium of television as a classroom teaching technique.

The announcement by Wilkins follows a recent meeting in Springfield of a sub-committee of the Illinois School Problems Commission appointed earlier this year to recommend possible legislation which may be needed if educational TV is to become widely available to all Illinois school districts and in the classroom.

THE COMMITTEE passed a resolution recommending employment of the TV consultant to work with technical members of the committee.

Properly programmed, experts believe TV can greatly contribute to education in the following manner:

(1) Additional time for a teacher permitting him to give each student more individualized instruction;

(2) Permit great instructors to inspire all students instead of a limited few;

(3) Enable numerous pupils to look into a microscope at the same time;

(4) Allow a class to view an activity in its natural surroundings undisturbed by direct observation;

(5) Well-planned television can motivate students, guide and sharpen their reading by providing background and demonstrations, encourage responsibility for independent learning, arouse curiosity and develop new insights and the excitement of discovery; etc.

The School Problems Commission appointed its educational TV Sub-Committee early this year after Wilkins told the group that Illinois should attempt to be the national leader in the development of educational TV for the classroom and the public.

Iodine Milk Count Up; Blame A-Tests

ST. LOUIS, (UPI) — The radioactive iodine count in St. Louis milk showed an upsurge last week in samples, apparently as the result of recent United States nuclear tests.

The St. Louis County Health Department and the St. Louis City Department of Health and Hospitals showed that the count of radioactive iodine-131 reached a high of 90 micromicrocuries during the period from May 14 through May 21. The average for the period was 66 micromicrocuries.

THE DEPARTMENTS reported that the level is now falling and is "not of concern over this period of increase."

partment in Washington stated that the iodine count in milk in other areas of the Midwest also showed an increase during the same period. (A14

Hospital Addition to Be Dedicated June 20

Dr. Francis J. Gerty, director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, and Dr. Lester Rudy, director, Illinois State Psychiatric Institute and immediate past president of the Illinois Psychiatric Society, will take part in dedication ceremonies for the new half a million dollar therapy building to be opened at 2 p.m. Wednesday afternoon, June 20, by Forest Hospital in Des Plaines.

Dr. Gerty, who will deliver the main dedication address, will speak on the contribution of the private hospital to the field of mental health. "The Private Psychiatric Hospital as a Community Resource" will be the title of his talk. Dr. Rudy will serve as chairman of the dedication ceremonies, to which several hundred medical and hospital leaders throughout the state have been invited.

FOREST HOSPITAL, a psychiatric treatment center for short term intensive therapy, has constructed the building not to increase its present bed capacity of 90, but to provide a new facility to step up its program of milieu therapy, according to Morris B. Squire, administrator.

An indoor swimming pool and gymnasium are among the psychiatric and recreational features of the new building, which will be known as "The Town House." It adjoins the present hospital, which is located on the banks of the Des Plaines River beside the forest preserve.

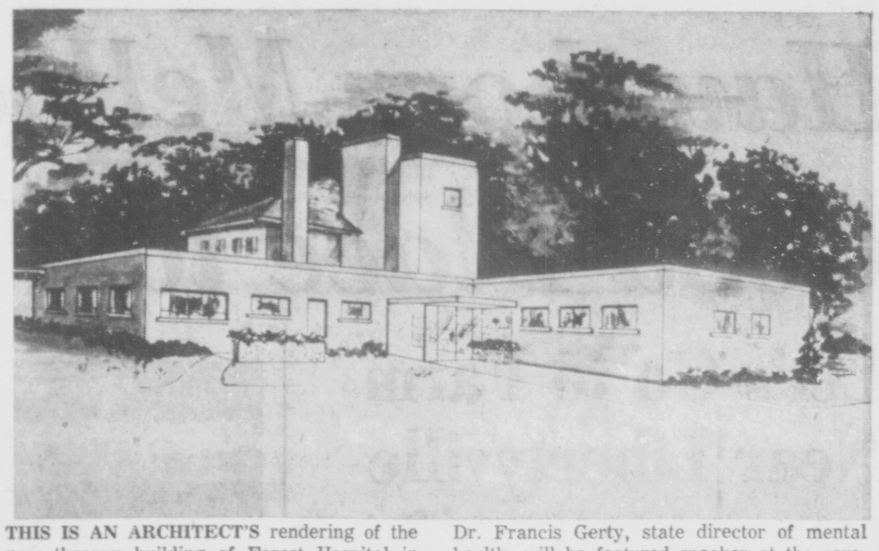
An open area for selected patients will be a part of the new building, permitting patients quartered there complete freedom of movement in a controlled therapeutic experiment. Forest Hospital cared for and discharged 1,000 patients last year, according to Squire.

OTHER FEATURES of the new building will include a large game room, a music room equipped with hi-fi components, an auditorium with a movable stage and a 44 by 70 foot area where creative, recreational and group work activities will be conducted. There also will be a tennis and squash court adjoining the building. A nature trail through the nearby woods is under construction.

The Des Plaines treatment center is an open staff hospital with an attending staff of 58 psychiatrists and a consulting staff of 30. Presently, it is providing psychiatric affiliation education for student nurses attending the Illinois Masonic Hospital. It also provides counseling and diagnostic service to local schools. A resource for the Jewish Children's Bureau, Forest Hospital draws its patients from the entire metropolitan area.

THE DEDICATION ceremonies will begin with outdoor refreshments. Wives of attending physicians will serve as hostesses. Conducted tours of the new building, and the hospital as a whole, will close the day's ceremonies.

Dr. Randolph G. Novick, 2728 W. Sherwin, Chicago, is the hospital's medical director. Dr. Joseph G. Nemecek, 210 Kings, LaGrange Park, is president of the medical staff.



THIS IS AN ARCHITECT'S rendering of the new therapy building of Forest Hospital in Des Plaines which will be dedicated June 20. Dr. Francis Gerty, state director of mental health, will be featured speaker at the ceremony. (A14

Job Discrimination Hits Older Workers

Employer discrimination against older workers is a critical problem of American society, declared Dr. Harold Wershow, project supervisor for the Jewish Vocational Service of Chicago, in a statement this week.

He praised Paddock Publications' recent report on the aged of Illinois, "These Lonely Rooms," citing the series as "extremely effective." The articles stressed the need for work among the aged.

"The skills, experience and responsibilty of older workers are minimized by our society, which venerates youth to an exaggerated degree," he said. "Yet studies show that the older worker equals the younger one in overall performance, has a better sense of loyalty to the job, is absent less often.

"MEDICAL care has prolonged the life span and activities of people today. Yet, we have to contend with a wide spread feeling that a man is ready for retirement at age 60, that a worker at 55 is pretty well used up. The fact is, many persons are not ready for passive retirement until the later 70's."

Dr. Wershow said the situation of the older worker is "beclouded by paradox—the drive to early retirement has coincided with increased longevity and the prolongation of the capacities of older workers."

He pointed out that the U. S. population will include a larger proportion of persons over 65 by 1980 than in recent years, a numerical high of 24 million. He said that continued discrimination by employers against older workers will create a sizable group of aimless, indigent people.

DR. WERSHOW is supervisor of the Therapeutic Workshop for Older Workers, a non-sectarian project operated by the Jewish Federation's Jewish Vocational Service with the aid of a National Institute of Mental Health grant.

"Our experiences with older persons in this therapeutic workshop show us that men and women over 65 are willing and able workers," Dr. Wershow stated. "They fear most being shunted aside and labelled useless." (A14

Students Cop Latin Honors

Those who say "Latin is dead" would have had a hard time to keep up with the fast-moving corpse as symbolized by a group of northwest area Latin students.

Students from Palatine-Schaumburg, Arlington-Prospect, Lake Park and Barrington High Schools took high honors at the state Latin contest held last week at Monmouth College.

Palatine — Schaumberg achievmore top winners in Latin I and ed state-wide recognition by taking four "superior" ratings in the contest, giving the school

Palatine High students Laurie II than any other school in the state.

ROSEMARY Rogers of Arlington High was a state winner in Latin II (Cicero). Rosemary was one of only eight students to gain this honor, bringing top honors to Arlington.

Theodore Wachs of Palatine High gained the highest score in the state-wide contest in Latin I. Wachs, who earned a "Superior" rating, had a score of 247 of a possible 250 points. Close on Wachs' heels, was another Palatine Latin I "expert" Mary Ellen Rockwood.

Palatine High students Laruie Rogers and Dorothy French also achieved "Superior" ratings in the Latin II competition.

PALATINE-Schaumburg High School District 211 was the only school system in the state to have two winners in the Latin I competition. In the Latin II contest, Highland Park and La Grange joined Palatine-Schaumburg as the only schools in the state with two "top rated" students.

"Excellent" listings show James Wykowski of Lake Park High as achieving this high rating in Latin II. A similar rating was awarded in Latin I to Leslie Aranow of Barrington.

Heading the Palatine group at the contest was Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, foreign language department chairman. Mrs. Anderson has taught state winners for the past seven years at Palatine High, but this year hit the "high point" in the competition with four winners from District 211.

MRS. ANDERSON and Miss Marilyn Brychell are instructors of the Palatine Latin students. The two Latin instructors stress their pride in their students for achieving such high scores in the state contest. Palatine had more "superior" ratings in both Latin I and II than any other school in the state, both teachers pointed out.

Students in the state contest had to gain superior ratings in both district and sectional competition in order to enter the state contest. (B8

'Nicest People' Seek Physician for Island

BEAVER ISLAND, MICH., (UPI) — The "nicest people in the world" are seeking a doctor.

Beaver Island in Lake Michigan about 30 miles northwest of Charlevoix needs a replacement for Dr. Frank E. Luton, 83, who has been trying to retire for more than a year. There are about 200 residents on the island which became famous in the 1850's as the kingdom of Mormon Ruler James Jessie Strang.

Thousands of summer tourists annually crowd the 14-mile long island which is ringed with sand beaches and covered with stands of pine and birch. Some of the finest fishing and hunting in Michigan can be found in its nine lakes and acres of woods.

Communications with the mainland in the summer include a ferry which runs regularly to Charlevoix. In the winter the only way on or off the island is by air.

THE MICHIGAN Department of Health has paid a yearly salary to the island doctor since 1923 when Fedora Protar, an exiled Russian nobleman who served as doctor from 1892, died.

There is a modern, well-equipped clinic on the island, built with funds contributed by island residents and tourists. Three nurses live on the island and help with the services. "These are the nicest people in the world. This is a very pleasant place, and my experience here has been wonderful," Luton said.

"The climate is fine, much milder than in other parts of Northern Michigan, and the fishing is good. We have good facilities, including our hospital. It is well worth anyone's consideration to come." (A-14

Being Thankful
"What hath God wrought!" — Samuel F. B. Morse

THESE were the words of the first telegraph message, sent by a grateful inventor who had achieved a personal triumph.
How many of us ever take the time to thank God for the blessings which come our way? When success comes along, are we grateful: Or, do we shout, "Look, see what I have done!"
Grownups sometimes are amused to hear children at prayer. Children thank God for everything. It is shameful that their elders are not equally thoughtful.
If we but take the time to count our blessings, we can see the goodness of God in so many ways.
Pray at the church of your choice this Sunday.

'Straw Vote' Eyed

Jr. College Group Re-Elects Watson

The steering committee for the proposed northwest suburban junior college have unanimously re-elected Dr. Norman E. Watson, superintendent of Glenbrook High Schools, as chairman for the coming year.

The committee further agreed upon action to be taken in the nine high school districts covered by the junior college survey prior to the next meeting of the steering committee set for late July.

The steering committee is composed of the nine superintendents of the high schools districts involved in the survey.

THESE DISTRICTS are Arlington - Prospect, Evanston, Glenbrook, Highland Park, Maine, New Trier, Niles, Palatine - Schaumburg and Ridgewood.

Superintendents will set up meetings in each high school district with the high school boards of education and the 10 members of the citizens advisory committee from each district. The 90-member citizen advisory committee recently completed a massive survey of the nine-high school area, finding establishment of a junior college district "feasible" and needed.

Following the joint school board-lay committee meetings, the steering committee will meet.

Result of the survey indicated that the three north shore districts—Evanston, New Trier and Highland Park — were not as "ready" for a junior college program as the balance of the area included.

IN ADDITION, Ridgewood has indicated a possible hesitancy in joining the junior college program. In contrast to this, several other areas indicated a desire to join a possible junior college district.

A decision as to "where to go from here" must be made, possibly by a "straw vote" of each of the high school districts involved, the survey spokesmen indicated. (B-8

The Lee Woods, 218 N. Williams, had a big weekend. First of all, Thursday evening Jeanne and Donna Buthman, 215 N. William, attended the last meeting of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at the home of Helen Nordland, Park Ridge. Then on Saturday evening, Lee and Jeanne went to the Holiday House in Milwaukee for dinner and dancing with two couples from Milwaukee and Kenosha. The hit of the evening was Dick Contino's performance. On Sunday, Jeanne was sponsor for her niece, Paula Marie Ilg of Mount Prospect, who was confirmed on May 28 in the Our Lad of the Wayside Catholic Church.

Happy birthday wishes go to Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Barnes, 202 N. William, and Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jankowski, 204 N. Owen, whose birthdays are today, May 31; and to Herby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Banach, 227 N. William whose birthday was May 28.

Guests for a buffet dinner were: Grandma and Grandpa Johnson, the Link Stardy family of Burlington, Wis., George Dattilo and Matt Weber families of Arlington Heights, and his brother and sister, Jimmy and Joan.

The Tony Scalettas, 307 N. School, entertained the Ed Coxes of St. Charles Saturday evening. Mary Jeanne is a former grammar school friend of Kathy's.

ELEANORE AND George Lock and daughter, Mary Ellen, 305 N. School, celebrated Eleanore's birthday on Saturday by having dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hardtke of Mount Prospect, at which time they also celebrated Mr. Hardtke's birthday, which was on the same day.

Mrs. Leona Wietor, 205 N. Elm, enjoyed having dinner Saturday evening with members of her monthly club at Tally Ho Restaurant in Park Ridge.

Ginny and John Gross, 212 N. Elm, went to a Memorial Day part on Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feeley, Oak Park.

Jim Banaczak, 221 N. Elm, had a successful fishing trip last weekend in Wisconsin. He caught several walleyed pike.

The Tom Dougherty family, 208 N. Elm, spent an enjoyable week with Tom's mother in Springfield and Bea's folks, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewing in Decatur, and helped celebrate the Ewingss' 35th wedding anniversary, which was May 19.

Marquette Professor

Says U. S. Catholic Artists Are Lacking

.TS LOUIS, (UPI) John Fick, English professor at Marquette University said here the contributions of Cathloics to the arts in America have been negligible. He said there is evidence that a change is occurring.

Fick was commencement speaker at Fontbonne College, where 48 women were awarded degrees.

FICK SAID Catholic writers have had little impact on American culture and he described American Catholic art as some of the worst in the world.

"With the tidal wave of immigrants coming to America in the 19th Century, the church was unable to play her traditional role as mother of the arts," he said.

"The newcomers, often from underprivileged nations of Europe, had to battle against pressing poverty, social inferiority and prejudice.

"CULTURE, LETTERS, leisure, patronage of the arts — all these were indeed luxuries they could ill afford.

"This historic tragedy was to leave its mark in the church in this country for many decades and even now we are only beginning to recover and emerge." (B8

Hartwig, director.

The institute is one of 85 institutes scheduled at various colleges and universities this summer for the improvement of language teaching.

Sponsored by the Language Development Program of the National Defense Education Act of 1958, the institutes are supported by funds from the U. S. Office of Education in contact with host institutions. Participants from public schools receive a stipend of $75 per week plus allowances for dependents.

GELLERT IS one of 40 teachers selected to attend the Southern Illinois University NDEA Institute.

The Institute program will emphasize "total immersion" in spoken German. There will be formal classes in literature and area studies and in the application of linguistic theory. A teaching seminar, supplemented by demonstrations and practice classes, will provide training in the use of modern language laboratory techniques and other audio-visual aids.

Participants will live at one of the Thompson Point dormitories where they will speak and write only German.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years.

Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere . . . a group of amateur stevedores who made iced tea in Boston Harbor . . . and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplittable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which those patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today. The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

How about buying a $50 Savings Bond (the most popular size) next payday? The cost is only $37.50.

Best known for his midnight ride to Lexington, famous patriot Paul Revere also designed the first Continental currency, the first official seal of the Colonies, and the state seal of Massachusetts, still in use today.

Nature Topic Highlights Cherry Blossom Luncheon

Presenting a nature program at last Wednesday's Women's Guild "Cherry Blossom" luncheon, two Morton arboretum students told how their courses have helped them to become aware of the intricacies of God's creative wonders. Speaking before 80 some women, half of whom had been invited from Arlington Heights and Palatine, Mrs. Fred French and Mrs. Harold Turner illustrated their talk with specimens of grasses, leaves and primitive flowers of the area, explaining the lore behind each leaf.

The emphasis was on ecology, which Mrs. French explained to be a study of living things in relation to one another. She showed a specimen of native prairie grass of this area, now seen no more, having been routed out by blue grass and dandelion.

Using maps dating from 1845 Mrs. Turner told of the natural history of Vernon and Ela townships. The program ended with appropriate excerpts from Life magazine.

Mrs. French and Mrs. Turner have been Morton Aboretum students the past four years; subjects offered there range from natural science, wildflower gardening and study of birds to landscaping, propagation and nature photography. It also offers a series of field trips and evening lectures.

LATEST AFTERNOON ones were "Audubon and His Birds" "Spring Wild Flowers" and "All Season Interest for your Garden." Those who want information on the courses are welcome to contact the above women. Last Friday they, Mrs. George Masson and Mrs. Charles Harding were off on an all-day field trip to Warren Dunes, Mich.

The luncheon, hosted by Mrs. James Webster's morning circle, was the year's second combined meeting of the three circles.

COMMUNITY CLUB members beamed at one another during the May 24 annual meeting held in the Kildeer school gym. Reason? What looked last fall as a gloomy outlook toward meeting the year's budget turned out better than expected.

After paying all bills the club has been able to hand over $785 as payment toward the stage curtains and still has $200 with which to start the new year, come September.

It was thought that the full price of the curtains, $1,541.50, would take two years to pay; however, the cost has already been met. The board of education gave $177.50, the Robert Hills, $225; the amount of $354 came from the eighth grade class, along with donations from other contributors. President Mrs. Joseph Young elatedly thanks all who were generous.

During the business session Mrs. John Cook was elected first vice president; Mrs. Charles Anstrand, recording secretary; and Mrs. Doris Dombrow, treasurer. Outgoing officers are Mrs. William Salzman, Mrs. Stewart Richmond and Mrs. Grover Jungbluth.

MRS. STEWART Richmond, chairman of the year's program committee, introduced Mrs. Charlotte Wachs, art instructor, whose pupils exhibited the finest of their work that evening in the gym. Serving with Mrs. Richmond on the committee were Mrs. Robert Hill, Burt Schell, Art Edmunds and Mrs. Mabel Schoenke.

Special program attraction was by pupils of Mrs. Harry Paine's sixth, seventh and eighth grade French classes, who presented puppet shows, three dialogue skits and demonstrated how they are taught verbs via a tape recorder.

Mrs. Charles Anstrand and Ed Rodewald served some hastily brewed coffee, since somehow someone had forgotten to make up a refreshment committee.

Mrs. Robert Gimlin and Mrs. Stewart Richmond were the top winners of the season's local Bridge Marathon, receiving a $30 prize at the group's annual luncheon held May 22 at The County Squire.

SECOND PLACE winners, receiving $20, were Mrs. Rose Williams and Mrs. Elmer Troch; in third place, receiving $10, were Mrs. Chris Oberheide and Mrs. Donald Coffey. Receiving a prize for the highest score in any one game were Mrs. Robert Gimlin and Mrs. Stewart Richmond.

The award for the lowest score in any one game went to Mrs. Elmer Troch and Mrs. Rose Williams.

After the prize money was doled out the remainder was distributed for worthy causes: $75 to Quintens Corners School; $75 to Countryside School for retarded; $50 to Kildeer School; and $25 to Long Grove's beautification committee, headed by Mrs. Henry Herrick.

The luncheon, attended by 17 couples, was headed by Mrs. Don Davison. Assisting her were Mrs. James Cummins, Mrs. John Peterson and Mrs. Ernest Koken. To this year's top winners goes the privilege of planning the luncheon for next year.

LONG GROVE Church's junior choir, dressed in its Sunday best with corsage, performed heart-warmingly for an appreciative audience at the May 27th evening Vesper Service.

Familiar hymns such as "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us" gave a stirring touch to the varied program, instrumental and vocal solos providing the high points.

Event was planned by director, Mrs. Arthur Edmunds, who has been working with the sixth, seventh and eighth graders for past months to provide music for the 9 o'clock Sunday worship services.

Paticipants were Karen Korbelik, Rushton Williamson, Robert Coffin, Judy Calder, Mary Jo Korbelik, Sara Webster, Kevin Gustafson, Jeannie Anderson, Barbara Coffin, Pam French, Randa McCartney, Tom Turner, Gary Miller, Laura Hurley, Karen Visoky and Janet Hurley.

Performers were showered with praise and Mrs. Edmunds received grateful comments, heaped to overflowing, for her volunteer services during the social hour that followed. Hostesses Mrs. William T. Anderson and Mrs. David Calder served punch and cookies from a table centered with spring flowers and members of the choir provided the refreshments.

PROBABLY the first Long Grover to attend the Seattle World's Fair is Mrs. Robert Loudon, who returned with exclamations of delight over the "fabulous" science building which cost nine million dollars to erect.

Other thrills included taking an outside glass encased elevator up to the revolving kneedle Restaurant 600 feet up, also riding the Mono-rail train and touring the exhibits and shops featuring items the world over.

The fair was an extension of Mrs. Loudon's trip to Portland, where she attended the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, being an Illinois PTA delegate.

Coming home by jet was a "first-time" experience.

JUNE 4 is registration day for next year's Kildeer kindergarteners. The "get acquainted tea" will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. in Mrs. Gladys Busch's room. Mothers are asked to stop at the office, prior to 1 o'clock to sign up their tots. Any child who will be five before December 1, 1962 is eligible for enrollment.

Both Kildeer and Quintens Corners Schools will hold graduation exercises on June 1. May 31 is the date of Kildeer's seventh and eighth grade track meet.

Michael Decker, son of the Brandon Deckers of Mardan Estates, an Ela-Vernon sophomore and chemistry student, has been selected to be one of 34 participants to receive a summer scholarship to attend the University of Tennessee's National Science Foundation program.

Michael, who was one of 500 boys who tried for the scholarship via examinations and other procedures, will leave June 10 to be gone six weeks.

MRS. DONALD Davison was in Springfield last week attending the grade school graduation of her granddaughter, Joan Burkhardt, who came back home with her Saturday.

The Elmer Trochs and the Joe Youngs made it a gay foursome Saturday night at the Founder's Day dinner given in Edgebrook Country Club. The occasion honored founders of St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis., where Elmer was graduated.

With Marcia Wachs' wedding to Kenneth Dam of Marysville, Kansas taking place June 9, all at the Wachs home is buzzing with festivity. Marcia's Long Grove friends were invited to a shower in her honor May 16 in Mrs. Erling Clemetsen's home in Wilmette.

MEMBERS OF the Wachs' "Stitch and Chatter" group, Mrs. Fred Stone and Mrs. Wells Simmons of the North Shore, gave a lingerie shower for the bride-to-be recently.

Last Friday both Marcia and her fiance and her brother, Edward, and his bride-to-be, Nancy Neir, were guests at a dinner given for them in the home of the John Arnolds of Glencoe. Also in the party were the parents of Edward's future bride, the Francis Neirs of Moline.

NOW DURING Memorial Day weekend members of the Long Grove cemetery board feel it appropriate to report that plans for the present include repairing and repainting the fence in front of the cemetery facing Long Grove Road, continuing to fill the depressions and reseeding the grass in the older part of the grounds and extensive bush trimming and general maintenance.

President Edwin Rodewald and his board, Walter Gosswiller and Anton Berg, will appreciate suggestions from those who have ideas to offer on improvement and maintenance. Contributors to the current fund appeal are asked to give their donations to one of the board members or to bring or mail them to the church.

VOLUNTEERS serving on this month's Long Grove Church Community Visitation are Mrs. Leslie Schauffler, Mrs. Andrew Sim, Mrs. Martin Wulff, Mrs. Walter Gosswiller, Mrs. Bessie Geest, Mrs. Lora Heinsohn and your reporter.

Members of the church's confirmation class will make their vows at the 10:30 a.m. services on June 3. Members are Bobby Coffin, Marie Hultquist, Karen Visoky, Stephen Berg, Tom Oberheide, Adrienne Anderson, Laura Hurley and James Cerda.

On May 19 the class was driven to Kenwood Ellis Church, Chicago, where workers spent the day washing and painting closets in the parsonage for the pastor, Rev. Sam Gandy.

Ivanhoe Congregational Church's social room was the scene of a demonstration luncheon which Mrs. Geest and Mrs. Wulff attended May 22.

Welcomed into membership of the local church congregation last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. William Miles.

THE MARTIN Wulffs drove to Half Day Sunday to attend the open house from 2 to 6 p.m. in honor of the Arthur Malms' 25th wedding anniversary.

From Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin's rolling farm country, came the Forest Frobergs last week to drop in on the Andrew Sims. The Sims' long-time friends and former Arlington Heights residents are off for Sweden.

Former Kildeer teachers, Mrs. Harriet McGuire and Mrs. Walter Gosswiller, attended a luncheon for retired teachers given May 21 by County Superintendent of Schools W. C. Petty. Event was at Waukegan's Karcher Hotel.

WHEN THE Walter Gosswillers' nephew, Eugene Ralph of San Gabriel, Cal. dropped in at their home on his way from a trip to the East, a reunion took place. Taking with them their friend, Mrs. Lydia Fry, the G. L. Ralphs of Mineral Point, Wis., drove here for a get-together with their son.

Mrs. Bertha Ritzenthaler attended the banquet held at Wenzlaffs in Wheeling May 23, given in honor of her brother, Louis Holtje, distinguishing him for 50 years of service. The occasion, given by Wheeling Trust and Savings Bank also had among its guests the Ray Millers, and Glenn Millers and Mrs. Emil Geest.

Recent house guest in the Arthur Potts home was Cheryl's friend, Kathleen Kelly of Lake Villa, a classmate at Mueller's School of Beauty Culture, Waukegan. Guests on Tuesday of last week were Art Pott's mother, Mrs. Louise Potts and her daughter, and Mrs. Charles Sladek of Libertyville.

A BIRTHDAY party for their niece, Mary Towner, was celebrated recently by the Melvin Towners in the home of Mel's brother, Willis and family in Mundelein.

Mrs. Arthur Reimers and her father, Carl Bartelt of Arlington Heights, who is 77, enjoyed meeting members of his confirmation class, year 1900, at the centennial celebration held May 20 in Dundee Lutheran church.

Day by day the Jack Deagans are checking off the time on their calender, waiting for July 6, the arrival date of their daughter, Mrs. Norman Blank, who is expected to make the journey from Haines, Alaska, with her daughter, Anna, born last December.

For the Deagans it will be their first look at their granddaughter and the first time in five years that they have seen their daughter.

ALL ONE DAY, from morn til night, the Wayne Pearces sadly hunted him, their new pet, a brown and white beagle they'd acquired a week ago. On being questioned, friends had seen him following the golfers at Twin Orchard, but he was elusively always one step ahead of the search.

The dog, named Sam, seemed to want to stay close to the golfers. But his owners needn't have worried. The next day found Sam ready to give up Twin Orchard for the comforts of home — he was back home on his door step. The Pearces are trying to change his name to "Muffin."

A happy birthday to David Fisher, whose friends helped him celebrate his seventh birthday May 23; to Jimmy Walgren, May 31; to Jim Singelman, June 2; to Blanche Mattson and Alice Terrill, the 3rd.

WATCHING the goings-on at the firemen's dance from a wheelchair was a special treat for Bill Umbdenstock and a heartwarming sight for his friends. "Who knows, maybe by the time the next one rolls around he'll be spry enough for a March waltz or a circle two step?" (CP

Q. Is it really considered proper for a woman to use scented stationery, and if so, how may she best produce this scent?

A. This is in quite good taste, and the best way to do it is to put a sachet bag in the drawer or box in which the stationery is kept.

Missing Books Sought By Arlington Library

By BETTY AINSLIE

(First off—by some chance, have you walked out of the Arlington Heights public library with an encyclopedia you've been using mixed up with your books? Several are missing, and if you have one, please put it in the book slot. No questions asked. The books are needed for others to use.

Do your vacation plans include a trip to the nation's capital or a jaunt through one of the national parks? If it does, you might take the children to the Arlington Heights public library's young people's department and pick up some travel books.

"The Key to Washington" by John Upton Terrell is a brand new, strictly for children book, on the city which is the seat of our national government. Washington is one of the most important and beautiful cities in the world and one of the very few National Capitals that was built primarily for the business of government.

THIS BOOK is the story of the birth and growth up to the present day of this city. Complete with maps of the city and many black and white pictures, it will help to make a future trip there much more interesting.

"The Key to Chicago" by Martha Bennett King is a good book for the early reader who would like to know more about this second largest city in the United States. Many pictures and clear description give an accurate history of this city up to present day.

"First Book of National Parks" by Norman Lobsenz describes Acadia's ocean cliffs in Maine, swampy Florida Everglades, warm beaches of the Virgin Isle, and Mt. McKinley's glaciers in Alaska, among other places. A history of all these spots complete with pictures is included.

"AMERICAN Historylands" put out by the National Geographic Society is a beautiful colored picture travel book for the older boy or girl. The cowboy wild west and the Civil War grounds comprise only a portion of the places covered — complete with the history of the big events in our Nation's past. A book for all who like to plan a "learn something" type vacation.

A book teaching about 225 simple Spanish words and phrases is "A Trip To Mexico" by Terry Shannon. This book is helpful to the beginner in the language and also presents a charming picture of our southern neighbor through the simple story of life in Mexico today.

A new beginning-to-read book with a different story is "Camp In The Yard" by Vivian L. Thompson. It's a story of two boys too young to go away to Summer camp who are helped by their dad to set up a real camp right at home. Plentifully illustrated in clever black and white pictures.

"I can go barefoot like kittens and dogs
And hoppity frogs
As soon as it's June"

WELL, THAT is one way of expressing the complete joy of vacation and childhood. It's a quote from Arleen Fisher's book, "Going Barefoot." This is a child's view of the world in poetry but a world all viewed in the exquisite bliss of barefeet.

"The Cowboy on the Ranch" by Lord and Richard Floethe is bound to be popular with young boys. It's all about cowboys and the work they do on a ranch in all four seasons. Big colored pictures add to the enjoyment of roundup time and the just plain living on a real western ranch. (A

Paddock's 7th Annual Team

by BOB FRISK
SPORTS EDITOR

Paddock Publications' seventh annual All-State track and field team, honoring a crack field of schoolboy athletes, brings down the curtain on another brilliant cinder campaign in Illinois.

Based on the consistency of performances throughout the season rather than on one or two impressive efforts, the coveted honor team includes forty-eight prep trackmen who helped make the 1962 season one of the most spectacular in the history of the state.

Five records were established in the outdoor affair staged recently in Memorial Stadium at the University of Illinois. Eleven state marks have been posted in the past three years, indicative of the development of the sport in Illinois.

FIVE trackmen are honored in each of 12 events on Paddock's seventh annual squad. Placing in the state meet was not a prerequisite for selection as is illustrated in several cases on the honor team.

Certificates and tear sheets are sent to each All-Star.

Eleven boys are repeaters from the 1961 aggregation and two, LaGrange's Tom Atkinson and Roanoke-Benson's Bob Wheelwright, are included for the third straight year. Bloom's Leroy Jackson is the only other boy to make the All-State squad for three years, and the Trojans' speedster earned his honors from 1956 through 1958.

EARNING ALL-STATE recognition for the second straight year are Zion-Benton's Theo Cox, Proviso West's Barney Peterson, Glenbard East's Barry Moore, Highland Park's Jim Weinert and Jim Sternfield, East St. Louis' Warren Hampton, Palatine's Andy Merutka, and Moline's Jeff Lundeen and Sam Demeyer.

Merutka is the only boy from Paddock's circulation area to make the honor team, but Andy's presence certainly isn't surprising. This muscular young man set a state record in the shot put as a junior and broke his own mark this spring.

The competition for All-State berths was stiff in several events, particularly in the mile run, sprints, and hurdles.

Eight boys gained berths in two events. LaGrange's Atkinson, state champ in both the 100 and broad jump, was honored in his specialties, and Downers Grove's brilliant sophomore Bill Howerton was named in the 100 and 220.

Phillips' fleet junior Harvey Blair, state champ in the 220, was given position in both the sprints, and Lane Tech's Bill Anderson and Phillips' Ed Federick gained spots in the high and low hurdles.

Moline's Tom Herbert was selected in the shot put and discus, and New Trier's Scott Etnyre and Centralia's Don Duncan were accorded positions in both the high jump and pole vault where they were standouts all spring.

Presenting the 1961 All-State track team:

100 Yard Dash:

Tom Atkinson — state champ and author of a :09.8; had tried 220 and broad jump double in previous years but it was too tough; possessor of four gold medals in state track competition; also anchored Lions' strong 880 yard relay team.

Theo Cox —state champ as a junior, third in 1962; bothered by a bad leg for three weeks; had wind-aided :09.6 as a junior, :09.8 this spring.

Bill Howerton — sophomore standout; had 10 flat clocking; a brilliant future.

Harvey Bliar — state champ in 220 and second in 100; only a junior; had :09.7.

Mike Brown — possessor of :09.8 century; posted nation's fastest 50 and 60 yard dash times; sidelined by pulled muscle for state.

220 Yard Dash:

Bill Howerton — state's best time of :21.2 in the DuPage County Meet; fourth in state; light-weight youngster bothered by wind in state finals.

Harvey Blair — state champ in 220 with wind-handicapped :23.1; back for another year; ran solid anchor leg on Phillips' winning half-mile relay quartet.

Jack Buresh — somewhat of a surprise in state meet; fifth in 100 and second in 220; had :22.2 heading into state; won district furlong.

Bob Konkols — posted :21.4; qualified for state finals but finished out of the money; had second best qualifying time in state prelims.

Rufus Pearson — standout in both 100 and 220; had :09.9 century and :21.6 furlong; fifth in the state 220.

440-Yard Dash:

Lou Ritchie — state champ with clocking of 49 flat; has competed in three state meets for Moline; his winning effort was fastest of year.

Pat Mullen — pride of Farmer City; second in state meet; only prep under 50 flat three times in 1962.

Chris Cook — third in state; first in city league meet with snappy :49.8.

Bob Wheelwright — third year on all-state team; placed in state 440 as soph and junior but bothered by injury this year; qualified for finals but failed to place.

Steve Brubaker — Downers Grove standout; fourth in state quarter-mile.

880-Yard Run:

Barney Peterson — second year on team; two-time state champ in 880; set state record of 1:55 flat; outstanding college prospect; had 1:53.5 on leg of relay.

George Hunt — tied state record in brilliant stretch duel with Peterson; among the state leaders in event all season.

Lee Wolf — third in state meet with 1:55.7 clocking; also standout in 440.

Barry Moore — ran 1:55.8 in dual meet; finished fourth in state as senior, third as junior.

Jim Isaacson — Glenbard West junior; fifth in state meet; consistently under 1:58; bad weather in district kept him from fast heat downstate.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

FOR A YOUNG MAN WHO ran only two competitive miles outdoors this spring the performance of Highland Park's Jim Weinert in the recent state track meet was remarkable.

The talented runner, named this week to Paddock Publications' seventh annual All-State track squad, didn't practice during the entire spring but still headed the district and state meets in his specialty.

Last Saturday Weinert was kept out of the Suburban League meet with a recurrence of his troublesome ankle injury, and Jim's absence may have cost the Little Giants the league title. Highland Park finished second by four points to Suburban League champion New Trier.

"My ankle started swelling towards the end of basketball and indoor track season," Jim remarked at the state meet. "Apparently, it was a condition similar to shin splints which comes from running on a lot of hard surfaces.

"When basketball ended I thought I could run out the soreness. My folks took me to Florida for a week between semesters and I ran a lot in the sand, thinking that would help.

"The ankle only got worse," Jim continued. "My doctor told me I had been doing exactly the wrong thing; the only thing that could help was to stay off it as much as possible."

Weinert didn't practice at all during the spring. He ran an 880 in 1:59.2 at the outset of the campaign but no miles. The first mile he ran was at the district and he won that one.

The likeable Highland Park senior, who set a state record in the mile as a junior, stayed in shape with exercise, weight-lifting, and a careful check on his diet.

In the state meet Jim obviously tired at the end but still managed to outlast Tim Renn of New Trier in a dramatic finish.

"He did it on sheer will power," Coach Dick Ault exclaimed. "He just wouldn't let anyone beat him, that's all." Ault, who lives in Wheeling, was equipped with some brilliant trackmen at Highland Park this year but both the state and Suburban league crowns eluded him.

However, those were about the only two crowns that escaped the Little Giants of Highland Park. Ault's powerhouse won the Suburban League Indoor crown, the Evanston Relays, Lake Shore Invitational, and Evanston District.

MILT SPRUNGER OF THE Illinois High School Association has answered some of the queries concerning the present qualifying marks in the state track and field meet.

Writing to Bert Bertine of the Champaign-Urbana Courier, Milt indicated that only one change in the present qualifying marks has been recommended by the Track Games committee.

Next year broad jumpers will have to clear 21-3 instead of 21-0 for a ticket to the state if they don't finish first or second in the district meets.

"It is true we had a rather large number of qualifiers in the pole vault and high jump," Sprunger wrote, "but as usually is the case the extra qualifiers were accounted for by the large number of ties rather than having met qualification standards.

"In order to cut down these numbers the committee also recommended that in next year's district competition ties be broken by counting the number of misses as provided by Rule 9-1 in the Track Guide."

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR HOLE-IN-ONE yet this year?

Better hurry, before one a round becomes so common it isn't newsworthy.

In Albion, Mich. the other day a golfer named Jim Court aced the fifth hole with a wedge and repeated on the seventh with a six-iron.

ARLINGTON HIGH GRAD Rich Bader, now a junior at Northern Illinois University, won Northern's Ed Behan Memorial Trophy with a total of 96 points in track competition this spring.

Bader's total was the fifth highest recorded since the trophy, honoring a former NIU athlete killed in World War II, was established in 1947 for annual presentation to the Huskies' leading track scorer.

Bader paced Northern's third-place performance in the Interstate Conference meet at Macomb by placing second in the 100-yard dash and winning the 220. His closing burst of power carried him to virtual dead heat with Western Illinois' great Leroy Jackson in the 100.

Earlier last week Bader had equaled NIU's 9-8 100 yard dash record and cut two-tenths of a second off the school's 21.2 mark in the 220.

Bader holds the 50 yard dash (5.4), 100 yard dash (9.9), and 220 yard dash (21.8) standards at Arlington High School.

Prospect High Wins League Twinbill

Prospect High's varsity baseball Knights terminated their 1962 campaign Saturday with a sweep of an Interim League doubleheader against Deerfield's Warriors.

Coach Chuck Aldrich's Knights, finishing with a 7-9 Interim standard, posted a 6-3 victory in the opener and came back for a 4-1 triumph in the nightcap.

Hank LaRocco and Bob Hanson worked on the mound in the twin-killing.

The double victory came three days after the Knights had suffered their ninth league setback, a 14-0 decision with Morton West's Falcons.

Prospect scored a pair of runs in the first and second innings in the opener Saturday and held a 4-1 lead after those two frames, but Deerfield fought back.

The Warriors pushed over two in the third and added to their singleton in the first climbed within one run of the Knights. LaRocco settled down after that and proceeded to blank Deerfield over the four final frames while his mates were picking up two more runs.

THE KNIGHTS tallied their first two runs in the first inning on an error, single by Mike Francek, walk, and another base knock by Jerry Locy.

Two more raced across in the second as Tom Cross walked, Tommy Thomas doubled, and Dave Leekley singled.

Prospect punched over its final pair in the sixth with Cross leading things off with a single. A sacrifice and error, Thomas' second hit, and another miscue accounted for the insurance runs.

LaRocco yielded only four hits and fanned five over the seven innings.

Thomas, Francek, and Cross each collected two hits for the winners.

Score by innings:

Deerfield	102 000 0—3 4 4
Prospect	220 002 *—6 8 5

IN THE SECOND game Saturday Deerfield took a 1-0 lead in the second inning but couldn't counter again off the slants of Prospect right hander Bob Hanson.

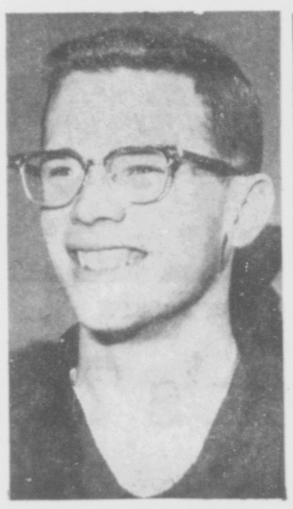
Meanwhile, the Knights tallied single runs in the fourth and sixth and two in the fifth for a 4-1 victory.

Hanson was tough on the mound as he scattered four hits. Bob struck out three and walked four. He didn't allow more than one safety in any frame.

PROSPECT scored its first run in the fourth on a single by Ron Aukamp and error and added two big ones in the fifth on a leadoff single by Chuck Halverson and two more errors.

Francek scampered across with the final run in the sixth after leading off the stanza with a double.

Francek was the Knights' top swinger in the second game too with two hits in three trips to the plate. The two safeties brought Mike over the .400 mark for Interim League action.



BOB HANSON

Score by innings:

Deerfield	010 000 0—1 6 3
Prospect	000 121 *—4 5 3

IN THE OTHER league game last week Morton West exploded with ten runs in the first inning on only four hits and coasted in with a 14-0 victory over Prospect.

It was strictly no contest as the Knights could collect only one hit off the slants of George Geis, a second inning double by Locy.

Geis fanned seven in his superb performance and checked the hitting streak of Leekley that had reached seven games.

Eight Records Fall

Pirates Claim North Suburban Track Title

Palatine applied the finishing touches to a truly amazing athletic year Friday by finally capturing the prize that had twice before narrowly eluded its grasp.

The Pirates withstood the challenges of Zion-Benton and Barrington to walk off with the 1962 North Suburban Conference track and field title.

Coach Ron Helberg's outfit picked off six first place awards and rolled up 61 1/3 points. Zion totaled 52 counters for second place honors followed by the host Bronchos with 50½.

WOODSTOCK pulled up in fourth place with 32 tallies followed by Libertyville (19 5/6), Crystal Lake (6 1/3), Dundee (3) and McHenry (0) in that order.

The North Suburban track trophy will take its place in the Palatine showcase alongside those won in football, cross country, basketball, wrestling and golf during the past school year.

Thanks to excellent co-operation from the weatherman, eight conference records fell by the wayside Friday.

ANDY MERUTKA, Palatine's two-time state champion shot putter, shattered his own record in his specialty. Merutka flipped the 12-pound missle 57-5½, well below his top effort of 62 9¾ recorded at the Palatine Relays April 28.

Merutka additionally provided five points in the discus by winning the event with a throw of 143-2.

Another Pirate who came through when the chips were down was Bill Hartman. Hartman beat Libertyville's John Lashbrook to the tape in the mile and in so doing shattered another conference record.

Hartman covered the mile in 4:34.4, one-tenth of a second faster than Rick Lally's record-breaking time of last year.

HARTMAN'S victory proved to be sweet revenge for the Pirate senior. Lashbrook had beaten Hartman at the DeKalb Relays.

Palatine's crack mile relay squad also added a new meet mark by clipping :03.2 off the old standard. Bob Frost, Ron Frost, Larry Travis and Gene Meyer combined for a 3:29.4 clocking.

Zion's Lee Collins scored a triple with firsts in both the high and low hurdles and in the broad jump. Collins skimmed over the lows in a record :02.1 and then equaled the highs standard of :15.2.

ANOTHER MEET mark was written into the books when Collins leaped 21-11½ to win the broad jump. Placing second behind Collins in the broad jump was teammate Theo Cox.

Cox won two events of his own. After rattling off a :10.1 100, he equaled the record in the 220 with a :22.3 effort.

Theo also anchored Zion's victorious 880-relay squad, which now ranks as the fastest in the conference's history by virtue of its 1:23.4 clocking.

Woodstock's Lane Newman, second behind Cox in the 220, ran away with the quarter in a snappy 50 seconds flat. Newman's time was a full two seconds faster than the record :52 quarter run by Crystal Lake's Al Lhotka last spring.

FOR THE third straight year, the pole vault mark was broken. Libertyville's Tom Thompson did it this time by clearing 12-5 1/8, thus bettering the old record by almost a foot.

The champion Pirates also tied the conference record in the frosh-soph 440 relay. The times of Bob Kukla, Ken Stahl, Bill Peterson and Duane Brooks totaled 46 seconds flat.

Although he fell short of the league record by a mere one-tenth of a second, Pirate Gene Meyer placed first in the half in a snappy 2:00.5.

Dundee Claims Crown

It's official!

Dundee High is the 1962 North Suburban Conference baseball champ.

Coach Howie Schneider's Cardunal's wrapped up the NSC flag last Wednesday by turning back last place Wood stock, 6-0, at Woodstock.

Saving his ace, Gary Peters, in reserve for the regional championship game with Maine East, Schneider went with his number two hurler, Skip Eikelberry, who delivered a nifty four-hit masterpiece.

THE CARDS had been locked in a down-to-the-wire struggle with McHenry and Zion-Benton throughout the season. The Zee-Bees blasted Barrington, 10 2, last Tuesday and still cherished hopes for a tie should Dundee falter at Woodstock.

McHenry, however, absorbed a 4-1 beating at the hands of Crystal Lake and wound up in third place.

Crystal Lake, deposed champion after a lengthy four-year reign, pulled up in fourth place with eight victories in 14 tries. Palatine moved ahead of Barrington into fifth with Libertyville seventh and Woodstock eighth.

Lane, Miller Named To League All-Stars

John Lane and Ray Miller of Arlington High School were named to the 1962 West Suburban All-Conference baseball team announced this week by the league coaches.

Lane, a fast-balling right hander, was one of five pitchers honored on the 14-man squad, and Miller was named to one of three outfield positions. Both boys are seniors.

Twelve seniors and two juniors were named to the 1962 all-stars, including three repeaters from last spring. Making the coveted honor team for the second straight year are Fred Chana of LaGrange, Tom Wingader of Glenbard West, and Wayne Strauch of York High.

GLENBARD West's league champions grabbed the most positions on the 1962 dream team with five. York picked up three slots and LaGrange, Hinsdale, and Arlington claimed two each. Downers Grove, Riverside-Brookfield, and Maine East failed to land any berths.

Rounding out the honor team are Dick Watkins, Dave Palmer, Tom Moeller, and Dale Vicha of Glenbard West; Ed Paquette and Herb Feris of Hinsdale; Gary Stone of LaGrange; and Ken Leppla and Al Malecha of York.

Feris and Vicha are the only two juniors on the squad.

GLENBARD'S WATKINS and LaGrange's Chana head the all-star mound staff with the two boys combining for a 14-4 mark on identical 7-2 standards. Watkins, a transfer student, played a major role in the Hilltoppers' surge to the West Suburban flag and hurled a no-hitter in his first start against Maine East.

Watkins stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 175 and throws from the left side.

Chana, who also earned all-star honors in basketball, is a 6-foot-5, 180-pounder who has been a mound standout for two seasons. He fashioned four shutouts in West Suburban action this spring.

JOHN LANE

RAY MILLER

ARLINGTON'S Lane is a hard worker who has been a mound mainstay for two years for Bob Baker's Cardinals. John received credit for the pitching triumph in four of Arlington's first six league decisions with his top efforts a four-hitter against Downers Grove, three-hitter in a 2-1 loss to Glenbard West, five-hitter against Maine East, and four-hitter against Hinsdale. The 6-foot-1, 180-pounder is a right hander.

York's Leppla was credited with a masterful one-hitter in a 3-1 victory over Arlington and no-hitter against Maine East. He also fired a two-hitter against Riverside - Brookfield and was 4-3 over the season. Ken throws from the right side and packs 205 pounds on his 5-foot-10 frame.

Rounding out the pitching selections is Hinsdale's Paquette, a 6-foot-2, 170-pound left hander who didn't have a winning record but did pitch some creditable baseball for the Red Devils. He whipped Downers Grove on a five-hitter and lost games to Downers, LaGrange, Glenbard West and Riverside-Brookfield in which he yielded a combined total of only 19 safeties.

TWO HARD-HITTING seniors gained the all-star berths behind the plate with Palmer of Glenbard West and Stone of LaGrange. Palmer posted a .325 plate average and Stone hit .333 for the Lions.

Glenbard West's Wingader, an all-league selection in the outfield as a junior, heads the infielders this time around. One of the top hitters in the Chicago area for two seasons, Tom stroked out a brilliant .525 average this spring for the Hilltoppers. He hit .463 as a junior.

Hinsdale's Feris, a heavy-hitting junior who should have an impressive senior year, hit .30 this spring for the Red Devils. Herb is 5-foot-11, and weighs an even 200 and hits from the left side. Glenbard's Moeller and York's Malecha both turned in solid averages of .310 and .362 respectively en route to their all-star selections.

ARLINGTON'S Miller, though sporting a mediocre average, is the type of ballplayer who is a pleasure to coach. A hard worker with an excellent attitude, Miller could be counted on to come up with that clutch play when it was needed the most. Ray didn't gain a lot of headlines, but he was an invaluable member of the Cardinal nine.

Joining Miller in the all-star outfield are Glenbard's Vicha and York's Strauch with Strauch, also an all-stater in football, making the squad for the second time.

Vicha hit .342 over the season and Strauch turned in a fancy .422 mark. Wayne posted a .286 average as a senior and this all-star berth marks his fourth in West Suburban athletics. Strauch earned all-league recognition in both football and baseball for two straight seasons.

Cards Win Two League Tennis Titles; Benson Stops Ivins!

Tennis joined the athletic family in Arlingtn High School in 1952.

Although the school did field a team, it failed to turn in a winning record and interest was lagging.

The building of an acceptable program was an arduous process, but the patience of Ken Schaller, the man behind the "birth" of tennis in the immediate area, has been rewarded by some powerful squads in recent years.

Ninteen hundred and sixty-two will be a year to remember for Schaller and his assistant Rog Steingraber. Last Saturday at York High School in Elmhurst Arlington High School accomplished something that has been done by only one other school in the history of the league.

The varsity triumph checked a seven-year reign by the perenially powerful Hinsdale Red Devils. Arlington now joins Hinsdale, La Grange, Riverside, and York as the only schools able to annex a varsity championship in tennis.

The frosh-soph victory was also the first for Arlington in league circles and the young Cards join Hinsdale, La Grange and York as the only schools winning loop championships.

THE FINAL conference standings are determined both the dual meet records and actual league competition. Arlington's varsity was 7-0 in duals with the frosh-sophs, 6-1. Maine East was the only team able to whip Steingraber's sophs, but Maine slumped in the tourney and wound up third.

Arlington wrapped up one single victory and two doubles triumphs en route to its varsity crown Saturday with Tom Benson's brilliant play in No. 1 singles highlighting the day.

Benson whipped Downers Grove, highly regarded Tony Ivins, 6-2, 6-1 for the first singles crown and thus avenged a 9-7, 6-0 loss to Tony in a previous dual. Ivins had won the West Suburban varsity crown in No. 1 singles as a sophomore and was favored again this spring.

TOM EARNED his shot at Ivins with impressive victories over York's Jimmy Dawson and La Grange's Jay Sikes. Benson stopped Dawson, the all-league basketball player, 6-4, 6-4 in first round play and disposed of Sikes 6-0, 6-3. The victory over Sikes was Tom's second in three meetings with the LaGrange star in 1962.

Ivins advanced to the first singles finals with victories over Burns of Maine and Kissell of Hinsdale. Tony had to go three sets to stop Kissell 6-3, 0-6, 6-2.

Also claiming titles for Arlington were the first doubles team of Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman and second doubles unit of Rick Wollerman and Rusty Walters.

CLOSE and Dave Wollerman whipped Dave Wrisley and Cuyler Berwanger of Hinsdale in the finale 6-3, 6-4 after topping Manwarren and Westergren of Glenbard West in the first round 6-0, 6-0 and Baum and Lewke of La Grange in the semi-finals 6-0, 9-7.

Rick Wollerman and Walters disposed of La Grange's Ray Meadowcraft and Rog Abendroth in the finals 6-1, 6-0. The Arlington combo had won their first match against Maine East 6-4, 6-4 and had dumped Feiler and Arnold of Hinsdale 6-3, 6-2.

Arlington's Jim Jakubiec, playing second singles, won his first match 6-2, 6-3 from La Grange's Lewke but bowed out in the semi-finals 9-7, 6-1 to Lindsay of Hinsdale. Bob Bohac, playing third singles, also won his first match, a 6-4, 6-2 triumph over Glenbard's Fairchild, but Bob was eliminated by Barnard of Hinsdale 6-3, 6-4.

Capturing varsity crowns in singles were Jack Eliason of York in the No. 2 position, and Dave Hill of LaGrange in No.3.

IN THE frosh-soph competition Steingraber's Cardinals wrapped up two singles triumphs thanks to Mirrel Kephart in No. 2 and Pete O'Neil in No. 3.

Kephart whipped Hinsdale's Jim Hart 6-1, 6-4 after advancing to the finals with victories over Jim Euson of La Grange (6-0, 6-0) and Glen Green of Glenbard (6-3, 6-0).

O'Neil needed three sets to handle Hinsdale's Greg Thomas in the finale 6-1, 6-8, and 6-2. Pete had decisioned York's Rog Langile 6-4, 6-0 in the first round and Riverside's Phil Lang 6-1, 6-2 in the semi-finals.

BOB VONBOECKMANN advanced to the finals in first singles before falling to Maine East's Paul Schuwerk 7-5, 6-2. Bob had whipped Glenbard's Jim Pickett 6-1, 6-0 and LaGrange's Bill Blank 6-2, 8-6 in moving to the finals.

In first doubles Greg Inman and Bob Schuldt won two matches but fell in the finals 6-2, 6-3 to Rehm and Johnson of Hinsdale. The Cards' duo had whipped a Riverside entry 6-4, 6-3 and Maine East combo 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

In second doubles Pete Loris and Dave Clough won their first match over Gardner and Stefek of Downers Grove 6-1, 6-2 but lost in the semi-finals to LaGrange 6-4, 6-2.

WILLOWBROOK claimed one championship in the varsity class with Daryl Carey in third singles. Carey whipped Jeff Mandel of Deerfield in the finale 7-5, 6-0.

The Warriors' Dick Broadwell and Morton West's Jim Benson were scheduled to play off their No. 2 singles title match this Monday afternoon but the results were unavailable for publication.

Bob Maramba of Glenbard East picked off the first singles title with a 7-5, 6-4 victory over Dick Schimckrath of Deerfield, and Wheaton's Peterson and Blewitt won first doubles with a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Box and Ash of Deerfield.

Larry whipped Glenbrook's Paul Rode 6-1, 6-1 in his first match and then eliminated Wheaton's Dave Knapp 6-0, 6-4. In the finale Larry, who didn't lose a set this season for Don Arseneau's outfit, bumped Glenbard East's Bob Kostal 6-3, 7-5.

Arlington's Little League

Comets Record 39-7 Victory For Leading Offensive Show

The pitchers took a back seat to the hitters last week in the Arlington Heights Little League.

Although there were some creditable mound performances, including a couple no-hitters, a majority of the diamond encounters saw explosive offensive performances by the young performers.

Eight clubs collected 20 or more runs in winning efforts with the Comets of the Northwest Intermediate division posting 39 in a one-sided 39-7 conquest of the Lancers.

In those wild four innings the Comets collected 38 hits and pushed over 24 runs in the explosive fourth stanza.

IT WAS A big week for the hitters, but the pitchers did have their moments of glory as indicated by the work of the moundsmen in the Northwest Juniors class.

Bob Wilson and Richard Armour of the Astros combined to pitch a no-hitter but still lost a 4-3 decision to the Robins. Tom Bebber of the Owls tossed a no-hitter and also scored the winning run as the Owls bumped the Bisons 3-2 in a game cut short after three frames by rain. Bill Lumpip was tagged with the loss.

The Gophers scored eight runs in the first two innings and then held on for a 12-9 victory over the Astros in another game in the Northwest Juniors

IN THE American League the Athletics scored eight markers in the first inning and coasted in with a 15-5 victory over the Red Sox. Tom McDonald received credit for the victory, fanning six.

Laughlin Sets School Mark In Pole Vault

Bob Laughlin has been flirting with the Arlington High School record in the pole vault all spring.

Last week he finally achieved a new mark.

The senior cleared 11-10 in a dual meet against Maine East to snap the old mark of 11-9 set in 1954 by Dick Michalski. Laughlin's effort wiped off the books one of the oldest records at Arlington. Now only three marks — the shot put, discus, and broad jump—were established prior to 1958.

ALTHOUGH Bob set a new school record, Arlington still went down to a 65-48 defeat in competition with the Blue Demons of Park Ridge. Coach Russ Attis' Cardinals claimed four firsts during the afternoon, two by John Latta in the hurdles.

In addition to Latta and Laughlin, Jim Hendricks posted the other first with a 2:07 clocking in the half-mile. Hendricks also came in with a second in the mile run for eight individual points.

Posting seconds for the Cardinals were sophomore Bill Baumgart in the high and low hurdles, Hendricks in the mile, Tom Tully in the 440 yard dash, Dale Coventry in the shot put, soph Bill Truax in the discus, and Alan MacDonald in the pole vault.

Baumgart also landed thirds in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash to complete a busy afternoon.

Maine boasted three double winners with Kurt Elster in the Lions Stop Cards in Loop Finale

LaGrange's Lions needed two big innings last Thursday afternoon to cement their hold on second place in the West Suburban Conference baseball race and dump Arlington's Cardinals, 8-2.

The hosts scored two runs in the fourth without the aid of a base hit and added six more in an explosive fifth with only three safeties. Overall, Arlington outhit LaGrange 5-4 but couldn't cash in the important column.

The victory boosted La Grange into sole possession of second place in the final league standings for 1962. The Lions posted a 9-5 record, one full game on top of third place York.

ARLINGTON'S Cards finished in a two-way tie with Maine East for fourth place in an unusual conference race that saw only three clubs record winning records. Arlington finished at 6-8.

Arlington's John Lane, an all-league selection, was sailing along on a no-hitter heading into the fourth inning and emerged from that frame with his no-hitter intact but trailing 2-0.

The Lions used four straight walks and a wild pitch for their two runs.

The fifth was a nightmare. Ten batters paraded to the plate and six runs scored. Figuring in the wild fifth were three hits, one a triple by pitcher Bill Lundeen, three walks and two errors.

LANE DEPARTED in favor of Roland (not John as erroneously reported last week) Oberg and Oberg finished up, escaping serious trouble in the final two frames on a yield of only one hit.

In the meantime, Lundeen had little trouble with all the Cards except all-league outfielder Ray Miller and Vince Furlong. Miller rapped out two hits in his diamond finale, and Furlong cashed in with three straight, two singles and a double.

Arlington scored its only two runs in the fourth inning on a leadoff walk to Rog Lindstrom, double by Furlong, and error on a smash off the bat of Joe Wertheimer.

The Cards collected hits in the first, second, fourth, fifth, and sixth but couldn't put any attack together and went down to their 10th defeat in 17 games for the 1962 campaign.

Cardinals' Frosh Top St. Viator, Notre Dame Nines

Arlington High's frosh baseball team rolled past two more opponents last week and hiked its over-all season standard to 9-1.

Coach Bob Rees' "As" blanked St. Viator 4-0 and came back for an explosive 15-5 triumph over Notre Dame. Arlington was slated to conclude its 1962 campaign last Friday against Palatine.

Tom Lundgren went the route and hurled a nifty shutout as the young Cards bumped their neighbors from St. Viator. Lundgren allowed only four St. Viator runners to reach base in tossing a two-hitter.

HOWIE WINKELHAKE contributed a triple, single, and two runs batted in to spark Arlington's offense. Larry Wagner picked up the other safety.

Jim Vidt worked on the mound for St. Viator but wasn't given any support in the field as the Lions committed seven errors over the seven frames.

Score by innings:

ARLINGTON pounded out 14 hits and scored eight runs in the third inning in pounding Notre Dame of Niles 15-5. Rick Hoppe paced the attack with three safeties.

Mike Frase, Larry Wagner, Howie Winkelhake and Kevin Hanick picked up two hits each with Hanick claiming the mound decision. Kevin received relief from Frase.

Arlington Sophs Conclude Slate With 4-10 Record

Arlington High's frosh-soph baseball team recorded a split in its two final West Suburban Conference games for 1962, bumping La Grange but falling to Maine East.

Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's aggregation concluded the campaign with a 4-10 record. The young Cards stopped Riverside twice and also claimed decisions over La Grange and Hinsdale.

Arlington came up with three runs in the fourth inning en route to its 5-3 victory over La Grange. Paul Splittorff again pitched a creditable game, allowing only five hits while striking out four.

The Cards blasted out five extra base hits in one of their top offensive displays of 1962. Mike Frase collected a homer, Jim Ewart and Dick Anderson had triples and Ken Peters and Bob Benavides posted doubles.

Score by innings:

SOUTHPAW Tom Munzel pitched the league champion Maine East nine to an impressive 6-1 victory over Arlington with the little left hander collecting 13 strikeouts.

Maine East finished the conference campaign with 12 victories in 14 games.

The young Blue Demons came up with single runs in the first and fifth and four in the third off the slants of Cardinal right hander Steve Martin.

Arlington scored its only marker in the second frame.

Busy Summer Planned for Legion Nine

"We're going to play a lot of baseball this summer, and everyone will have to keep hustling to keep their jobs. No position is secure right now."

With those words Lolyd Meyer ushered in the American Legion baseball season in Arlington Heights.

Meyer, who will manage the Arlington nine again this summer with assistance from Ken Lane, greeted 25 candidates Saturday at the initial workout. Sixteen from that group will comprise the 1962 aggregation.

MEYER PLANS an extensive schedule for Arlington this summer with approximately 40 games on the docket. The opener will be this Sunday, June 3, at Glen Ellyn.

Arlington will come home, June 6, for another meeting with Glen Ellyn and will host Downers Grove on June 8. Meyer is also trying to work in some other games for that initial week of diamond competition.

The league opener will be staged on June 9 at Mount Prospect.

TEN TEAMS are included in the league this summer. In addition to Arlington and Mount Prospect, other squads will be Park Ridge, Hoffman Estates, Palatine, St. Viator, Holy Cross, Edison Park, Northlake, and Des Plaines.

Only three boys are missing from the 1961 outfit, infielders Bob Hutchinson and Skip Witt and pitcher Greg Beckway. Heading the returnees are John Lane and Ray Miller, recent all-league selections in the West Suburban.

Meyer indicated that there were several younger players who would be in line for starting assignments in the stiff battles for positions.

Trophies Presented in Church League

The Monroe Shock Absorber team captured first place honors in the bowling league from St. Hubert's Church in Hoffman Estates.

Trophies were presented to the winning teams at a recent banquet at Villa Olivia Country Club.

Accepting the team trophy was Art Thorpe backed by team members Roger Buchweitz, Ed Cyrier, Harry Higgins, Ron Barbeau, and Bud Drehobl.

Softball Loop Seeking Teams

Anyone interested in forming a softball team in Hoffman Estates should contact Ken Nelson at LA 9-9721 or Ed Powers at LA 9-1738.

Seven teams already have been formed and participating squads are interested in enlarging the group.

Tight Races Evident in Golf Loops

St. Raymond's Holy Name Golf League has now completed its fourth week of play at the Mount Prospect Country Club and the race has tightened up considerably in both leagues.

In League No. 1, McMahon's moved back into first place after taking nine points from Van Driel's. Safford Stamps continued near the top on the basis of a seven point performance. Thanks to a three point performance by Ron Cherwin, the Illinois Range team moved up from sixth to third place.

In League No. 2, Busse Automotive moved into first place by a slim half point margin over Mt. Prospect Savings & Loan. It looks like a nip and tuck race in this league as only six points separate the first and seventh place teams.

THE TIGHTEST match of the week featured the Ackerman Insurance and Jake's Pizza teams. Of the five individual matches, four of the five medal points were won by a one-stroke margin and the fifth point was tied.

The match play points were even closer as three of the matches were split evenly and the remaining two matches were won on a basis of a one-hole difference. Jake's Pizza emerged victorious from this hectic struggle, winning 8 points to their opponents 4.

Team standings for the week of May 24th are as follows:

LaGrange Trackmen Capture WSC Title

Three records were broken Saturday afternoon as LaGrange swept to the varsity track and field title in the West Suburban Conference with 54 points.

The Lions headed host York High School by nine markers in annexing their third straight varsity cinder championship and ninth in the past 13 years.

Coach Max Armer's entry was sparked by reliable Tom Atkinson who won the 100, broad jump, and anchored the victorious 880-yard relay team for 11¼ individual points.

ATKINSON, state champ in the century, ruled this event with a creditable :10.1 clocking and he sailed 22-9½ for a new mark in the broad jump.

Also setting new records were Mike Waterman of Glenbard West in the mile run and Jim Isaacson of Glenbard West in the 880.

Waterman covered the mile in 4:22.6, breaking the mark of 4:22.8 set by teammate Dave Stineback in 1961. Isaacson clipped off a 1:56.5 clocking in the 880 to snap the record by one-tenth of a second.

Rick Cunningham, another Glenbard West product, held the half-mile record which he established last year.

ARLINGTON High's Cardinals collected only 7 1/3 markers and finished in eighth.

Scoring for Russ Attis' outfit were John Latta with a fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles and 180 yard lows, Jim Hendricks with a fifth in the mile run, Roy Woodruff with a fifth in the discus, and John Burgermeister with a fifth in the broad jump and tie for fifth in the high jump.

Hendricks covered the mile in 4:34.8 to establish a new Arlington High School record in the event. Jim held the old mark of 4:36.4.

OTHER INDIVIDUAL firsts in the meet were collected by Bill Duffy of Downers Grove in the 120 yard high hurdles, Gaylord Morose of York in the lows, Steve Brubaker of Downers Grove in the 440 yard dash, Pete Hambrick of Hinsdale in the 220 yard dash, Doug Elliott and Al Carroll with a tie in the pole vault, Steve Smith of Maine East in the shot put, Grant Johnstone of LaGrange in the high jump, and Cliff Lake of LaGrange in the discus throw.

LaGrange won the 880 yard relay with a snappy 1:31.3 clocking, and Glenbard West headed the mile event in 3:26.1.

Golfers Hot In Friday's Scratch Play

Among a flurry of many excellent competitive match scores it is very difficult to select a match of the evening for the Friday night Old Orchard Scratch League.

In two contests we found match losers with the better score as Bob Reiland's aggregate 37 match-wise was able to upset Bob Sederberg's 36, and Ted Erickson's match winning 38 upset Bob Blessing's 37. Then Shelby Stewart's 37 was only good for a halve against John Keeley's fine 38.

These were only a portion of the fine match games played last Friday but the one match many of these excellent golfers were keeping tab on was between the Kronn clan. Ben Kronn, the number two man of the Neubauer team, was pitted against his son Bob, who likewise was number two man of the league leading number seven team. Their average was within a one stroke difference and as expected they put on a hum-dinger of a show.

EACH GOLFER two putted for pars on the 10th, 11th, and 12th holes but both slipped to bogey's on the long unlucky 13th. Both father and son then played the long 14th and 15th in par five's and easily made pars on the 335 yard 16th.

The match had gone seven holes and neither golfer had won a hole, or gave an inch, but on the 17th after nice drivse each hit the green with their second shot and Ben Kronn two putted from 12 feet for his par while his son Bob, three-putted from 16 feet to lost the one and only hole that decided the match.

The expected match was a fine display of golf and nerves for to halve eight of nine holes in match play is creditable to any golfer scratch or otherwise.

THIS ALSO seemed a good night for the port side swingers for three of the lef thanders put together some of the evening's better scores. Avery Harris, 'the smooth swinging lefty; stroked a one-under 35 on the back nine, while "Big John" St. Germaine came came through again with a par 36, and Dan "Lefty" Musser put together a fine 37 on the front nine.

Avery had three birdies to his credit after making a 25 foot putt on the short 12th, a 40 foot putt on the 540 yard 15th and a 15 foot putt on the 16th after hitting an eight iron to the green.

St. Germaine also birdied the 12th with a 25 foot putt. Other good scoring feats turned in were Bob Blessing's 37 with two birdies, Ted Erickson's 38 with two birdies, Fred Steinken's 37 with a deuce on number 8, Bil Hugo's 37, Ralph Becker's 37, Len Arnold's 35 with a birdie on number 2, Al Greene's 36 and birdies on number 11 and number 14.

IN OUR "Did You Know" department we feature Avery "the smooth lefty" Harris who is current Chicago Sign Association Champ and was Rob Roy Club Champ in 1958 and 1959. The second man featured is Bob Stverak who is current Elk Grove Village Champ (1961) and who played number two man on the Miami University of Ohio golf team of 1953. Bob has also been club champ at the Port Huron Club in Michigan.

Oh yes, our secretary wishes to state that he reached the 18th green (235 yards) with a six iron. Nice shot?

Magnuson's Eagle Highlights Play

Bill Magnuson set the pace Friday night in the Arlington twilight league with an eagle two on the 425-yard seventh hole on the white course. John Andrup was red hot with a low gross of 34 while George Maretick won low net honors with a 30.

Birds were plentiful and the fellows are keeping the league officers busy making awards. J. Andrup had 3; C. Staadt had 2; W. Magnuson, G. Borgeson, W. Appleby, L. Schomburg, G. Maretick, J. Smethurst, G. Fischer, R. Roggatz, and R. Service had one apiece.

Beisler - Griffith Insurance Center maintained their lead but Lauterburg & Oehler and New Emerald Cleaners are rapidly closing the gap. City Welding Sales began their move jumping from eleventh to sixth position. This move pushed Horcher Decorators down to tenth place.

Crest Heating & Air Conditioning drubbed Lohr's Pharmacy which enabled them to move up to seventh place while Lohr's slipped down to eleventh position. Stan's Standard Service won a decisive victory over Harris Pharmacy but this was not enough to effect the standings of the two teams. Arlington Structural Steel remains in third place just two and one half points behind the league leaders.

The teams are shaping up and it appears that this will be another close race for the top three positions.

Arlington Frosh Conclude Banner Season with Wins

Arlington High School concluded one of its most successful frosh baseball seasons in history last Friday afternoon with a pair of victories over Palatine.

Coach Bob Rees' "As" needed nine innings but they still racked up a 9-8 triumph for their tenth decision in 11 outings this season. Art Brownell's "Bs" fashioned their second victory in three games with a 9-3 conquest.

gave Palatine seven unearned runs in the "A" contest, but the defense tightened to support Mike Frase in the late innings.

Frase came on to pitch 4 1/3 innings of relief and strike out seven batters to get the win. Blyth was tagged with the loss.

Bob Benavides slammed a homer, Frase a triple, and Rick Hoppe a double for Arlington's big hits.

Score by innings:

Arlington	011 240 001—9-8-6
Palatine	000 503 000—8-5-3

THE "B" contest took on added significance when it served as the 2200th victory in Wally Grace's 17 years as athletic director at Arlington High School. The "B" contest was concluded before the "A" game to "beat the clock" for the coveted triumph.

Bob Prucha didn't allow any earned runs in picking up the mound triumph for the Cards. Arlington got out of a serious jam in the third when Palatine's Fetter lifted a fly ball with the bases loaded that turned into a double play.

Gary Clemens of Arlington was on base every time up with a walk, two singles, and triple. He batted in three runs and scored two himself. Jimmy Potter and Don Kirchoff also enjoyed perfect days at the plate.

Hard and Bastian worked for Palatine with Bastian absorbing the setback.

Score by innings:

Lions Fall To Cards' Golf Squad

Arlington High's varsity golfers picked up their fourth West Suburban Conference victory last Thursday afternoon with a one-stroke, 333-334 decision over LaGrange.

The Lions bounced back in the younger class with a 350-357 triumph over the frosh-soph Cardinals.

Ken Seeger fired an 81 at Golden Acres for medalist honors in the varsity division and Fred Devin's 86 paced the frosh-sophs.

Also figuring in the Cardinals' varsity total were the scores of Doug Wiborg, Mike Heyl, and Jerry Peterson.

Arlington carried a 4-3 varsity record and 3-4 frosh-soph standard into the conference tournament Tuesday of this week at Acacia Country Club.

Hoffman BRL Opens Season

The Yanks and Pirates, pacesetters in the Hoffman Estates Babe Ruth League last summer, squared off Wednesday evening in the 1962 season inaugural.

Other Hoffman BRL contests scheduled for the first week of play are as follows:

Thursday—Cubs vs. Dodgers
Friday—Sox vs. Braves
Monday—Yankees vs. Sox
Tuesday—Braves Dodgers
Wednesdayl — Yankees vs. Braves.

Serving as managers for the six teams this summer are Harry Petke (Yankees), Jim Parr (Cubs), Ted Gluck (Sox), Buz Hedlund (Braves), Don Totten (Dodgers) and Dick Beck (Pirates).

Niles East Freshman Triumph

Trailing, 12-11, at the conclusion of four hectic innings, Niles East rallied for seven runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and rolled to a 21-13 victory over Palatine in a freshman baseball game at Skokie last Thursday.

The Suburban League Trojans slapped out only one more hit than the Pirates, but 18 Palatine walks spelled the difference in the game.

Knocking in two Pirate runs with three hits was Ricky Haggard. Haggard picked up two of those safeties during Palatine's nine-run fourth frame.

Seth Harkins banged in four Palatine tallies with two hits. Also collecting two hits each for the Pirates were Dave Blyth, Steve Applehans and Bill Swingley.

St. Raymond's Women's Golf

"Get Acquainted Day" will be scheduled for the St. Raymond's Women's Golf League on their first day of play on June 1 at the Mount Prospect Country Club.

Twelve teams, consisting of 48 women, will be playing match play during the season. The first day of competitive play will be June 15 after which a buffet luncheon will be served in the club-house.

Ken Guthrie Paces Dairy To 3rd Slot

Rodewald Farms Dairy leaped from 10th place to a third place tie in the Rob Roy Tuesday league aided by the spectacular play of a newcomer, Ken Guthrie, who shot a sub par round of 35-4—31 on the back nine. Ken was playing for league secretary, John Smith, in the No. 2 slot and this sharp-shooting alternate may be a new troublesome customer when he attains his regular status.

Bob Lee, No. 1 man, of the same team, carded a 37-2—35 to win his match for a fine supporting effort to the team low net and gross total.

Kelter Realty clung to first place by the narrow margin of one point due partly to the steady play of Bob Hornbostel who tied opposing No. 2 man, Adams Serbins with a 37-4-33 to Serbins 38-5-33.

BERNEY MAGNESON was the big gun in Gunnell's Restaurant 5½ to 1½ victory over L-Nor Cleaners. Berney shot a two over par 37-5-32 to take low net honors for the match and firmly entrench the restaurant team in second place only one point behind the leaders.

Rand Henry Sunoco Station walloped Weber Paint to climb from 8th to 3rd place tie with Tony Schenk providing the fireworks by clubbing through the back nine for a 40-7-33 victory over his No. 3 man opponent, Len Dunteman.

In the battle between Prospect Heights Service Station and Ray Statz and Associates Walt Fill took low net honors with 39-5-34 to snatch two of the three points for the Service Station.

Bill Collins proved that last week's net 31 was no fluke by coming through with another well played round of 40-7-33 to top the alternate players.

Arlington Camera and F.B.K. Realtors shared second place after recording 8-3 and 7-5 victories over the Esquire Barber Shop and Mell and Paul's Drive-in. Stan Grabarek and Ed Pool carded 35 nets to pace the cameramen, while Ken Sophie with a 33 and Dudley Hartman with 34 led the Realtors.

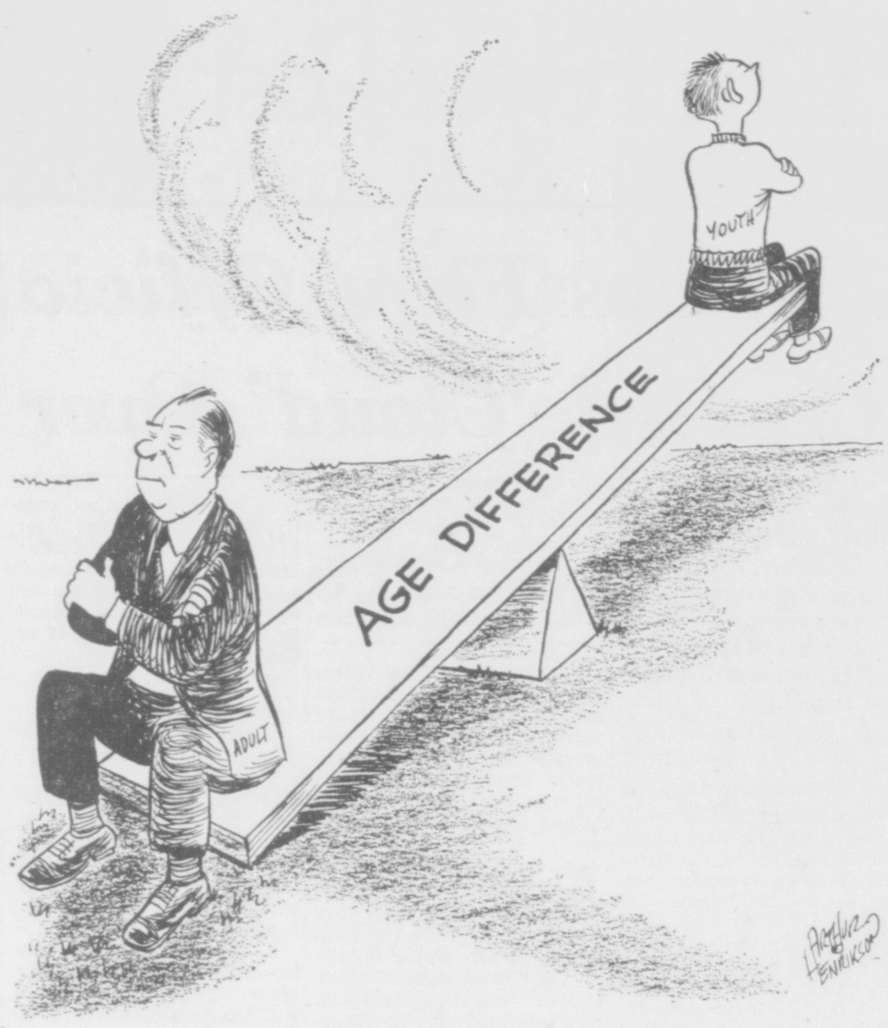
. . . And Never the Twain Shall Meet?



The Way We See It

Community Neglects Problems of Teens

"'Oh, why did you do it?' She meant why did I get the ax again. It made me sort of sad, the way she said it.

"'Oh, Phoebe, don't ask me. I'm sick of everybody asking me that,' I said. 'A million reasons why. It was one of the worst schools I ever went to. It was full of phonies.'" — Holden Caulfield, in "The Catcher in the Rye."

Perhaps the great gulf that separates teenagers and adults can be traced in part to the disparity between the ideal and the real, and the teenager's discovery of it.

This often comes as a shock of recognition when youth encounters an adult world paying lip service to the ideal and practicing something else. In short, being phony, hypocritical.

Author J. D. Salinger spotlighted this deficiency in "The Catcher in the Rye." It is Salinger who seems to speak the teenagers' language, argue their causes and address their aspirations, as Thomas Wolfe, Ernest Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald did for previous generations.

In fact, a speaker at the Rolling Meadows Mayor's City-Wide Conference on Youth, staged May 19 by the Rolling Meadows Police Juvenile Advisory Commission, said "The Catcher in the Rye" should be recommended reading for parents.

The conference itself appears an effective way of discovering some of the problems and hopes of today's youth. It employed the direct approach; it asked teenagers to speak.

Panels were composed not only of juvenile experts and concerned parents but teens themselves. A recurring theme was lack of physical facilities — someplace for them to go. This is a familiar complaint not only in the newer communities springing up in the northwest suburbs but in some of the older ones as well.

There were other concerns expressed, however, of a more intangible but just as important nature. A slim turnout prompted one teenage girl to say: "I had expected more people. You people are all here because you are interested. But where are the rest?" The question of parental indifference is one that should be answered but seldom is.

Another youth complained about the maintenance of double standards; one for teens, another for adults. "How can adults sit and smoke excessively while telling a teen not to smoke? It only makes youngsters want to smoke to become more adult."

Other speakers suggested that a lack of communication, or the use of different languages, could be cited as reasons why the two groups were so removed from each other's particular points of view. But the teenagers showed as much of an awareness of their problems as the experts. One could conclude from this that parents must not only learn how to communicate with their children; they must also learn to listen to them.

Realizing that the problem of juvenile delinquency is present, the city of Rolling Meadows is meeting it. Through its Police Juvenile Advisory Commission it offers counseling to youngsters — pre-delinquents — referred by school authorities through the police department.

Officials of Palatine have called two meetings to determine if a youth problem exists in their community, and if so, what steps they can take to correct it. It would seem the reasonable course for each of the communities in the northwest suburbs to ask this question and then attempt to provide answers toward the solution of those problems uncovered. Because of this age group's mobility, the delinquency of one community can quickly be transferred to another locale. Therefore, it would appear important that each community know the problems of its neighbors in order to work in more harmony than now exists on such matters.

Aside for providing guidance, resources and models of excellence, however, there is also the danger that parents will try to do too much. A panel of youngsters at the conference commented that they do not want to be "organized to death."

There has to be a mutual respect. An educator at the meeting saw one of the causes of juvenile delinquency stemming from adults not respecting children. With this withdrawal of favor goes a concurrent loss on the child's part of self-respect.

What is needed above all was summarized by John Troike, chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission, who told the assembly: "You must see God, your fellow man and tomorrow in every one of these kids."

Behind Closed Doors

It is puzzling — and distressing — that the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Board of Education called a secret session in order to discuss selection of a candidate to a vacancy on its board.

There are two areas in which state law permits public agencies to meet in private: when hiring or firing personnel or in acquistion of property.

In the situation in which the Wheeling board found itself, it was interviewing three candidates for a position usually decided by the public in a voting booth. When candidates run for public office, they usually are anxious to present their qualification to the public. We fail to see how the fact that candidates were to be selected by the board for an unexpired term of office somehow — suddenly — made the matter a private decision.

The Wheeling board first wanted to interview the candidates in seclusion, but were thwarted when a reporter refused to leave the room. Board members then compounded their error by calling a secret meeting at which they would make their choice of candidates on the basis of the interviews.

We suggest the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove (District 21) school board read the state laws governing secret meetings.

'Little Guy' Gets Socked

by BRUCE LADD
Associate Editor

No wonder the State of Illinois is facing a financial crisis.

The idiocy of tax assessment in the state is symbolized by a local rule of thumb which says a man owning an automobile more than five years old is exempt from paying personal property tax.

Tax assessors in many suburban townships determine the amount of a man's personal property tax bill by looking at the age of his car. If the car is new, the owner gets socked. It it's old, the chances are no bill is issued.

LADD

Let's look at a couple of examples.

Mr. Money Bags owns a $50,000 house, has it stuffed with picture window furniture, and generally lives high on the hog. Does he pay his way? No, sir. He's a sharpie. The only vehicle in the two-car garage is a 1956 model. No personal property tax bill for Mr. Bags.

JUST DOWN the block, living on the third floor of a rent - high apartment building, we find Mr. Poor Guy. He keeps the wife and two kids going on a $6,500 annual income, owns just enough hand-me-down furniture to fill three rooms, and will be paying the money institution for the next several years on his 1961 compact auto.

You guessed it. Mr. Poor Guy gets a personal property tax bill fit for a king. And he's probably honest and fool enough to pay it.

The bulk of personal property tax dollars goes to school districts. That's why, until the Kerner-promised state revenue overhaul comes, suburbanites should pay up.

THE ONLY thing more criminal than the personal property tax mess is the refusal of the big boys in the county building to give suburban tax assessors additional personnel so that all real estate properties get onto the tax rolls.

The Wheeling Township assessor reports his pleas for assistance have twice been rejected. It's all a part of the big picture.

In another vein, we have two nominations for the "Nursery Tale (Falsehood) of the Week." They are as follows:

—A suburban police chief says "I dunno" when asked the details of an accident involving an auto driven by a 16-year-old girl. The car went out of control, rammed into gasoline pumps at a filling station, and nearly caused a tragedy.

— A suburban politician (Democrat) says he was unaware of the political affiliation of a man (Democrat) he asked the county judge (Democrat) to appoint as a fire district trustee.

A grassroots example of the military's exorbitant spending might be of interest to Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., a strong critic of waste in defense appropriations. It goes on right here at home, in Illinois.

IN FACT, some local officials have attended so many "special previews of the latest developments in . . . defense" that they're about to be made honorary freeloaders.

Propagandizing by local military leaders goes like this. Under the guise of "informing" the public, the militarists work up "tours," "inspections," and "briefing sessions." Naturally, the deal involves lunch (Filet Mignon or French Fried Shrimp was the choice on the latest menu).

Then there's a bus trip. Sometimes there are airplane rides. Always there are several star-studded military men "hosting" the select group of guests (usually the same people).

My question? Who pays for all this. You bet. The federal government, that omnipotent, resource-rich body with so much money (yours and mine) that it's spent like it's going out of style. Of course, military people chalk it off to "public relations" or "public information." And who cares?

CLOSING NOTE: Let the guys who want to abolish the township form of government come up with a plan better than turning over all township duties and services to the Morrison Hotel gang. Then we'll listen to them.

At Taxpayers' Expense:

Political 'Images'

by DICK HOFFMANN
Associate Editor

Tax supported institutions, as everyone from Barry Goldwater to the snip in sixth grade history knows, love to spend money. Since they don't have to answer to stockholders, a board of directors, a battery of accountants and Mr. Miser, president of Penny-Pinching, Ltd., they can indulge their passion with impunity.

With the growth of public relations and all the agonizing over "images," their delight in burdening the public with cancelled checks is becoming unbounded.

HOFFMANN

In increasing numbers, in brochure, book, pamphlet, and mimeographed form, public agencies are grinding out advertisements to themselves.

For instance, the House of Correction of the city of Chicago has published an annual report for 1961 which is resplendent in a slick jacketed cover, a profusion of photographs and fancy body type. It appears to represent a tidy printing sum. This is the institution—the Bridewell—whose infamy was splashed in headlines during the period just prior to the annual report, and whose treatment of inmates was about as up-to-date as leg irons.

ALL OF THE photographs in the report portray spotless cells and dining areas, jolly security chiefs, smiling inmates and sparkling buildings. The text is studded with praise for the place. This is all to be expected, I suppose, but in light of some of the disclosures about the jail, one might suspect that some of the money expended on this glowing report could have been better spent for the care of the Bridewell's wards.

Perhaps it would have been more beneficial to these confinees and society if the taxpayer's payroll had been used to make a study of why these prisoners were where they were. Through such sociological observances we may be able to cut down our prison population to the point where it could prove a blessing to taxpayers and recalcitrants alike.

If we begin to examine causes of crime instead of crowing about the old-fashioned cures (lock 'em up), we might be able to make the words which grace the cover of the Bridewell's annual report—"Where Rehabilitation and Character Guidance Is Foremost"—have more than a hollow ring to them.

BUT THIS disparity between word and deed is just as apparent when one consults the shiny literature of "The Seventh Wonder of American Engineering," the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

The wonder to me is how this scandal - infested institution has survived its outrageous current history. Its illustrious literature, with its nonchalant trustees who always greet you with a grin from the foreword page, is chuck full of costly cuts, maps and testimonies to the vast contributions rendered by the trustees and the district.

I suggest these casual folk stop reading these tributes to their genius and start considering the chapters of greed, corruption and collusion which unfold daily in Chicago's newspapers.

THE COOK County Department of Public Health also has a gaudy annual report whose pages consist mostly of large engravings of contented children and dedicated doctors, with a few vital statistics scattered around the pictorial review.

Gambling-shy Sheriff Frank Sain, who once had to be wary lest he stumble across an infraction of the law in unincorporated Cook County, has now brought the substantial weight of his office to bear on a hitherto unknown problem of law enforcement.

A brochure bearing his signature has been issued to explain the curfew law passed a short time ago to cover his zone of influence. Having found his cause, Sheriff Sain has engaged it with a directness of purpose comparable to the fellow who tilted with windmills. Teenagers will no doubt respect the upholders of this law—even if the upholders can't find the clandestine gambling dens whose locations are periodically diagrammed in the newspapers.

BUT WHY should the taxpayer fret over a few inconsistencies in the manner in which officials conduct the operation of public institutions? After all, we have their professional (if somewhat costly) publications to reassure us that all is well.

A Simple Honorable Man

In Quiet Service: Dignity

by MARTIN E. MARTY

"A Simple Honorable Man" is the title of Conrad Richter's newest novel (Knopf, $4.50) and it is the story of a simple, honorable man. I have trouble believ- that such a novel exists today. You can leave it around the house and let children pick it up. Local censorship committees will find it thoroughly boring — nothing to entertain them at all is in it. No bedroom scenes, no murders of consequence. Yet the book will be well received by the public, and it deserves to be.

MARTY

Conrad Richter comes armed with excellent credentials. He has won a Pulitzer Prize, the awards of the Societies of Libraries of New York University and, in 1960, the National Book Award for fiction. He does not seem to care which blood, sex, or violence schools of writing are in vogue. He just goes about his business. Not much happens in the story of a simple, honorable man — yet the reader finds himself eagerly following the fictional biography to its climax and summary.

THE MAN in question is a clergyman, a Pennsylvanian who comes to his calling in the middle of life. Much of the story is told from the viewpoint of a son who watches the changes in his father and only at the end of the father's life makes sense of the real dignity involved in the quiet service of others; the others in this sense are the officially unimportant coal-miners of Pennsylvania.

Again and again the books gives the reader cause as he sees how the world of matter-of-fact and the world of churchly language clash.

Try this sample: the son overhears his middle-aged father 'rehearsing for his first Baptism. The father's voice said: "This child is by nature corrupt and depraved through sin. . ." "The boy turned and fled downstairs out into the clean air free from death and condemnation. . . Here he could shut out the incomprehensible words from his ear but not the sound of his father's voice or the sight of him sitting there . . . Never before today had the boy heard his father call anyone corrupt and depraved, let alone a small child. Why, he had always made a fuss over children . . . How could a little black book do this to a man?"

THE PORTRAIT of the patients minister's wife, the loneliness of his children, his own tensions between serenity and despair, the sequence of events by which his life became ever more involved with the people around him, the ordinariness of so much human existence, the local color, the behind-the-scenes view of the ministry in a time when there was less publicity and hoopla surrounding so many of its programs, the concern to make sense of human existence and to point beyond it; these are the memories that one carries away from a simple, honorable book.

Only late does one discover that neither the man nor the book, honorable as they are, are really simple. There are depths to both that few of us take time to reach.

Scrutiny of Local Courts Is Urged

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier Saturday urged Illinois newspapers to keep a close watch on local courts and law enforcement authorities in connection with drivers who have or should have their licenses revoked.

Speaking to the annual meeting of the Illinois United Press International editors, Carpentier said vigilance at the local level can cut traffic fatalities.

"IF A REPORTER finds that there were 100 arrests, 85 convictions but only 20 reports sent to us, it is time for the newspaper to ask that judge a few questions," Carpentier said. "By his failure to report all convictions, he is undoubtedly permitting some persons whose driver licenses should be revoked or suspended to continue driving."

Carpentier also said law enforcement officials have a prime responsibility to keep drivers with suspended or revoked licenses off the roads.

"It makes no difference how stiff the penalty is if the people who persist in driving after that action are not arrested and convicted," he said.

Aged Problems Belong to All

At the risk of being tagged a "sob sister" I would like to comment on the views of William D. North on his dislike of your series of articles titled "These Lonely Rooms" which he believes to be written by "sob sisters."

In these days when more and more people are living longer this problem of how to care for the aged is becoming more acute. Even if many try to save a little and hold down on the money spent on entertainment, travel, liquor, tobacco, horses, cars and pleasures; an expensive operation and prolonged hospital stay can quickly dissipate all savings. Should these old people be taught a lesson by being jammed into crowded rest homes away from the prying investigating eyes of "sob sisters"? How often have you heard of the arguments between the children of these infirm old people as to who will take the "old man next" or who isn't paying his share of support? I believe it is society's problem to see that these conditions are corrected.

I BELIEVE that if millions can be spent without question for machines of war and destruction, someway can be discovered to take care of the aged. The social security law was thought by many to give the government too much control over a person's life but ask the old widows of husbands who were never included under social security their opinions on this help in old age.

I believe the disclosures of the plight of these old and neglected people were very well written and photographed and may be of help in arousing public interest in improving on such conditions. I believe Congress passing of the Medicare bill would be a big step forward.

Report on Aged 'Magnificent'

The articles and photographic displays in your report on the aged of Illinois are magnificent. It is encouraging, indeed, to find a newspaper giving leadership in setting forth the true dimensions of our pressing social problems.

I am sure the series must have had tremendous impact and I hope it can gain wider reading—even beyond the communities in which the Paddock newspapers are circulated.

James Cain Novel Dull, Unimportant

MIGNON, by James M. Cain. Dial Press. 246 pages. $4.50.

Well. Cain's written another book. Researched thoroughly, he says, so he can write with authority. Takes place during the Civil War and its about Bill Cresap, vet with a game leg, and Mignon Fournet, pretty little widow who likes the long green and gives out her favors a little freely. Nice girl though, kind of.

CRESAP GETS involved and falls for Mignon, who talks sometimes like a gal who's been around Rush street a night or two. Falls for her bad. Hook-line-sinker falls for her.

Gusty little guy, you can tell, and smart except when it involves Mignon. She gets him in a lot of trouble. Dialogues pretty lousy in this book, not like Hemingway stuff. Cain doesn't like Hemingway. Said so in a recent interview.

At least he said that Hemingway didn't do research; said it couldn't have happened the way Henmingway said in the "Old Man and the Sea." I'll still take Hemingway.—J.D.

Citizen Angry At Community

I came home tonight angry and ashamed. I sat in my comfortable chair and reflected that back through the years I have been taught to believe that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

When I fought in the front lines in Europe I was told that I was defending the rights of man to freedom of speech and freedom from the oppression of a dictator, a despot who held that because of an accident of birth certain individuals were non Aryans and mankind had to be purged by the wholesale execution of these people who were different. I was defending the bill of rights which we felt should be a bill of rights for all peoples.

IN OUR AMERICAN universities I was taught to respect the contributions of men of all nations, of Newton and Gallileo, Thomas Acquinas, Aristotle, Shakespeare and Enrico Fermi. I was taught that men of letters fall into no class or creed. Our postwar press told me of the many fine things we did with the money I was to pay in the form of taxes.

We Americans were using our wealth to feed the hungry of less fortunate nations. We were bringing their talented students to the United States to train them so that they might return to their peoples and in this way we cast bread upon the waters so that they might help in this task of alleviating the poverty and misery of mankind. My wife and I have been fortunate in meeting such an individual—a gentleman from India who recently was awarded a doctorate in one of the medical sciences from an American university.

This exchange visitor from India is a talented student who was assisted in his education by our state department so that he might profit by both our educational system and his contact with our people and return to his native India to be a good will ambassador who will spread tidings of our wonderful country to his people.

As a sequel to this formal training our guest is currently engaged in research with one of our groups of American scientists. During the next year or so he is to learn more of our research methods and perhaps get to know our people more intimately.

MY GREAT JOY in seeing our democratic system in action has turned to shame. Our northwest suburban communities have refused this scientist the opportunity of living within our midst because he is a foreigner and his skin happens to be one shade darker than mine. True, these refusals to rent an apartment to our guest from India were made by individuals, but do not individuals make a community?

My letter to you is written in shame that a community of which I am a part, a community which insists that its children be taught the Bill of Rights, that the declaration of independence hang in a hallowed position in our public places, a community which insists that its children memorize the Gettysburg address should illustrate by its action that "these truths which we hold self evident" are but a figure behind which we bask in our vainglorious hypocrisy. Is the inscription on the Statue of Liberty—

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,
Send these the homeless, tempest tossed, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

really the expression of the conscience of our people? people?

Is it not time that we who speak of these great principles should begin to practice them?

Utilities Firm Official Has Created 'Cloud' Over Issue

I have had the opportunity of personally becoming acquainted with the utility problems faced by the residents of Hoffman Estates.

Therefore, I cannot in good conscience refrain from publicly responding to certain statements made by Mr. Isher Jacobson, vice president of Citizens and Suburban Utilities, which appeared in May 17 edition of the Hoffman Herald.

Mr. Jacobson asserts that the rates are lower in Hoffman Estates than they are in other communities served by private utility companies such as Citizens. That is hardly the issue. It seems to me the question is; are the residents of Hoffman Estates receiving compelte utility services for as low a rate as they would if they owned their own utility system. If the rate for 21,000 gallons of water over a three month period in Hoffman Estates is $25.35 and is $9.24 in Des Plaines where the residents own their own utility company, the answer is obvious.

I BELIEVE Mr. Jacobson has created somewhat of a gray cloud over the acquisition of the utilities in Hoffman Estates, by his statement that, utilities such as in Hoffman are purchased by competitive bid or by prior arrangement between the builder and Citizens. The builder of Hoffman Estates has dedicated a good percentage of his life to developing areas such as Hoffman Estates and I do not believe it proper to create an inference that the builder of Hoffman Estates may have had any preconceived agreement with Citizens which may have contributed to these high utility rates.

Mr. Jacobsons' statement that Citizens does a better job than the Village would do because their employes work harder is neither founded in fact or logic. The employes of the Village of Hoffman Estates do the job they are paid for and are residents of the area. There is every reason to believe that the employes of the utility company if owned by the Village would be from the area. It is certainly reasonable to assume that employes, who themselves are served by their own efforts will exert maximum effort. If the Village owned the utilities the residents acting through their elected village officers would have greater control over the employes which would result in better service. People are served best who are served by each other.

Mr. Jacobsons' personal attack upon the Village Board of Hoffman Estates is, in my opinion, in bad taste. His assertion that ownership of the utilities by the Village makes Village officials "big shots" and that they will deny water to individuals in order to obtain their wishes, is slanderous, to say the least.

THE VILLAGE Board of Hoffman Estates has waged a relentless battle to condemn Citizens and Suburban since they took office and have not relented once in their determination to bring ownership of these utilities into the hands of the residents of Hoffman Estates. They are the servants of the residents of Hoffman Estates and there certainly has been complete support of their efforts by the people they represent. The Village officials control every service in the Village and there has been no evidence of the withholding of any service in order to obtain their wishes. This is a preposterous accusation and unless it is substantiated by Mr. Jacobson it should be withdrawn.

I believe Mr. Jacobsons' statement that "Citizens does not even begin to charge what the traffic will bear" only proves his lack of familiarity with the economic status of the residents of Hoffman Estates. I cannot find a family in Hoffman Estates that does not believe their utility bills are exorbitant and not in keeping with the average income. Mr. Jacobson should keep in mind that the people of Hoffman Estates are hard working young people, struggling to raise a family on fixed incomes.

Citizens is not serving the estates of the Connecticut countryside, but the average American family in Hoffman Estates, and their utility rates are in excess of what the traffic can bear, and that is why the traffic has taken the course of action it has.

School-Church Issue Raised

The Northwest Suburbs Committee of Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State (POAU), representing citizens in the ten northwest suburban communities, and particularly those many members residing in School District No. 214, protest the pressure recently thrust upon the Arlington-Prospect High School Board by parents and clergymen from local churches.

A public school board is chosen to operate a public educational program. That program is not to be made subservient to any religious, sectarian program. For the delegation from Roman Catholic Churches to insist, as on April 30, that the children of one faith are to receive special excused absences for religious services is to violate the sanctity of a public institution. It transgresses the law of church-state separation. It demands that board members deviate from the best interests of their own responsibilities and adjust public policy to serve sectarian desires. And it sets a dangerous pattern for future policies.

IT WAS stated in the board meeting by a prominent clergyman that absences from public school classes is an incentive for students of its faith to attend the church's services. We point out that public schools exist to educate, not to furnish regimented absence which clergymen may use as an incentive to secure attendance at their services. Moreover, Msgr. Lawrence Lynch stated that the church's "Days of Recollection" could be held on days that do not conflict with the school schedule.

The board is to be commended for refusing to settle this matter upon this one incident. We urge the committee to uphold the best interests of the public schools and the Constitution of the United States. This, we believe, calls for separation from domination by sectarian interests.

School Support By Press Vital

At a time when many individuals are opposed to tax increases for any reasons whatsoever, it was gratifying to see Paddock Publications present the complete story of the program of High School District 214 for the fourth high school in Wheeling in your recent issues. The High School District 214, under the administration of Harold Slichenmyer and the Board of Education, adopted a plan several years ago to continue to provide education at the highest possible level of excellence for all students in the district even though the population increases have been tremendous. The cost of this program has, indeed, been moderate.

This is a complete program developed in advance to solve the problems of high school education in the district. The fourth high school is just one segment of the program. Since each portion must be financed through bond issues, the voting public is given an opportunity to express its approval or disapproval of each segment.

WE HOPE you will continue to furnish your readers information on this excellent plan. May we remind you that many citizens are not aware that the High School District 214 is a complete and separate entity from all of the Elementary School Districts, all of the various Village and Township organizations.

Therefore, your role in presenting the facts has been very vital to the success of the plan. It will be even more important in the future to insure its successful completion. Excellent high school education is a benefit to all, whether we are considering the best training for our children or whether we have no other interest in the community than keeping the dollar value of our homes at a high level.

Reader Offers Helpful Comment

1. Please grow up and have page numbers and date at upper outside corner of each page. It is maddening trying to find anything in your paper.

2. Why can't you limit number of words in letters to the editors? Almost all papers do — and 200 words should be ample in most cases. We in Arlington do not care to read a 10 inch or 15 inch story by someone in Wood Dale complaining abour their library — nor do we care to read rambling attacks by people in Arlington.

You often mention the high cost of newsprint. This is a very good place to cut expenses — certainly the Fence Post is one of your most interesting features, but not rambling on and on.

3. AS FOR these so-called reports in depth — a little brevity there could add interest. We do not have time to read articles of magazine length in a newspaper.

4. I almost cancelled my subcribtion because of the obvious trend of the paper politically. This is still a Republican community. I do not go along at all with your moving to the left. One wonders why he should pay a higher price for a paper which has greatly increased its advertising space (thus bringing in more revenue). and then when you are showing more and more socialistic tendencies in your long, long stories, it's hard to decide in favor of renewing the subscription.

YOU PROBABLY wonder why I don't drop the paper. Since my son needs information about local activities, I continue.

Incidentally, Bob Frisk has done an outstanding job as has Mrs Scott—not so your new editor. Betty Ainslie's columns are very good.

Dunes Crusade Is Commended

I must commend your recent editorials supporting Sen. Douglas' fight to save the Indiana Dunes area. I was a citizen of Indiana until recently, when my husband's occupation made a move to Illinois necessary. I therefore, am familiar with the politicians who are opposing the Senator's efforts. It is very hard for me to understand the position they have taken—putting the wants of a steel company above the needs of the citizens of Indiana and surrounding states.

To those unfamiliar with the Dunes area, it is a land of irreplaceable beauty and grandeur. The beaches are of glistening white sand and the dunes themselves form a tower against the sky.

EACH TIME we return to this area we find that more and more of this land has become privately owned. Luxury homes are built with no trespassing signs on the beaches. Now we find big industry wishing to destroy much of the remaining area.

Sen. Douglas realizes, as it behooves us to do, that as the population increases our recreation areas are decreasing. In a few short years we will be vainly seeking a place to swim, to lie in the sun, a place where our children can "build castles in the sand," an area which can offer nature hikes, a quiet area to sip of nature at her best. The Dunes offer all of this.

We must get behind Sen. Douglas' effort to save the dunes before it is too late. Write to President Kennedy. Tell him you want this lovely portion of America saved for your children and grandchildren.

There is nothing more relaxing, more enjoyable for the whole family, than a day at the Dunes. I know, I've been there.

Series Praised By Aid Director

I want to congratulate Charles Hayes and Larry Cameron on "These Lonely Rooms," your recent fine series of articles on the aged of Illinois. I would like to commend them particularly for their excellent analysis of the problems of the aged and their forthright recommendations for concerted community action to which I say a hearty "amen."

I remember your earlier series on "The Shame of the Suburbs" covering the plight of Mexican migrants and the penetrating presentation in 1960 of "The Poor," for which my staff and I had the pleasure of working with your reporter.

In my opinion, such articles are in the highest journalistic tradition of informing public opinion. In public welfare we have found that public knowledge of social ills leads to public indignation and public action.

I hope that the sad facts about our aged population which you have so ably presented will have the same results.

Graham Praises Youth Meeting

I am attaching a copy of a letter directed to the Mayor of Rolling Meadows, and thought that it might have some merit in an attempt to help stimulate some interest in this field.

"I would like at this time to congratulate you, all interested organizations, and people who have displayed an interest in the problem of the youth of our country. The forum recently held is an indication of the continuing interest in this matter.

"It has been my privilege in the past to visit with you, Chief Campbell, and others who have contributed so much to the perpetuation of this very worth while program. I am sure that the entire area will join with me in this expression of gratitude.

"During the past four years it has been one of my assignments to associate myself with the Illinois Youth Commission, and am now as you no doubt know acting as Chairman of the legislature sub-committee to visit all penal institutions in the state and make recommendations for capital improvements general procedure, changes in the law with regard to operation, paroles, and rehabilitation. If at any time I can be of assistance please feel free to call upon me.

"My compliments again for taking a very important step in the right direction, and best wishes for the continued success."

News Coverage Is Criticized

Quite aside from the merits of the "excused — unexcused" absence issue, which will undoubtedly and properly be discussed by others in the Fence post, another question troubles this resident.

Why does the Herald present stories like this in a way calculated to bring out the worst in both parties to a controversy? Responsible journalism calls not only for straight reporting of facts, which was supplied in the story to be sure, but presentation of stories in such a way as not to incite to riot. If it was the intent of the Herald to alert parents that their rights were being threatened, this would still have been a questionable mode of presentation. One doubts this good intent.

HEADLINING and frontpaging a so-called "Church-School" issue calls forth prejudice and fear on the part of all people. It will be surprising if reprisals, blind reprisals against an unknown, misunderstood attacker, are not sought by irate individual voters whose judgement is clouded by the manner of handling this story. It will be amazing if parents who have not found it necessary to ask time off for their children for these religious purposes, gather that this is a habit with others, a bad habit which must be discouraged for the common good. This is simply not ture.

Facts are facts, but truth is truth. Presenting part of the facts, however true, is not suplying the truth.

"Item: "One hour excused absence is permitted by school policy (for religious instruction or observance)." This weekly permitted hour is not taken because the lay teachers who instruct high school youngsters are only available at night.

ITEM: "BOARD members stressed that school records make a distinction between unexcused absence and truancy." True. But the Herald does not also state that the student whose absence is "unexcused" is not allowed to make up an examination, should he miss one, unless his teacher permits it at his descretion. As matters stand, parents may take their child to the Bahamas for a week of sun and fun on an "excused absence" basis, na penalties attached. The youngster who "retreats for the religious purposes is not accorded the same privilege. (Ironically, the policy in the vacation matter was adopted because all too often parents were going off to the Bahamas alone, in order to escape a week's unexcused absence record for their child, thus leaving their teenage youngsters, in effect, wards of the village).

This of course, was not mentioned by the Herald. Perhaps it was not mentioned at the meeting. But this reader had no difficulty finding these facts with two telephone calls to responsible people. Surely the local paper could do as well.

THERE IS little doubt that this problem can be amicably settled by the parties concerned. Indeed, good will and confidence have been expressed by both, who foresee no difficulty, now that the matter has been brought to the attention of the Board. We can, one trusts, by working with our elected representatives, see that our children get everything they need in their formative years, in or out of school hours.

There is some doubt that we can depend on our local paper, fine as it is in many respects, to put the best interests of the community above this sort of journalism. Has it been such a dull winter that this editorial decision was necessary?

Psychologically Speaking

'Word-Miser' Hubby Irritates His Wife

GERARD G. NEUMAN, Ph.D.

Dear Dr. Neuman:

When my husband is home in the evening I don't think I hear more than twelve words out of him. He may say "Good evening," and "yes" or "no" after I ask a lot of direct questions, but otherwise he's a regular word-miser. When I ask him why we can't talk together like married people should, he wonders why I always want to talk so much. I tell him he just isn't interested in me or the children or what happens at home, but he says that isn't so. Why won't he talk to me?

Mrs. O.

I believe that when your husband doesn't talk to you, it is because there is nothing he wants to say. He probably talks when he has something to tell you, but otherwise feels no need for talking. This is one of the ways in which men are very different from women.

DR. NEUMAN

In all our emphasis on women's equality, I'm afraid we've lost sight of the fact that men and women are really very different, not just biologically or in the role they play, but in their total personality and behavior.

What may seem like a problem in an individual marriage is often much more universal, being the age old problem of how incomprehensible men are to women and vice versa.

How men and women use words is a good illustration of this. Men tend to use words as objects, tools, statements of fact to get across ideas. They say what they mean and, having said it, feel no need to go on. The words have done their job.

WOMEN DON'T listen to words or understand them in this way. For a woman, it is not the words that are important, but the act of talking itself. For women, talk is communication, a bridge between themselves and others, a way of holding hands. The more deeply a woman feels, the more she feels like talking. A man often can't understand this.

As husbands and wives, when we realize that men and women are likely to be different in the way we act and feel, we know better what to expect of each other and a great deal of marital discord can be avoided.

MRS. O., your husband's failure to talk doesn't have to mean a lack of interest in you and the children. As a man, he uses other means of communication. His presence, his steadiness, his support, his activities with and for the family are also experessions of his feeling for you. As the old saying goes, "His deeds speak louder than words."

If you have any questions or comments you want to direct to Dr. Neuman, address your letter to Box B-18, c/o Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, Ill. Confidentiality will be respected.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

Q. Just how should a young woman be governed about rising from her chair to show respect to an "older" woman?

A. Usually, she rises for a woman who is more than twice her own age. Of course, much depends upon the "older woman," too. Some older women try to appear very young and might resent any obvious show of deference. Old-fashioned, comfortably older women, on the other hand, would probably like it very much.

Fun and Help Found in Ads

by JOAN LORENSON

"Bachelor farmer of 58 seeking an honest woman or a widow with farm. Write Box B-80."

"For sale: wooden leg."

"Wanted: Basset stud. Phone before 2. Hurry."

Such items found in the classified advertising section of the newspaper draw many a reader blithely by black front page headlines scoring a village trustee to the classified column.

Reading the classified section offers amusement and interest. To many people the ads afford a trip in imagination and an escape from a mundane world. The classified ads have the lure travel sections have for the armchair traveler.

Under the personal category, another advertisement queried, "A widow wants clean thinking widower." No one will know whether the widow was successful in her quest but she received answers to her advertisement. Another advertiser was even more specific, when he advertised for a woman to help with work but she had to have a farm.

Almost any kind of item eventually is advertised in this section of the newspaper. Readers can find a juke box, old canning jars, a pet crow, a trundle bed, or a burro. A prospective bride can find a used wedding dress in the classified advertisements. Ground corn cob mulch is advertised for the gardener. Heavy duty wire cages can be found by an animal lover.

THE DOUBLE meaning in some advertisements which are placed cause amusement for anyone looking through the columns. Two items found: "Young working girl who needs a roommate. Ask for Jan." or "Experienced girl desires day work."

A provocative eye stopper such as "Honey, please come home or phone. I love you. V" makes interesting reading. Or what is behind an advertisement such as "Will the lady in the numbered dress who had dinner at Louis on Saturday evening and left in white T-Bird, kindly call K.C. D. Important."?

"Weight a problem?" or "Drinking a problem?" the classified's promise help.

THE DOG fancier can go through the classified section to find a variety of dogs from which to choose. He might be interested in a wiggle bottomed white miniature show poodle puppy or a Schipperke dog which is barkless and odorless. If he is in the breeding business he might stop at the following advertisement which paints a bright picture: "At stud, champ sired eight inch white toy poodle. Chip off the old block and international champion grandfather. Happy spirited disposition."

Many people use the classified ads to get a barometer of opinion on their projects. For example this advertisement appeared: "Roselle area residents interested in public swimming pool or swim club, send name and address to . . ."

In the real estate classified section all kinds of things are promised. "Watch your wife. Her eyes will light up when you show her this family home." or "Children and pets welcome." One labels a home as an "executive retreat" while another cajoles "luxury at low cost."

ALL KINDS of animals are offered for sale through classified ads. Some of the more unusual which appear are such animals as four breeding ganders or peacocks blue shouldered and healthy.

Paddock Publications reserves the right to reject certain advertisements. The following advertisement was declined: "Will the owner of the black, size 38 B brassiere left in the rear seat of my car, please claim it?"

Advertisers placing ads concerning children and home care are checked with the State Department of Child Welfare. Phone solicitors who want to advertise are investigated. Usually these checks are made with the Better Business Bureau, a local business, or bank. An advertisement such as that desiring young boys for light delivery is checked so the business is verified as legitimate.

WANT ADS: HOMEMAKER AID

NO RELIGION or race can be mentioned in help wanted advertisements run in Paddock Publications' papers.

One advertisement which drew smiles was a lost item which read: "Lost: 1 green skirt in front of Palwaukee Airport." The caller explained to the ad taker that she had taken some things to the cleaner's and stopped at the airport. Somehow the skirt had fallen out of the car. Though the wording of the advertisement raised some eyebrows, the caller did not want it changed with more explanation.

Any found item is advertised free in the newspaper. Often the people who work in the newspaper's advertising department will try to match lost cats and dogs with the found ones.

Behind the scenes in Paddock's advertising department, the women who take the advertisements can all relate funny anecdotes when people relay their advertisements.

THE AD takers find that they learn all kinds of unusual items. They become versatile in naming sports cars or types of furniture or unusual job classifications. They find out that a stripper is not defined in the usual sense but refers to a metal worker. One ad taker keeps a little chart which lists hard to spell items and such things which she has difficulty in remembering. Listed for example is: ewe is a female sheep.

Approximately 1,000 ads are taken per week in addition to about 200 classified ads which run on a continuing basis. Billing and recording of all ads is done on a weekly basis. Often people assume that an ad taker will remember the ad run a couple of weeks previously. The ad taker simply looks at the ad record on file.

Classified advertising in the newspapers has increased greatly as more people have moved out to the suburbs. No longer is there a noticeable lag in the summer as people no longer think in seasonal terms.

THE AD takers take most of their advertisements for the classified section over the phone. Thus they miss the people with whom they used to talk in face to face conversation. One ad taker recalls two women who came from the farm to the city at 8 a.m. when the office opened, to place their ad of sale for two ganders. They were dressed in black picture hats and sneakers, obviously out on an important errand. This was five years ago. Another recalled two gypsies who came to advertise a fortune telling establishment in Chicago.

Classified ads reflect the change of the northwest communities to suburbs. Advertisements in the classified section used to reflect a strong rural flavor. One advertisement wanted "Pickles, onions, and cabbage to be delivered to the factory." Another 1911 advertisement wanted 50,000 men in Canada for harvesting. "Your last chance to get 320 acres of land for a homestead," warned another ad.

Shopping Area

The typical new super market serves a trading area inhabited by 22,000 people, according to Super Market Institute. When allowance is made for competing super markets, the shopping population per market averages 5,700 persons.

In Gifts to Hospitals, Writer Suggests Care

Give Some Thought To That Selection

by BETTY ANSLIE

Your neighbor has had a new baby or a friend has just gone to the hospital for an operation — so you plan to send flowers — which is dandy if we remember a few things about hospitals and their crowded conditions when we decide to send posies.

"Of course plants are easier to care for," declared one nurse's aid. "They usually last longer too and we don't have to bother rearranging them, but there's something special about fresh flowers too that brighten the patient's spirits," she laughed.

"So it would be awful to only see plants in the rooms, anyway I'm partial to roses and who wants a big rose bush in a pot?"

True, plants are preferred in hospitals because they are easier to care for, and if your hospitalized friend likes to have something more lasting to take home and perhaps plant in his own garden a plant is fine.

SOME FLORISTS mix in a few artificial flowers, tiny birds and bird houses with the plant arrangement to add a little more interest to the gift.

"The only thing we really shudder to see," said a head of nurses. "Is a plant affair all housed in one of those huge aquariums — those round or square glass things — granted they are lovely and probably cost a fortune, but please not in the hospital."

Seems in every sick room space is strictly limited, a bedside table or a table that fits over the bed are really the only spots for plants or flowers and a big arrangement might find the only room would be on the floor under the bed.

"I remember one women who received one of those glass enclosed affairs," continued the nurse. "It was so big that when the patient went home we put the huge glass thing in the wheel chair and the patient walked to the car. If you ever tried to lift one, you'd know what I mean."

SO SIZE IS important and we shohld keep that in mind when we select something for our special hospitalized friend.

Volunteers and nurse's aids do tend to the flowers in the various rooms, but if the patient is up and around it is good therapy for them to arrange and tend their own blooms.

Most hospitals receive unusual flower arrangements every week. One such rememtened to the blooms with ribbons.

This is fine I discovered after talking to florists if the patient is allowed to smoke; but never under any circumstances are they sent to the person who is on a "no smoking" regime. The same goes for candy bars and boxes of chocolates included with the posies.

ONE ARRANGEMENT that arrived for a new baby and mother had all sorts of miniature things fastened to the flowers — tiny wash cloth, baby soap, a small package of diaper pins and doll sized baby powder all tied to the flowers with blue ribbon. So after the blooms faded the mother still had the miniatures to add to the baby's scrapebook.

Little figures are frequently used to brighten the container. One arrangement long remembered had a little old man with a long, white beard seated among some fall flowers. This was sent to an older man in the hospital with a card saying "C'mon, you're not this old, so get well quick."

Because the spring flowers are rather fragile, most florists like to add a few mums or other fall flowers so that the bouquet will last a lot longer.

Miniature elves, babies and animals are used constantly. One poinsettia plant brightened the spirits of a holiday new mother by having tiny plastic babies peeking from each bloom.

AN ENDLESS variety of containers are offered from every florist, and the ones that can be used later at home are favored. Little Cymbidium orchids are a favorite of one florist as they last a long time, are small and fit in with any flower grouping.

Clay pipes, tiny stuffed birds — particularly pheasants — are used along with the flowers that are more masculine in color to please the hospitalized man.

The maternity department seems to have the lions share of unusual and different floral groupings. For instance, the containers are small and use pink and blue flowers.

A larger bowl of blooms might be sent to the mother and a very small one to the new baby.

A corsage sent to the new mother so she might pin it to her pretty, new bedjacket is matched by a smaller corsage for the baby to wear home fastened to that new bunting or blanket.

STUFFED ANIMALS and toys are often included in the flower gift for a child in the hospital. "Something to play with and something to watch," said one florist. Even crayons and color books are hidden in some plants bound for a child's room.

Artificial flowers are mixed with greens like ivy and philodendron and this is something for that friend in the hospital who might be there for a short stay and would like something pretty to take home.

Special days, special seasons can also be included in your selection of flowers or plants. Clay pipes for Saint Patrick's day, birds and miniature fish for the hunting and fishing enthusiast, or paper back books for the reader might be included in the arrangement you send. The main thing is to help your friend forget his ills and troubles and a laugh or two is never banned by the doctor.

The next time then that you send an arrangement of cheer to a hospitalized friend give your selection some thiought—you and your florist can come up with something that will be different and fun.

Keep it medium sized, include the person's favorite flowers and colors, select the right container and include a reminder of a favorite hobby or sport, because those hours might pass by a bit faster and happier for that friend who receives your specially thought about floral gift.

Rising Illegitimacy

Urge Birth Control To Cut Relief Rolls

Two Chicago women appeared last week beofre the Illinois Public Aid Advisory Committee in Springfield and testified that state support of birth control programs is one of the best ways to halt the soaring cost of public aid, according to committee chairman Rep. John W. Carroll of Park Ridge.

Carroll said the witnesses were Dr. Lonny Myers, chairman of the Citizens for the Extension of Birth Control Services; and Mrs. James Cotton Browne, director of the Chicago Planned Parenthood Association.

BOTH SAID failure to make birth control information available to low income families is a major reason for large slum families whose members must be provided for by the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

Mrs. Myers told members of the committee, "We have struggled long enough with the abuse of the privilege of pregnancy."

"There must be an end to rampant, uncontrolled birth. We must evaluate birth control on its merits, and the family size should not be left to chance."

Mrs. Brown said that the birth rate among "the lowest income and least educated" family groups in Chicago is 38 per 1,000 and this is "the same as that in India and higher than that in Puerto Rico."

BOTH DR. Myers and Mrs. Browne said that women in Chicago slums, already burdened with large families, don't want more children and would welcome preventive information.

"All we are asking is that these women have available to them the same information that women in middle and upper class families have available from their doctors in the privacy of their offices," Dr. Myers said.

Both women criticized what they claimed is the policy of both the Chicago Public Aid Department and the Cook County Hospital to discourage dissemination of birth control information. "There is a conspiracy of silence, they pass the buck," said Mrs. Browne.

PETER W. CAHILL, executive secretary of the IPAC, said "there is no policy on this matter. We don't believe that our case workers are skilled in the advice to be given women."

To this Dr. Myers replied, "They don't need to be trained. All they need to do is to advise these women to go to clincis or physicians."

"Lift birth control restrictions and you are cutting down on unwanted children."

AT ONE POINT during her testimony, Dr. Myers told the members of the committee she was the mother of five children and so had "some practical experience."

Rep. Carroll announced that on June 15 the committee will visit the Cook County operation, the Rehabilitation Center and will interview recipients on relief. (S

Many Benefit From Honeybees

URBANA—Many people benefit from honeybees — whether they use honey or not. The reason: bees' unique service in pollination, according to V. G. Milum, University of Illinois apiculturist.

Honeybees are the only insect that can produce in large enough numbers and be depended upon for use in cross pollination. Cross pollination is a "must" to set fruit on many trees. Among the fruits cross-pollinated by honeybees are apples, sweet cherries, many varieties of pears and some peaches. Other crops pollinated by bees include cucumbers, pumpkins, watermelons and lima beans.

IN ILLINOIS, it is the backyard gardener who gets the most immediate benefit from these services of the bee. But indirectly, all consumers also profit from the bee's work.

'Tis said that former President Truman washed his socks nightly in the White House — a practice his mother taught him as a boy.

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

A Little Milestone

Dear Peg:

Patrick passed a little milestone today. He had his sixth birthday. Thanks to Bridget, we managed to wake up before he did (and that takes some doing!) in order to surprise him with his presents. While he grinned with embarrassment, his family warbled "Happy Birthday." At 6 a. m. our warbling was strictly for the birds, however, to Patrick it was the sweet music to the ears that he'd been waiting days to hear. Most of the "surprises" he had asked for were there including the bazooka gun, the fishing pole, the golf set, the sand toys and the turtle (which he promptly named Tim). And real surprises from his Grandparents and Auntie including new pants and shirts sets and a much needed new bathing suit.

It was a bit of a struggle to keep Patrick from calling his friends before 9 o'clock. By 9:10 they were at the door to see the loot. Being Sunday, there was church to attend. Needless to say, Patrick was most reluctant—however, the new clothes helped a little and by 11 the last little piece of hair that always stands straight up was plastered down and off he went.

Patrick chose barbecued chicken for his birthday dinner, so while Daddy started the charcoal Mama prepared the children and carried the food out to the picnic table—dodging the spray of the hose with which the children were playfully chasing each other. Cute little things.

Since Patrick's best friends, Billy and Johnnie, were playing with him when the chicken was done, they were invited to attend the birthday dinner. I think Johnnie gave him his favorite gift—a little robot aptly named Yakkity Yob which when manipulated can talk, walk and even pick up things. The boys brought Yakkity to the table, but I put my foot down when they tried to get him to pick up their chicken legs for them.

The birthday cake and ice cream followed and with that the happy birthday ended—well, almost—there was another run through the hose which happily wore everybody out and it was to bed early for the whole crew.

My love,
Patty

Gordon Larson Sings to His Bride During Ceremony

Paddock Publications - 65 THURS., MAY 31, 1962

Suburban Living
Especially for Women

A solo sung by the groom to his bride was included in the wedding ceremony May 5 in Queen of the Angels Roman Catholic Church, Chicago, in which Gordon Henry Vincent Larson, son of the Harold A. Larsons, 217 N. William, Mount Prospect, took as his bride, Diane Helen Marie Hawken, daughter of Samuel J. Hawken of Chicago. The selection, "On This Day," was sung as the bride placed her flowers at the statue of the Blessed Mother.

The other wedding selections were sung by John van Dyck and the entire Queen of the Angels Choir. Rev. Fr. George Strass, Rev. Fr. Cannon and Rev. Fr. Walsh officiated at the double ring ceremony amid a setting of blue and white carnations and gladioli.

Nine attendants, including two flower girls and two ring bearers, preceded the bride down the aisle. The little flower girls, Karen Ann Burns of Lombard and Kathy Cleys of Chicago, both 5, wore pastel blue floor-length gowns with matching hats and carried baskets of white and blue carnations.

THE OLDER attendants, also in pastel blue wore organza over taffeta gowns with matching capes and picture hats of stiffened tulle. They were the bride's sister, Miss Janet Hawken of Chicago, the groom's sister, Miss Margaret Ann Larson of Mount Prospect, the bride's cousin, Miss Rosalie Strass of Lombard, and Miss Dorothy Krueger of Morton Grove as bridesmaids.

White roses, lily of the valley and ivy with a removable orchid made up her bouquet.

Mr. Hawken gave his daughter in marriage.

Four - year -olds Dennis J. Fitch of Hillcrest and Richard W. Pool of Chicago, were the ringbearers. Vincent T. Rieck of Mount Prospect was best man and ushers were the groom's brother, Harold C. Larson, Alvin C. Johnson and Dennis Carroll of Mount Prospect and Donald Fitch of Country Club Hills, Ill.

Breakfast was served after the ceremony to 150 members of the immediate families and out-of-town guests in the Hawaiian Club and that evening a reception and buffet dinner was served to 500 in the Why Not? Hall, Chicago. Mrs. Larson received in a powder blue lace sheath with satin cummerbund and accessories of the same color with a white orchid corsage.

Substituting for the bride's mother, who died just a month before the wedding, was the bride's godmother, Mrs. Helen Mach.

THE NEW Mrs. Larson was graduated from Josephinum High School and is employed by the Continental National Bank of Chicago. Her bridegroom was graduated from Arlington High School and is with A. C. Nielson Co. Marketing Research.

After a 2-week honeymoon, traveling to Rapid City, S. D., Mount Rushmore and in Iowa and Minnesota, the newlyweds are residing at 7531 N. Wolcott, Chicago. (S

For Air France

Dior Designs New Airline Uniforms

New Air Routes To Europe Slated

The House of Christian Dior in Paris has just unveiled its latest version of the Air France hostess uniform. Air France selected Marc Bohan, successor to the late master, to design uniforms which combine chic and comfort.

The new designs were modeled in Paris last week at a private showing for Air France officials. By midsummer 1962 Air France hostesses on flights to every corner of the world will be sporting their Dior uniforms and bringing French fashion to the more than 219 cities served by the airline.

Mark Bohan's new designs replace the uniforms which have been in use aboard Air France flights since 1946. In the intervening years the hemline only has changed length with Paris fashion edicts. Rounded collars, soft waistlines, and A-shaped panel skirts will lend a more fashionable feeling to the Air France summer dress and winter suit, while casual lines provide ample freedom of movement.

THE SUMMER uniform is sky blue and made of Tergal, a long lasting, noncrushable, lightweight French fabric, blending fine wool and synthetic fibers. The dress is accompanied by a matching coat for air hostesses, while ground hostesses wear a matching box jacket.

Another feature of the Air France summer dress is the high-necked boat collar, made fashionable by Marc Bohan. The bodice is slightly bloused, and and meets the skirt with a belt bow-tied in front. Four deep pleats provide fullness to the skirt.

The rainproof coat, also of Tergal but with a cotton blend, falls simply from a tailored collar. It closes with three buttons, and two deep bockets are formed in the side seams. The sleeves are 5/6 length.

MARCEAU blue is the color for the Air France hostess winter suit. It is a light navy favored by Marc Bohan. Made of wool gabardine, its simple, uncluttered tailoring is functional yet feminine. The jacket is short, gently fitted, with flap pockets on either side, and four buttons. The pointed collar is on a rounded neckline under which peeks the white bow of the blouse. Stitching on collar, pockets, and edge of jacket is repeated down the skirt panels, which hide two vertical pockets.

The fitted overblouse is of white Celanese. Its boat neckline is stiched all around, and is enhanced by a stitched flat bow. The matching double-breasted coat closes with six large buttons, has two slit pockets and a square collar. Sleeves are wrist-length, and the coat is lined with a green and blue plaid.

THE NAVY blue tambourine-shaped cap, which carries the Air France Hippocampus insignia, is also designed by Marc Bohan and is able to accommodate bouffant coiffures and chignons.

In joining forces on a new hostess uniform, Air France and the House of Dior have directed their creative abilities toward radiating around the very essence of French elegance and simplicity.

AIR FRANCE has unveiled its latest version of a summer hostess uniform designed by Marc Bohan of the House of Christian Dior in Paris. This summer, Air France hostesses on the Chicago-Paris route will be wearing their Dior summer uniforms. THE GROWTH and expansion of Air France passes another milestone with the inauguration of non-stop jet service between Chicago and Paris. The "windy city" joins an array of six major cities in the North American continent that are linked with Paris and major cities throughout the world along the airline's 205,000 mile route network.

A route between Chicago and Paris was opened in October, 1953, using Super C Constellations. The flying time from Midway Airport to Paris in those days was 14 hours and 20 minutes.

To keep pace with the growing traffic, additional Air France offices and representations were then established throughout North America.

Expanding the range of passenger accommodations, air France created a new concept of luxury air travel with the inauguration of the now famous de luxe "Golden Parisian" service. This service gave to Midwestern air travellers the accommodation of the first private compartments on the North Atlantic route.

IN 1955 Super G Constellations were put into service and the fifth freedom route between Chicago and Montreal was opened on November 19, 1958.

It was Air France which made the first transatlantic flight from Chicago's O'Hare field on October 29, 1955.'

Then the jet age came to Chicago. It was in May 1957 that Captain Andre Lesieur of Air France landed the first commercial jetliner, a French Caravelle, at O'Hare International Airport. Today giant 575 m.p.h. Boeing 707 Intercontinentals provide regular jet service between Chicago and Paris, and connect this city with the world wide network of Air France, offering the Midwestern passenger jet to jet service on Boeing 707 Intercontinentals on the North Atlantic route to 49 cities around the globe, and in Caravelle jets from Paris to 48 cities throughout Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

The total Air France network measuring 205,000 miles of unduplicated routes is the longest in the world. In service are 20 707 Intercontinentals and 31 Caravelle jetliners flying these routes to a total of 87 cities. (T

Palatine Newlyweds Now Residing in Wood Dale

Following their May 5 wedding and a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains, a Palatine couple, Theo Lynette Dawson and Kenneth Donald Borg, are residing in Wood Dale at 300 N. Cedar.

The bride is the daughter of the Theo Dawsons, 138 S. Rohlwing, Palatine, and the groom is the son of the Ray Borgs, 714 Warren, Palatine. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock in First Methodist Church of Palatine with Rev. Wilbur M. Childress officiating. Soloist for the double ring service was Mrs. Lyla Dorwick, whose selections were "Because" and 'The Lord's Prayer."

Vases of the white lilies and mixed greens decorated the altar.

FOR HER marriage the bride chose a gown of white silk organza and lace with sequins and seed pearls on the bodice. The dress, of colonial design, featured a full skirt of three tiers of ruffles. She also wore a 3-tiered crown with sequins and pearls and an elbow-length veil. White rose buds, stephanotis and ivy made up her bridal bouquet. Mr. Dawson gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Roberta Meyer of Arlington Heights was her cousin's matron of honor and bridesmaids were Carole and Linda Lindberg of Palatine and Sue Ebel of Rolling Meadows. All wore identical sheath gowns of royal blue chiffon with shoes and headpieces in matching blue. They carried bouquets of white fuji mums with variegated ivy.

JACK THOME of Palatine was best man to the groom and ushers were Jason Morgan of Des Plaines, Ken Henley of Carpentersville and Marvin Dawson of Palatine.

For the service and the reception for 200 which followed in Nielson's Restaurant, Mrs. Dawson chose a maize silk shantung dress with matching accessories and yellow cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Borg chose a powder blue silk eyelet organza dress, also with matching accessories. Her corsage was also of cymbidiums.

Both young people were graduated from Palatine High School. The bride is now employed by Charles Hymen Dresses, Inc. and the groom by Valenti Builders.

Get Air Conditioner Ready for Summer

URBANA—Cleaning your air conditioner now is one way to assure top benefit from it this summer.

Frank Andrew, University of Illinois extension rural electrification specialist, points out that the cleaning should include the circulating fan, the air filter, the evaporator and the condenser coils. He recommends that the cleaning be done by an authorized serviceman.

IF THE FILTER is stopped up, the cooled air cannot circulate. If the fans of the evaporator are bent or clogged, it is difficult for the unit to discharge the heat to the outside.

Two other ways to make sure your air conditioner will work properly this summer are:

Remove the plastic or canvas cover if used during the winter.

Be sure the controls are operating freely. Sometimes the damper or shutter cannot be properly set to circulate the room air when the most cooling is desired.

Watch That Garden Budget

URBANA — Careful planning and cautious shopping can help you have a fine flower garden on a limited budget, according to G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist.

Start with a basic set of carefully chosen tools and garden equipment. Look for quality, durability and versatility. Avoid buying impractical gadgets and poorly designed and constructed tools. They are usually a waste of money. Use the same care in selecting plant and seed varieties, fertilizers, insecticides and other gardening materials.

Over-buying of supplies for your garden is another way to run up costs needlessly.

LOOK FOR VALUE for your money when you shop. Practice restraint in regard to extravagant advertising claims, lavish color ads, exaggerated descriptions and fabulous bargain offers by mail-order companies. Rely on reputable suppliers whose word can be depended upon.

Remember, there are many new developments in the gardening world each season, yet seldom do many of them pan out to give you the magical, sure-fire results claimed. What really lies behind the proverbial "green thumb" is still a lot of know-how and plan common sense, plus a fair measure of elbow grease. Learning to know the requirements for good plant growth, for example, helps you make wise decisions in selecting plants and seeds.

DON'T HESITATE to seek advice on your gardening problems. University cooperative extension personnel, local farm advisers and professional greenhouse men are some of the people who can answer your questions reliably. However, do equip yourself with several reference books to consult when questions arise.

Bridal Shower Decor Is Simple Home Task

If you're to be hostess for a bridal shower this spring, you'll want to go all out on your table decorations to get your party off to a good start.

Happily, a festive bridal shower table need not be expensive. In fact, with a little imagination, you can easily do the decorations yourself, using readily available materials.

For example, you can make a clever umbrella centerpiece out of a small toy umbrella and paper napkins. Paste napkins to the inside of the open umbrella first. Then cut large circles out of napkins, pinch them together in the center and paste them to the top of the umbrella.

START AT THE edge and work toward the center. Decorate with flowers and a ribbon bow, then wrap the handle with napkins. Place the finished umbrella in a styrofoam base, decorated with more napkin circles, flowers and ribbon.

Bride and bridesmaid dolls are easily made, too. You'll need three colored pipe cleaners for each doll. Bend and twist the cleaners into figure forms; no head is necessary. Just twist two cleaners together half way down, leaving the bottom half for legs and feet. Take the third cleaner and twist it around the body at the middle to form arms.

Open two Kleenex napkins (regular or new casual size) to full size and trim off the corners to make circles. Cut a small hole in the center of each napkin and thread both napkins onto the body.

PASTE THE napkin skirts to the body, placing one skirt over the other. The edge of the skirt should cover the feet of the doll.

Now, tie ribbon over the pasted edge of the skirt and make a bow in back. Tape the feet to a circle of cardboard. Bend the ends of the arms around a small flower bouquet and secure with a bow of narrow satin ribbon. Cut two three-inch circles from a napkin for the hat and paste them to the top of the cleaner. Then decorate the hat with a few small blossoms.

For each guest, as a final touch, you can make a delicate paper fan. Take one napkin, open flat, then fold it in half. Accordion pleat the napkin, grasp in center, an dblend it in half to form the fan.

Tie the base with white ribbon and tuck a few flowers in the ribbon. The fans will make decorative placecards, too.

—COURTESY KLEENEX NAPKINS

CREATE YOUR OWN bridal shower decorations for a truly festive table. It's an easy and inexpensive home project using pipe cleaners, napkins, ribbon and sprigs of flowers. Shown are bride and bridesmaid dolls, plus paper fans adding a final touch of gayety for each guest.

Chicken Liver Recipe is Cook's 'Invention'

Savory Sauce Adds Enticing Flavor

by LOIS SEILER

The old adage, "Necessity is the mother of invention," can be applied to Mrs. Leonard J. Wegryn's experience in the culinary arts.

Unable to find a suitable recipe for chicken livers, this good cook devised her own and it quickly became a family favorite.

"At least with this recipe they taste the way I think they ought to taste," she commented.

Chicken Liver Recipe—

Mrs. Wegryn combines chicken livers with onions and mushrooms in a savory wine sauce. This delicious concoction can be served over noodles, mashed potatoes or toast points.

"Either a tossed or molded salad and any vegetable, preferably a firm one, can be served as accompaniments," Gloria Wegryn said.

For a tossed salad she has a simple French dressing which can be put together in a hurry and is a tasty topping for any combination of salad greens.

SHERBET OR ice cream is a good dessert choice for this dinner, accompanied by Mrs. Wegryn's Golden Nut Drops or Toffee Cookies.

The golden nut drops have an unusual ingredient, strained baby carrots, which gives these delightful cookies a golden color and soft texture. They are frosted with a tangy lemon-flavored confectioners sugar icing.

The batter for the toffee cookies is baked in a cake pan, spread with a topping of melted caramel or butterscotch bits and sprinkled with chopped nuts. While still slightly warm, it is cut into squares and is a delectable toffee-flavored treat.

IN ADDITION to her cooking and baking activities, Mrs. Wegryn is an ambitious organic gardener, growing and freezing quantities of her own vegetables. She is a member of La Leche League and St. James Catholic church.

The Wegryns live at 720 N. Wilshire in Arlington Heights. They have two little daughters: Nina, 2½, and Amy, 6 months old.

CHICKEN LIVERS IN WINE SAUCE

1 pound chicken livers
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 small onion, sliced
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups water
¼ to ½ cup sherry wine
1 jar sliced mushrooms

Wash chicken livers and dredge with flour which has been seasoned with salt and pepper. Reserve remaining flour.

Saute livers and onion in butter for 10 minutes. Remove chicken livers and stir remaining flour into pan. Mix well. Add water, including mushroom juice, to make a nice brown gravy. Stir in sherry wine and blend.

Add livers and mushrooms and simmer for a few minutes; gravy will thicken. Serve over noodles, mashed potatoes or toast points. Serves 4.

SIMPLE FRENCH DRESSING

1 part vinegar
1 part catsup
Pinch of sugar
Salt and pepper

Put ingredients into a small jar, shake well and pour over tossed salad. To keep, store in refrigerator.

GOLDEN NUT DROPS

¾ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
¼ cup brown sugar
1 egg
2 jars strained carrots (baby food)
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream butter and sugars together until light and fluffy. Add egg, carrots and vanilla and beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients and nuts and mix well.

Drop from teaspoon onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in a 400 degree oven about 10 to 12 minutes or until delicately browned. While still warm frost with the following:

ICING

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix ingredients together and spread on warm cookies. Place cookies in refrigerator for a half hour to set icing. Do not cover the container in which cookies are stored.

Yield: Approximately 4 dozen cookies.

TOFFEE COOKIES

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 package (6 ounces) butterscotch or caramel bits
1 cup finely chopped walnuts or pecans

Thoroughly cream butter or margarine. Gradually add brown sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Drop in egg and blend thoroughly. Add vanilla, then flour sifted with salt. Mix well. Spread batter evenly in an ungreased 11 by 7 by 1½ inch pan.

Bake for 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from oven; sprinkle caramel bits at once over surface. Return to oven for 2 or 3 minutes. Remove from oven and spread caramel with spatula. Sprinkle on chopped nuts.

Cut in squares while still slightly warm.

Especially for Women

BUTTERSCOTCH BITS and chopped nuts make a tempting topping for the Toffee Squares being sliced by Mrs. Leonard J. Wegryn of Arlington Heights. Although baby Amy, 6 months old, is content to chew on her spoon, Nina, 2½, looks forward to a sample of these delicious cookies, which are one of the family's favorites.

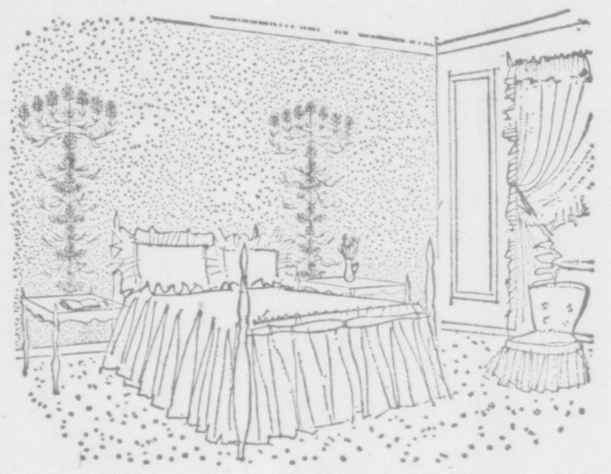
Murals Make Living Walls In Themes for Every Room

With all of glorious nature bursting into color outdoors, now is the time to bring color into your home—living color on your walls, with the use of murals.

Murals are now the highest in fashion, yet they are within the reach of modest budgeters, thanks to new designs in wallcoverings that are available in limitless themes and styles.



No matter what the cost of the roll, they are well worthwhile, for today's wallcoverings are made to last, and a little goes a long way in artistry.

THERE ARE murals with themes for every room—a graceful gondola in gold for stylized king, queen and four and twenty blackbirds for a game room; tall candelabra of weaving grass to mount a staircase or decorate a long hallway.

If you want to create a center of interest in a room which has no great architectural value, a wallcovering mural will do wonders.

IT MAY BE wise for you to seek out your mural before you plan your color scheme for decorating, for frequently the mural will set the tone as well as the decor for the room.

Accompanying is one illustration of how murals can be used. To view them in your decorator shop is to find inspiration.

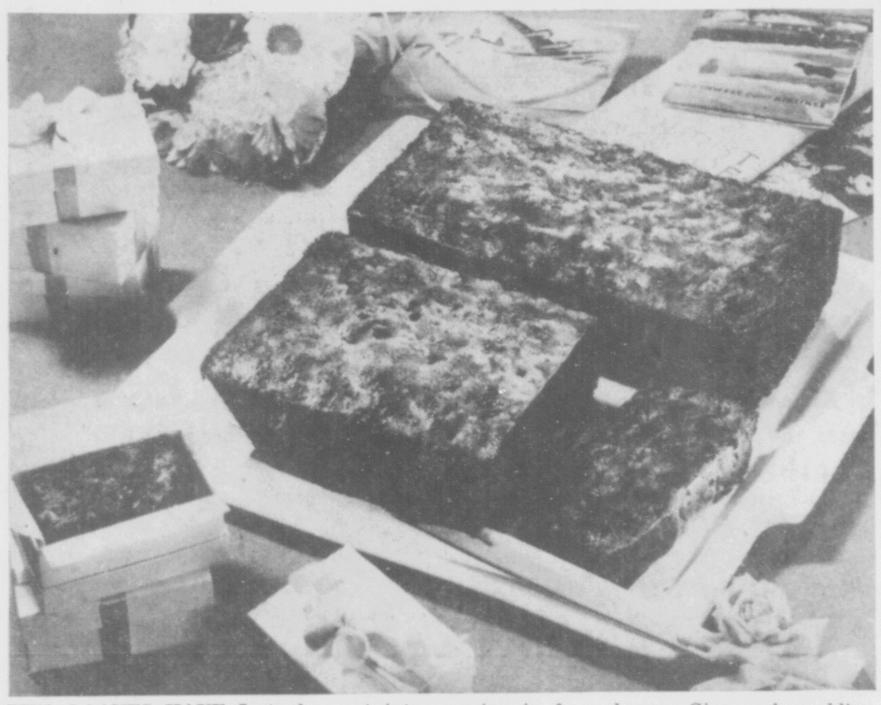
Favor Box Fruit Cake Gifts of Bride, Groom



TWO LOAVES HAVE I—to be cut into pieces just right for giving. These two fruitcake loaves, fragrant and flavorful, thanks to unsulphured molasses, are fine for packaging in favor boxes. Give each wedding guest a box to take home. Placed under the pillow, he or she will dream of a future mate—so the story goes.

A bit of folklore about guests sharing the wedding cake is that if each one takes home a piece and sleeps on it, he or she will dream of a future mate provided of course one is needed.

Wedding cakes today can be the traditional fruit type or a white one, or both. The white cake, known as a bride's cake, was introduced about 1920. Now, either a white or fruit cake may be cut by the bride and groom to be served at the wedding. However, if favor boxes are distributed, they are filled with the rich fruitcake—sometimes called the groom's cake.

THE RECIPE given here for two fruitcake loaves to be cut into slices and then thirds for packaging in favor boxes, yields rich-with-fruit and moist cake.

The cake cuts into clean slices without crumbling because the fruit has been made soft and tender with unsulphured molasses before it was added to the batter.

THIS IS a trick professional bakers have long used to prevent the dried fruit from drawing moisture from the cake structure and causing crumbling. The molasses plays three parts in this fruitcake: it tenderizes the fruit; gives sweetness to the cake; improves its quality and flavor.

The wedding cake favor boxes are available at specialty stores and may be given a wedding theme with white ribbon and miniature bells.

GROOM'S DARK FRUITCAKE

- 1 cup unsulphured molasses
- ½ cup water
- 2 packages (15 ounces each) raisins
- 2 jars (1 pound each) mixed candied fruit
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1¼ cups sugar
- 6 eggs
- 2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- 1½ teaspoons cinnamon
- 1¼ teaspoons nutmeg
- ¾ teaspoon allspice
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- ½ cup orange juice or brandy
- 2 cans (8 ounces each) walnuts, coarsely chopped

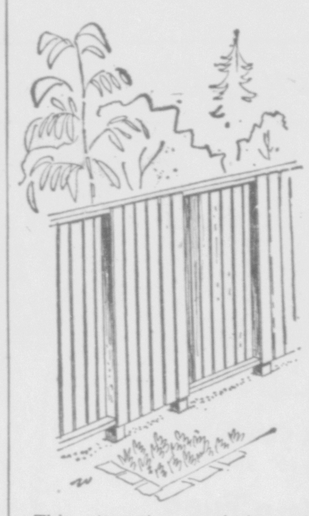
Blend together unsulphured molasses and water in a large, deep saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add raisins; bring to a boil again. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; stir in candied fruit. Reserve. Cream together butter and sugar. Blend in eggs, one at a time. Sift together flour, soda and spices; add to butter mixture alternately with orange juice.

STIR INTO molasses-fruit mixture. Stir in nuts. Turn into 2 waxed paper lined 9 x 5 x 2¾ inch loaf pans. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 1 hour, 30 minutes. Cool. Yield: Two 3½ pound fruit cakes.

Note: To package cake for distribution at wedding, cut each loaf into 1-inch slices. Cut each slice into third. Wrap in waxed paper-lined individual gift boxes. Yield: 27 gift portions per cake. (SH

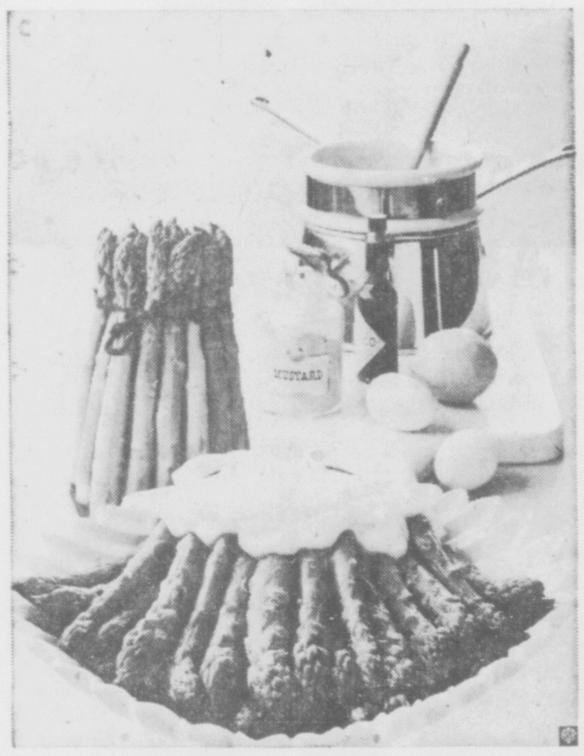
Estate Fence



This attractive variation of the board fence is ideal for a long, tall estate fence. In alternating panels of the fence, 1 by 4 western red cedar boards are nailed on the front or back of the fence frame.

The pattern produces a 3-dimensional effect and good shadow lines. For a free copy of a booklet telling how to build fences of various styles, write: Fence Book, Dept. PR, West Coast Lumbermen's Assn., 1410 S. Morrision St., Portland (5) Oregon. (SH

Mark of Good Cook– Smooth Hollandaise



Every woman who loves to cook should know how to make a good, smooth Hollandaise sauce that will enhance a variety of foods.

Hollandaise sauce is especially delicious with fresh asparagus in the spring, but it is equally compatible with other vegetables, and with eggs and fish.

The goodness of this Hollandaise recipe comes from the zesty flavoring of Tabasco, the liquid red pepper spice.

MANY WOMEN steer away from making their own Hollandaise, but by following directions, you can whip up a gourmet sauce you'll be proud of.

Tabasco gives it that mouth-watering touch, and since it is a liquid red pepper, it blends in easily with the other ingredients, leaving no unsightly specks to mar the sauce's smooth perfection.

HOLLANDAISE TABASCO

- 2 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon dry mustard
- ¼ teaspoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ cup butter

Put egg yolks, lemon juice, mustard, sugar, salt and Tabasco into small heavy earthenware mixing bowl; mix well. Divide butter into 3 equal portions.

Add one portion of butter to the egg mixture and place the bowl in a saucepan of hot water. Place over low heat and stir constantly until butter is melted.

Add second portion of butter, and when this is melted, repeat with third portion, stirring constantly as butter melts and sauce thickens. Remove from heat. Yield: 2/3 cup. (SH

Late Supper Idea– Fruited Consomme

Now that warm weather is here, there are many occasions when a light appealing salad platter fills the menu for a late evening supper.

One that's delightfully different is a molded fruit salad made with canned condensed consomme and served with sliced baked ham and Swiss cheese.

It's an easy menu too, for the salad being a molded one, is naturally prepared ahead of time.

THE SLICES of ham and cheese can be arranged on a platter and refrigerated also. At serving time it's just a matter of unmolding the shimmering salad for a delicious and most appealing supper.

Remember canned condensed consomme is perfect not only as a base for jellied salads, but as a refreshing appetizer, too.

SIMPLY KEEP several cans handy in refrigerator (takes about 4 hours to jelly). Serve in chilled bowls with a garnish . . . chopped raw vegetables, sour cream, grated lemon or orange rind.

Round out your "souper" salad supper with a basket of party rye slices and small soft rolls and plenty of hot coffee.

FRUITED CONSOMME SALAD

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed consomme
- ¼ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup pineapple juice
- ½ cup thin orange slices
- ½ cup pineapple tidbits, cut in half
- ½ cup seedless grapes, cut in half

In saucepan, sprinkle gelatine on water to soften. Place over low heat and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat and stir in consomme, orange juice, and pineapple juice.

Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold; serve on crisp greens.

Garnish with additional fruit, if desired. (SH

Week's Best Food Buys

While the June Calendar of peaking-supply produce items offers a variety of selection in keeping with the season, the fact is that total production is well below demand for many key items. Current values are relatively few.

The opposite is true for meats and poultry. Abundant supplies, good selection and generally lower costs give stores wider latitude in pegging values.

Here, however, the question is the dull, lethargic consumer demand which has most operators trying to out-guess weather responses and provide the right inducements to trade.

GROCERY departments lack luster, too, with most attention going to the traditional holiday and out-of-doors trimmings.

Marketing for the period ending June 2 is keyed to the usual split-week merchandising schedule, preferred barbecue lines early week, giving way to economy cuts by late week.

On the weekly University of Illinois consumer service consensus value list appear these select bargains for the current period:

Meats—hams, spareribs, pork steaks and chops, bacon, ground beef, round and sirloin steaks, chuck roasts; poultry—large eggs and fryers; produce—strawberries, oranges, bananas, radishes, cucumbers, peppers, green beans, tomatoes.

THE JUNE schedule of produce shows numerically more value possibilities but as indicated below some of these key lines are significantly shorter supplied. The production or seasonal calendar anticipates the following (*indicates peak supply month):

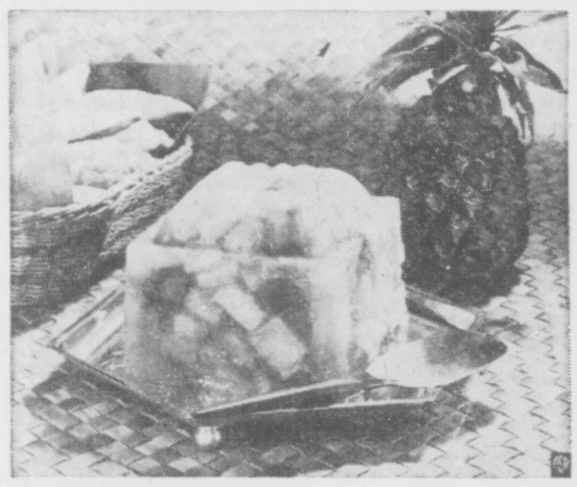
Fruits — apricots*, bananas, blackberries*, blueberries, cherries*, figs, gooseberries, lemons, mangos*, nectarines, oranges, papayas, peaches, pineapples, plums, raspberries, rhubarb, strawberries.

Vegetables — asparagus, beans*, beets*, corn, cucumbers*, kohlrabi*, lettuce*, okra, green onions, parsley*, radishes*, Swiss chard, potatoes*, tomatoes. Melons—watermelon, cantaloupe.

POULTRY interest spotlights fryers, especially the little ones that will come under heavy promotional guns. From a more general competitive market viewpoint, however, costs moved higher at wholesale, up as much as one cent for better kinds.

Retailers continue to signal 29-35 cents for these. Egg volume is well ahead, placid costs and prices prevailing to prompt the current 43-47 cents quotes for grade A large white. (SH

Jellied Rhubarb Is Maytime Must



Proof of spring is the sight of rose-touched, satiny stalks of fresh rhubarb in the markets. The tingly, vivacious flavor of this pink and pretty fruit makes it a welcome addition to springtime menus.

For a salad that's fresh as Maytime, treat yourself to the jellied beauty, shown here—a tantalizing combination of fresh rhubarb and pineapple.

THIS SALAD has a refreshingly tangy, delicately sweet flavor that's irresistible.

Best of all, weight-watchers can enjoy this springtime treat with a clear conscience.

By replacing the sugar normally required with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl calories have been whittled to just 93 per serving, or considerably less than half the salad's usual calorie count.

RHUBARB-PINEAPPLE SALAD

- 4 cups rhubarb, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 8 teaspoons Sucaryl solution
- 1½ cups water
- 3 envelopes (or tablespoons) unflavored gelatine
- 4 8½-ounce cans Sucaryl-sweetened pineapple tidbits
- ½ cup lemon juice

In saucepan, combine rhubarb, 4 teaspoons of the Sucaryl, and one cup water. Cover and simmer until just tender, about 5 minutes; drain and save liquid.

Soften gelatin in remaining ½ cup water. Drain pineapple; add rhubarb liquid to pineapple liquid, adding water, if necessary, to make 2½ cups.

Bring liquid to a boil; add to softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add remaining 4 teaspoons Sucaryl and lemon juice.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in rhubarb and pineapple. Spoon into a lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill until set.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 93 calories; 4 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 221 calories. (SH

PINEAPPLE-RIPE OLIVE SUNBURSTS

- 1 (3 ounce) package cream cheese
- ¼ cup crushed pineapple, drained
- 3 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
- 8 slices whole wheat bread
- 8 slices green maraschino cherry
- 6 black olives, cut into slivers

Combine cream cheese, pineapple and ripe olives. Cut each slice of bread into four (1½") cutouts with a cookie cutter. Spread each cutout with one teaspoon pineapple-ripe olive mixture.

Place a slice of green cherry in the center of each sandwich. Arrange ripe olive-slivers so that they radiate from cherry to form a sunburst design. Yield: 32 sandwiches. (SH

Ernie's Miniature Circus To Be at Golf-Mill Center

A REPLICA of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus, Ernie's Miniature Circus, is returning for a showing for the second time in Golf-Mill Shopping Center, June 4 through 16. Owner Ernie Palmquist is shown above with a miniature replica of a lion's cage.

Ernie's Miniature Circus will be in Golf-Mill Shopping Center for a return engagement June 4 through 16.

The replica of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus is complete with circus wagons, menagerie and performing animals, a moving parade with ornate wagons headed by a large band wagon and many other circus specialties.

THE CIRCUS is operated by Ernie Palmquist, a former band leader and song writer and his wife, Virginia, a former Ziegfeld girl. Palmquist wrote "The Music Goes Round and Round and Comes Out Here."

The couple devotes full time to the circus at the present time and take it to many places throughout the world. The circus will go to Hawaii following the showing at Golf-Mill and is already booked for the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

Included in the miniature parade that moves around the grounds is an ornate band wagon pulled by 24 horses. Covered in gold leaf, its materials cost $500 and required six months to build.

Thirty-five electric motors are needed to operate the mechanical actions of the circus. All the acts performed in the miniature circus are copied from their real counterparts. The clown that represents Emmett Kelly has hair made from the real Kelly's head.

PALMQUIST carves all the circus people, animals, wagons and other necessary equipment. His wife makes the costumes and paints the figures.

The circus is insured by Lloyd's of London for $100,000.

Two Local Residents Attend Workshop Meet

Richard Roto and Bernard W. Johnston of Roto Mercury Sales, Inc., 1410 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, recently attended a Lincoln-Mercury dealership management seminar in Chicago.

LEONARD BANTZ, 7 N. Williams, Mount Prospect, executive Vice-President of the Mobilehome Dealers National Association, was recently appointed Vice President of the College of Commerce and Business Administration's Alumni Association of the University of Illinois for the years 1962 and 1963. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois' College of Commerce and Business Administration.

They were among a group of Lincoln and Mercury dealers enrolled in the course. The seminar was a cooperative, dealer - company program established as an aid for company dealers and operated by professional, full-time instructors.

THE COURSE covered organization, policies and procedures of all departments of a dealership. Emphasis was given to management of people and capital. Each dealer took an active part in developing a plan of action designed to improve the performance of his dealership.

The Chicago seminar was conducted by members of the staff of Ford's Chicago Marketing Institute, one of six such facilities located throughout the country. The Chicago institute opened in 1960, and its curriculum is planned to cope with the most urgent problems that Ford dealers face under current market conditions. (BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

This being Memorial Day week, most of us are well into the swing of outdoor living. And of course, we all have plans for improving the outdoor extension of our homes. If an outdoor fireplace or permanent barbecue is on your list of do-it-yourself building projects this summer, before you start mixing mortar, ask yourself if you really need one. You may devote hours and dollars to its construction and end up with something that takes up yard space but doesn't give full use for value invested

This is the opinion of some top landscape architects. Here are some of the shortcomings of outdoor fireplaces you will want to consider: Too big for the small yard, they're often misplaced — inconvenient to kitchen and eating area, a traffic blocker when placed in the middle of the yard, and a fire hazard when placed under a tree. Used two to three times a week only three months of the year, they are likely to become glorified trash burners — a place to dump leaves, waste paper and other debris.

WHAT ARE alternatives to fireplaces? One suggestion is a circular firepit — a bonfire arranged in a concrete "saucer." More people can enjoy the firepit because they sit in a 360 degree circle around it. When charcoal burns down to embers, a canopy can be pulled over the patio for added warmth. When tired of a firepit, you can fill it with soil and plant flowers.

A fireplace is an eternal monument not easily changed. Good drainage is a No. 1 requirement for a firepit.

Low or adjustable grills placed over a simple charcoal enclosure make a cheap barbecue. Seats may be built around these small barbecues if they don't take up too much room.

One of tte more common barbecues is the portable grill. It can be shuttled wherever convenient and isn't restricted to the backyard. For breakfast it can be used on the deck; for an evening barbecue on the sheltered side of a patio. In winter, the grill part can be used in an indoor fireplace Grills range from fancy to simple. Some are equipped with rotisseries; smoke attachments may be added to others.

How to decide which is for you? First, ask yourself how often you'd use a barbecue? Check the number of times you can eat out in a week, and if your family really enjoys it. How much of the year would it be used for cooking? Does it merit the space it would take year round?

WHEN CHOOSING site for a barbecue, select one convenient to the kitchen. If not, is there an outside storage area for equipment? Avoid dead end traps in placement of the barbecue. The cook needs room to work. People must have places to sit and eat comfortably.

Is wind a problem? Use a portable grill to check windy areas and determine most comfortable eating area. Screen eating area with fencing or screening material for immediate use.

IF YOU MOVE into a house with a fireplace already in the yard, you may want to tear it out and use the brick for a planter or a walk, plant ivy over the structure, or screen the fireplace with plantings and pretend it doesn't exist.

Before undertaking any large backyard fireplace project be sure you really want one; get help from a professional in location and design; combine it with seats, plants and plant material; select a good building material and know in advance you're going to use it enough to merit its installation. (BB

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz — Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

50 Years Ago—May 31, 1912

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Wednesday was too cold for flies and mosquitos. If the weather continues this way all summer, the editor will trade his Panama hat for a fur cap.

George Miller will operate the shoe shining settee at White's barber shop. Ladies sending their shoes to be polished on Saturday morning can have them delivered the same afternoon. White and tanned are treated with great care.

Arlington High School will graduate four students next month, Ralph Allison, George Schneberger, Gertrude Fehlman and Emily Perry.

40 Years Ago—May 26, 1922

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Four deaths have resulted in Arlington Heights from the Diphtheria Epidemic which has developed in this community in one of its worst forms. Local physicians are taking many throat cultures sending them to Chicago thereby insuring that all Diphtheria cases, mild as well as violent be promptly quarantined and the general public protected. The Lake Shore has many cases, and the disease is not confined to Arlington Heights alone, but has extended to neighboring farms and to Mount Prospect.

The officers of the Memorial Day Association are Henry F. Mueller, Pres., Alexander Lips, VP., Henry F. Sieburg, Secy-Treas.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Wilke celebrated their golden wedding May 10. It was strictly a private affair, only their son, Fred, and two daughters, Mrs. C. G. Voights of Clare, Iowa, and the C. F. Jessen family, formerly of State Center, Iowa, who has retired from teaching and is now located at Elmhurst; also 12 grandchildren.

Arlington Heights Roller Mills, L. Lindner, Prop., has received an analysis report, dated May 9, 1922, from Columbus Laboratories, showing that Mr. Lindner's flour is the equal of any standard patent flour. This is very gratifying to Mr. Lindner, especially so, as he takes a lot of pains in grinding and has built up a large flour trade.

PALATINE: New cases of scarlet fever have broken out among some of the farmers, resulting in visits from health milk men who placed some farms under quarantine.

The Dean stables is a busy place these days, employing 23 men. So many respond to the mess call that an assistant cook has been installed.

The new flag pole on the school campus was appropriately dedicated last Friday afternoon with simple but impressive exercises. Participating was Mrs. M. L. Pinney, the first white child born in Palatine Township. Mr. Carl Starck recited "Your Flag and My Flag," the school children recited the American Creed, and the audience went away declaring the exercises the most appropriate held in Palatine for a long time.

"The first white child born in a community" is an honor seldom given to living persons born in these days of the 1920's but Palatine has the first white child born in Deer Grove—Palatine. Mr. and Mrs. Cady, parents of Mrs. Clarinda Pinney, came to Illinois in 1837 and took up a 200 acre claim from the government, settling on the place now occupied by Walter Helms. Clarinda was born the next year.

The nearest neighbor to the Cadys' when they first settled there, were at Lake Zurich, Long Grove, and Wickcliffe (near Dundee). Other early settlers were the Palmer, McClure and Ely families, all New Yorkers. (A portion here giving names of other settlers is obliterated.) There were few Germans here in those early days. The first barn in this part of the country was built by Mr. Cady and received a lot of attention. Mrs. Pinney was born in a log cabin which afterwards was used as the first school house in this part of the country. The first teacher was Mrs. H. C. Matthei's mother, Mrs. Sutherland, who had charge of the school before her marriage. The pupils came from as far away as Lake Zurich. Mrs. Pinney says the brick school house that was torn down last year (Dist. 17) was built 71 years ago.

The Cady Cemetery originated in the early 1840s when Mrs. Pinney's brother died. There was no cemetery in existence and Mr. Cady laid his son to rest upon a little knoll on the north part of his farm. When other families needed burial lots, they came to the same place. The villages of Palatine and Barrington did not exist in those early days and Mrs. Pinney says the first depot of the RR was located at Deer Grove. When people were sick in those early days there was no doctor. Mrs. Cady used herbs for medicine and was always willing to give what she could to the sick of the neighborhood. A circuit rider held Methodist church services in the log school house every third Sunday, but Sunday school was held every week. There were no roads to Chicago and the trip took a week. Sloughs made traveling very slow; horses were few; oxen were used. When Mrs. Pinney was a girl matches were unheard of.

Fire was a thing to be treasured as much as gold. A flint lock gun was used to start the fire and once started it was kept alive as long as possible. Indians would frequently come to the house to borrow fire. Deer Grove got its name correctly. There were many deer there, who would fearlessly come to the cabin to eat with the cattle. When the men began hunting the deer they became timid. If a friend in New York wanted to address a letter to the Cadys, it read "Salt Creek Precinct, Chicago." Three times a week a stage would go to Dundee, leaving the letters for the Deer Grove settlers at the Diekman farm, then called Wickcliffe.

Mrs. Pinney was one of the youngest of a family of ten children. All her brothers and sisters have passed away. Nieces and nephews residing in this vicinity are Mrs. Charles Fosket and Mrs. T. Daniels of Palatine; Mrs. Olcott and Frank Cady of Barrington. She has two children, Edward and Addie. Mrs. Cady at 84 is Palatine's oldest "born" resident.

Top-Flight Judges in Miss Illinois Contest

Leaders in the fields of beauty, fashion and talent have accepted invitations to serve as judges for the selection of Miss Illinois 1962 at the state pageant in Elk Grove Village, June 27 through 30.

Margaret O'Neill, public relations director of the Miss America Pageant Foundation in Atlantic City! William Montcrief, national field director of the foundation; Peg Zwecker, Chicago Daily News beauty and fashion editor; Frank Gale and Morton R. McAnally, state pageant directors of the Miss America preliminary pageants in Wisconsin and Kentucky, respectively, round out the judging panel.

Robert L. Black, Elk Grove Village Jaycee who heads the Illinois Pageant judges and awards committee, made the announcements this week.

BLACK SAID negotiations are now in progress to have one or two show business personalities on hand for the pageant as guest stars and honorary judges.

The 45 contestants seeking the state title and the scholarship awards being offered the winner will meet at a tea with the five judges on Wednesday, June 27, in the Flying Carpet Motor Inn. The meeting will give the judges an opportunity to talk personally with each girl before the actual competition begins that evening, he said.

After that meeting, the judges will be ready to cast their ballots for intellect and personality —two of the qualities on which the entrants will be graded.

THE SAME ballots, on which marks for contestants' appearances in evening gowns, swim suits and talent presentations are also made, will be used throughout the preliminary event.

Using a point system — five for each first place vote, four fo second, three for third, two for fourth, and one for fifth — the girl with the highest point total at the conclusion of the Saturday evening finals will be crowned Miss Illinois 1962.

The winner will be crowned by Miss Jackie Bingert of Winthrop Harbor, Ill., last year's winner.

The new beauty queen, who will represent this state in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City in September, will then be presented with more than $5,000 in education scholarships by Robert G. Beaupre, Elk Grove Jaycee president.

THIS YEAR'S pageant, first to be held in Elk Grove Village, will be a colorful event closely simulating the Atlantic City national finals.

Mal Bellairs, WBBM - CBS Radio personality, will be master of ceremonies. Bill Russell and his orchestra will provide music.

Tickets for the pageant are available by writing 1962 Miss Illinois Pageant Tickets, 1291 Cypress Lane, Elk Grove Village. (A14

N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights. The teens plan to dance each week during the summer and will meet in the homes of members.

Plans are now being made for a benefit dance, proceeds to be given to the leukemia fund, for a date in July. More details will appear here when they are complete.

Dorothy Meyer — CLearbrook 3-2298

This week brings the 1961-62 season of regularly scheduled dancing to an end and this coleolumn will appear only two or three times throughout the summer months, then only to announce special events, if any. All square dancers are therefore urged to make a note now of all dates listed here.

If all square dance clubs with additional special summer events will mail the details to this columnist as soon as possible, the announcements can be coordinated into a single mid-summer column. There will be another column in late July or early August to announce the customary pre-season warm-up dances held by most clubs. Have fun, keep dancing.

Your square dance editor,
Dorothy Meyer

SWINGIN' SQUARES

Retiring Club Caller Don Finfrock will have a final fling at the mike Sunday, June 3, at the Swingin' Squares annual potluck supper dance. Anyone planning to attend who has not yet signed the club's food list is asked to call the Brautigams, FL 9-0933, and determine what type of dish is desired.

Supper will be served promptly at 6 p.m. in the Recreation Park Field House, 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights. Therefore, everyone is asked to bring their food at 5:30. Dancing will be from 7 o'clock until 9.

Bob Lewis and Dale Manson, the club's callers for the 1962-63 season, will attend the potluck supper dance to give a sample of their calling, and introduce their lifetime partners, Zella and Edna. Club officers say, "This will be a good opportunity to meet your new callers. Our club is very proud to have the services of these outstanding callers for the coming season."

THE "FINFROCK Frolic" dance committee reports a wonderful turnout for the Don and Kay Finfrock farewell dance, May 18, and expresses its gratitude to everyone who helped make the event a success. Despite the heat 20 squaresful of Finfrock friends and admirers came to thank the honor couple for their nearly 10 years of service with and for the club. Don and Kay promised to visit the club whenever they have the opportunity.

All club members and friends are urged to set aside Sunday, Aug. 5 for the Swingin' Squares annual picnic. It will be held in the Prairie Club's Deer Grove Park, Hillside Ave., and Ela Road, between Barrington and Palatine. The fun will start at 1 p.m. For further details see this column the week before the picnic or call the Brautigams, FL 9-0933.

Club officers say thanks to their members and many guests who contributed so much to make the past season an enjoyable success; the members return the compliment to their hard-working, imaginative officers.

SQUARES FOR FUN

A special announcement comes from Wood Dale that club members had too much fun during the 1961-62 season to stop dancing. Therefore they'll still meet the second Friday of every month throughout the summer and dance outside if the weatherman will let 'em. Arrangements have been made to dance indoors if he won't cooperate.

The Squares For Fun meets at the Highland School on N. Wood Dale Road, at 8 p.m. for dancing on the comfortable level to the calls of comfortable ol' Frank Walker. They strive for relaxed, fun-dancing and invite everyone to join them during the summer months.

TEEN PROMENADERS

Any teen-agers in the area who would like to join this energetic club is informed that the Teen Promenaders will open their membership June 13. Call Marilyn Smith, CL 3-5743 or Carol Retzke, CL 3-8667, or be at the June 13 8 p.m. meeting in the Harry Ryan home, 1134
